ACTION ON BILL WAS PREVENTED

Meeting of Corporations Committee Blocked by Absence of Members.

BIGELOW HAD A HAND

Opposition to Duquesne Way Ordinance Blamed on the Director and M. G. Leslie.

NO HEARING FOR OBJECTORS

The joint corporations committee of councils was prevented from meeting last night and the program of the Citizens reformers, led by W. H. Stevenson, to amend the Duquesne way elevated railroad ordinance, was blocked by the failure to get a quorum, the strategy that worked wonders in the technical school fight and other municipal legislative battles. The element that voted against the ordinance being returned to the corporations committee in common council Monday night, with the aid of the select council members of the committee, were responsible last night for the lack of a quorum, eight select council committeemen and four Citizens members from the common branch remaining away.

Having prevented the corporations committee from meeting and taking action on the ordinance the next attempt will be to withdraw the ordinance from the committee at the meeting of common council on Monday night and put it through that branch. The vote on last Monday night demonstrated that there were not enough votes to suspend the rules to rush the bill through finally without debate, but there are enough votes to pass the bill on second reading. To do this requires only a majority vote, or 26 of the 51 members of common branch. On the motion to suspend the rules on Monday night the Bigelow and Leslie factions, which united, mustered 30 votes, while 17 votes were cast against the ordinance. The faction led by W. H. Stevenson claims gains since Monday night and declares it will have enough votes next week to prevent the ordinance being withdrawn from the committee.

Three Short of a Quorum.

Only eight of the 21 members of the committee were present last night, or three short of a quorum. J. C. Wasson of the common council is in Europe, leaving 20 members of the committee that could be drawn upon. Of the 12 absentees 10 or 11 are counted upon to support the Duquesne way ordinance and only one or two are expected to vote against the measure in its present shape. The following were the absentees:

Select council—John Benz, John A. Murphy, James W. Platt, J. W. Ruhlandt, John J. Shenkel, John Upperman, John H. Voskamp, George S. Wilson.

Common Council—D. J. Bole, John J. Hughes, Gebhardt Sahner, Joseph Zeuger.

All of the members of the corporations committee who voted against the ordinance Monday night were present last night except Gebhardt Sahner and Jos. Zeuger. Sahner was said to be working and unable to attend and Director Bigelow said Zeuger was out of the city. It was claimed last night that Zeuger would change and support the ordinance at the next meeting of councils.

The members of the committee present last night were W. H. Barker, Chris Beckert, Jr., D. F. Crawford, Evan Jones, Wm. C. Reitz, Jacob Schuck, W. H. Stevenson, George W. McNeil.

C. S. Crawford and John F. Lambie, the two presidents of councils, were present, but being only ex-officio members of

PRESIDENT IS NOW ON RECORD

Letter of Instructions to Attorney General Knox Made Public.

GUILTY MUST SUFFER

Former Congressman Driggs of New York Indicted for Participation in Postal Frauds.

LORENZES RELEASED ON BAIL

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Room 10, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.

President Roosevelt's first official utterance on the postoffice investigation was made public today. It was his letter to Attorney General Knox, suggesting that special counsel be engaged to prosecute the cases against officials of the postoffice department and others who are charged with crookedness. In this letter the president states his policy so plainly that nobody can misconstrue it.

"There can be no greater offense against the government than a breach of trust on the part of a public official or the dishonest management of his office and of course, every effort must be exerted to bring such offenders to punishment by the utmost rigor of the law," he says and thus puts the administration on record as determined to weed out all the crooks and the grafters who have brought discredit upon the public service. His letter to Attorney General Knox follows:

As you know, the charges in connection with the postoffice department are now being investigated by Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow, who has had placed at his disposal by the postmaster general every resource of the department, including the services of Mr. Robb, whom you detailed from the department of justice to the postoffice department immediately after the removal of Mr. Tyner.

No Greater Offense.

As a result of this investigation a number of indictments have already been had, and it is probable that other indictments will hereafter be asked for. There can be no greater offense against the government than a breach of trust on the part of a public official or the dishonest management of his office, and, of course, every effort must be exercised to bring such offenders to punishment by the utmost rigor of the law.

The district attorney's office of the District of Columbia has faithfully and zealously seconded the efforts of the postoffice department in this matter, but the amount of work in the office is such as to make it difficult, without neglecting other important public duties, to devote all the time necessary to the prosecution of these cases.

I suggest, therefore, that if you cannot detail some of your present staff, you appoint special assistants in these postoffice cases, not only to take up the cases in which indictments have been found or hereafter may be found, but to examine into all charges that have been made against officials in the postal service, with a view to the removal and prosecution of all guilty men in the service and the prosecution of guilty men whether in the service or not, where the cases are not barred by the statute of limitation.

Payne Is Annoyed.

Third Assistant Postmaster General Madden's prompt and emphatic denial of the charge of irregularity with reference to the contract awarded to the General Manifold Company of Franklin, Pa., brings to light the fact that there has been much exaggeration in the published reports of charges in connection with the postoffice department. Vague rumors have been taken up and put forth as facts and the merest gossip has been dignified by public notice.

Postmaster General Payne was annoyed that Mr. Madden should have given his letter to the newspapers before it reached

LAW SET ASIDE AND SENTIMENT REIGNS SUPREME

The Delaware Officials Open Jail Doors and Give Alleged Lyncher Corwell His Freedom, to Escape Mad Mob's Vengeance.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Wilmington, Del., June 24.—A mob of 5,000 persons was preparing to storm the city jail tonight when the authorities released Arthur Corwell, who was under arrest charged with leading the crowd which on Tuesday morning last burned at the stake George White, the negro who assaulted and killed Helen Bishop on June 15.

The verdict of the coroner's jury, rendered tonight, made possible this release, for just as soon as it was known that the jury had not fixed upon any person the responsibility for White's death, Attorney General Ward ordered Corwell's release on $5,000 bail. The security was immediately forthcoming and Corwell was freed just as the mob began to grow threatening.

This speedy action undoubtedly averted bloodshed, for the mob was growing more threatening each minute.

It now appears to be very doubtful if any further action will be taken toward punishing anyone for participating in the burning.

Corwell was held on the charge of murder, but to avert further slaughter, riot and disorder, he was released on bail. It seems safe to predict that when he is given a hearing that he will be exonerated. The coroner's jury did not deliberate more than half an hour and then returned this verdict:

"Resolved, That George White came to his death between the hours of 10 p. m. of June 22, 1903, and 4 a. m. of June 23, 1903, by being burned in a field adjoining the road leading from Prices Corner to the Ferris Industrial school by a party or parties unknown to this jury."

While the coroner's jury was in session early tonight the mob began gathering about the city jail. At 7 o'clock, the hour for the jury to reconvene after the fiasco of the afternoon, 2,000 persons were on the street near the jail. Trolley cars were blocked. There were many women and girls in the crowd.

All the reserve police forces and patrolmen from the outlying districts were drawn up about the jail to keep the crowd back to the building line. At any minute from 9 until 10 o'clock, when Corwell was released, had some hothead urged the crowd forward to storm the jail, he would have had a following which would have caused the police no end of trouble and possible sacrifice of lives.

Attorney General Ward saw that the best plan to pacify the mob was to admit Corwell to bail, and fixed at $5,000. Col. Thomas McHughes, a saloonkeeper, immediately went on his bond.

Corwell came to Wilmington on a visit. His attorney, S. D. Townsend, Jr., claims that on the night of the lynching Corwell was attending a carnival being held by the local arele of Eagles.

Peter Smith, the boy who was shot while the mob was in the workhouse on Monday night, died this afternoon as a result of his injuries.

After the crowd at city hall dispersed there were many acts of lawlessness in the negro section of the town. Revolvers were fired, houses occupied by inoffensive negroes bombarded with stones and pedestrians beaten. The police finally quelled the disturbance, and it is reported that no one was seriously hurt.

HUNDREDS IN PURSUIT OF THIEVES

Two Safe Crackers Perpetrate Clever Robbery at Cary, Ill.

EXCITING MAN HUNT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Cary, Ill., June 24.—Burglars dynamited the safe of the Cary bank at an early hour today and secured $3,500 in cash as booty. Citizens are in pursuit of the thieves and hope to capture them before nightfall.

Two men were seen just after the explosion leaving the vicinity of the crime and heading for the Fox river. It is thought the crackamen took a boat and escaped down the stream. Mounted men have gone down the river in an endeavor to head off the fugitives. Other mounted forces have crossed the river and are searching the fields and making dismounted incursions into the woods and underbrush. There are several hundred village residents and farmers in the searching party.

The burglary occurred at 2 a. m., when a terrific explosion awakened several citizens, who dressed hurriedly and rushed into the streets. Within two minutes a crowd had gathered at the bank. An examination showed that the great safe where the money and valuable papers were kept had been shattered and emptied of its contents. The chief of police called on the crowd for volunteers to run down the burglars and the appeal met with instant response. Guards were placed at the railroad stations in Cary and in Barrington, a neighboring town, in order to arrest the desperadoes in case they attempted to take the early morning trains. In addition to the bands of searchers, individual pickets are stationed in trees in all the country about Cary, the object being to discover the men if they are hiding in the woods and attempt to come into the open to make their escape. A steam launch was secured and started in pursuit of the fugitives.

AMERICA TO EUROPE VIA BEHRING TUNNEL

Gigantic Railroad Scheme Being Promoted by Frenchman at Chicago.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, June 24.—A Trans-Siberian and Alaskan railroad connecting by means of a tunnel under the Behring straight is the scheme which the Trans-Alaskan-Siberian Railroad Company is planning.

M. de Lobel, representing the company, and also a delegate of the Geographical society of Paris, arrived in Chicago today after a thorough investigation of conditions in Alaska, and he pronounces the scheme as entirely feasible. According to M. de Lobel the company's engineers have estimated that the construction of the railroad and the tunnel will involve an expenditure of $200,000,000, of which sum $65,000,000 will be expended on the tunnel.

The plans of the company have been submitted to the Russian government and the minister of foreign affairs has approved of them, the matter now being in the hands of the czar, awaiting his grant of the concession. The company was organized in France with President Loubet as one of the main figures.

Several well-known financiers in the United States are also interested in the project of connecting the United States with Europe by rail. M. de Lobel says that the engineers can complete the work in six years. The company will soon be incorporated under the laws of Illinois as it is the plan now to have the main office in Chicago, while the work of construction is going on.

AUTOMOBILES SHUT OUT OF RIVERVIEW

Director McIlvain Made Observations in Chicago That Are Beginning to Bear Fruit.

The observations made by Director E. J. McIlvain, of the Allegheny department of public works, during the few hours he spent in South park, Chicago, last Sunday, are beginning to bear fruit. The first evidence of this is an edict that was issued yesterday to the effect that no automobiles are to be allowed in Riverview park hereafter. This edict was made public yesterday and is certain to meet with the disapproval of automobile owners, as the park roads have been favorite speedways for chauffeurs during the past two years. Autos are not allowed in South park, Chicago, which is the resting place of multitudes on Sundays, and the air of pleasant repose noticed by the director is exactly to his liking and is to be cultivated in Riverview.

In making public his determination to prevent motor vehicle driving in the park Director McIlvain said:

"I have been considering such a step for some time past, and the deplorable accident that occurred last week, on the road above Kilbuck hollow, fully convinced me that it would be better to keep autos out of the park entirely. This is a rule in South park, Chicago, where I spent last Sunday, and I want to see the pleasant faced crowds in Riverview that I witnessed in South park. But there is another reason why automobiles should be prohibited. All the roads in the park are constructed on hill sides that have almost perpendicular slopes into the hollows below. Speeding in Riverview is a danger in itself to automobilists, to say nothing of the danger put in the way of other vehicle drivers and pedestrians. There are plenty of good roads outside the park for automobiles.

TWO KILLED IN WILD RIDE ON RUNAWAY FREIGHT

Dozen Others Were Hurt by Jumping as Train Sped Down a Mountain.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WILLIAMSPORT, PA., June 24.—A runaway train on the Dunlevie log road this morning killed Engineer Bert Georgie and Isaac Peabody, seriously hurt four persons and bruised at least a dozen others. Georgie attempted to haul a train of eight cars up a steep incline, but it broke away and rushed madly down the mountain side.

Fireman Charles Peabody jumped and saved his life, as did a number of Italian laborers. After a wild run of two and one-half miles the train left the track, and Georgie and Ira Peabody, a log scaler, were crushed to death.

At various points along the route of the runaway were found crippled and probably fatally injured Italians, all of whom were taken to Cameron, where they are receiving medical treatment.

CROWN PRINCE IN LOVE.

Cincinnati Milliner Captures the Heart of Susceptible Heir to Korean Throne.

COLOMBUS, O., June 24.—(Special.)—The crown prince of Korea, who is a student at Ohio Wesleyan university in Delaware, is in trouble again. He spent the early part of this week in Cincinnati, and there fell in love with Miss Clara Bull, a pretty milliner. It is said that he became engaged to her, and Miss Bull admits that he made her presents of valuable jewelry.

The prince left Cincinnati last night, and upon his arrival in Columbus declared that he had been shadowed. He told a group of friends in a popular resort that detectives were on his trail, leaving the impression that his deserted inamorata did not want to lose him. He left tonight for Delaware and the detectives have not yet made themselves known.

WILLIAMSPORT, PA., June 24.—(Special.)—C. H. Delvey of Pittsburgh, who was called to this city on account of the illness of his mother, died today from injuries caused by a vicious horse jumping on him.

MORGAN AND LIPTON WELCOMED

Financier Dodges Cameras While Lipton Good Naturedly Poses.

MAGNATE IS SILENT

The Oceanic, which arrived today six hours late, brought Sir Thomas Lipton and J. P. Morgan, and the scenes accompanying their arrival both in the bay and at the dock were rather out of the ordinary. Sir Thomas was welcomed officially by state and nation.

As the Oceanic was towed in there came as escort the Privateer with the Erin and the Corsair, Mr. Morgan's yacht. On the Privateer was a committee representing the city, state and nation, which included Gen. Chaffee, Adjt.-Gen. Corbin and others.

Sir Thomas, once ashore, exhibiting his rabbit's foot, said he felt sure success awaited the Shamrock III. His reception was most flattering. It was not until he sought the retirement of his quarters at the Waldorf that he was alone.

Mr. Morgan as usual had great trouble in dodging cameras. Again as usual he did not talk further than to say that there will be no reorganization of the International Mercantile Marine Company.

While the ship was well down the bay Mr. Morgan announced he would make trouble if he was annoyed by photographers. A little later he saw Gen. Chaffee, who was there to welcome Sir Thomas. Clapping the general on the shoulder, Mr. Morgan greeted him heartily; and then seeing a camera pointed in his direction, dodged behind a post to escape being "shot." Then he retired to his state room and from that fastness sent a steward to notify the "camera fiends" that if they attempted to take any photographs on the deck of the Oceanic he would see that they were forevermore barred from the vessel.

This restriction made by Mr. Morgan was intended merely for his own protection, but the message was delivered in a literal manner, just as Sir Thomas Lipton had posed for the benefit of the artists. Col. Neill, who was with Sir Thomas, replied:

"Mr. Morgan is not the only shareholder."

Later the incident was explained and caused a general and a good natured laugh.

Forming a party with Mr. Morgan on the Oceanic were Bruce Ismay, chairman of the White Star line; Henry Wilding, European manager of the International Mercantile Marine company, and Sir Clinton Dawkins, who is vice president of the same company as well as the European partner of Mr. Morgan.

After landing Mr. Morgan held a conference with C. A. Griscom and G. W. Perkins, after which he boarded the Corsair, going directly to his home at Highland Falls. C. P. GRENEKER.

CARNEGIE LIBRARY FOR BELOIT COLLEGE

BELOIT, WIS., June 24.—(Special.)—After the Beloit college commencement exercises and the awarding of prizes, Horace White, formerly editor of the New York Post, and a graduate of Beloit college, class of 1853, announced that Andrew Carnegie had offered to give Beloit college $50,000 for a library. This gift was obtained largely through the efforts of Mr. White, who is a personal friend of Mr. Carnegie.

RECEIVERSHIP IS DOUBTFUL

Judge Cannot See How It Would Aid Shipbuilding Bondholders.

QUESTION OF CONTROL

It Would Not Be Affected, Says the Court, by Granting the Prayer of the Plaintiffs.

DECISION IS DUE NEXT WEEK

"How would the appointment of a receiver prevent Mr. Schwab from carrying out his plan of getting control of the company?" was the nut Judge Kirkpatrick gave the counsel for petitioners in the case of the United States Shipbuilding Company to crack today at the hearing at Newark. He followed this with these statements:

"The appointment of a receiver would prevent the filing of attachments against the company.

"Suppose the majority of bondholders should decline for a foreclosure. There would have to be a sale and there would have to be somebody with ready cash or some organized effort in order to protect your interests. I am free to say that I do not see how it would benefit your clients to have a receiver named. However, I will not express my opinion until I have considered all the evidence."

He told the counsel he would give them until Friday morning to submit briefs, though he deprecated any further argument. The decision will be handed down at Trenton on Monday or at Newark on Tuesday.

At the beginning of today's hearing, when Mr. Corbin, in behalf of the officers of the company, resumed his argument against the appointment of a receiver Judge Kirkpatrick interrupted him to inquire:

Would Hurt Their Credit.

"Would not the credit of a receiver be as good as that of the company?"

"We think not," was the answer.

Then Mr. Corbin went on to say that the appointment of a receiver would not prevent a foreclosure, but would precipitate such action. Foreclosure would not prove insolvency, he contended. He did not see how a receiver could raise the money to keep the concern going. He could not issue receiver's certificates, as in the case of a railroad enjoying a public franchise. He denied that any fraud or mismanagement had been shown or that there had been any waste of assets and reaffirmed the belief that the court did not have jurisdiction and could not appoint a receiver until the company was clearly insolvent.

Attorney General McCarter made a point of the fact that the company had 10,000 men at work and was actively prosecuting the contracts with the federal government. Mr. McCarter also declared there was nothing to show that the complainant had ever bought the bonds he held, and said there was not a particle of proof that Mr. Niaus had conspired with Mr. Schwab to control the company. There were no suits against the company, no indebtedness, and there had been no interruption of its business. Alleged future inability to meet debts was not insolvency. Only present, actual insolvency would warrant the appointment of a receiver. He said the Sheldon reorganization plan never had the approval of the directors of the company, so far as the minutes showed.

Lindabury Replies.

After recess Richard V. Lindabury spoke in behalf of the first mortgage bondholders. He said there was no doubt that a federal court sitting in equity would afford equitable remedies. "Your backers," he said, pointing to Mr. Cromwell, counsel for the reorganization committee, and Mr. Deming of Alexander & Green, "brought Mr. Brenner down from a sanitarium, but you did not get him to make any affidavit. Mr. Schwab controls this company. He has a majority of the votes of its directing boards in his pocket, and under the reorganization plan his puppets control the seven years' voting trust.

"The present officers cannot run this business. They have confessed that, and the president admits they would not come to his assistance when the bill was brought. It is a monstrous suggestion to leave such parties in control. In a week $275,000 will fall due on the first mortgage bonds and $200,000 on the sinking fund account, and other obligations footing up $1,000,000 will be due before October, and there is not a dollar with which to meet them."

It was then that Judge Kirkpatrick interposed his remarks quoted above just before adjournment.

SONS' DISGRACE LED TO DEATH OF THE FATHER

Aged Man Killed by Train After Learning Son Was Arrested for Theft.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHARLESTON, W. VA., June 24.—Charles A. Curry, assistant postmaster at Marmet, is in jail here on a charge of robbing registered letters, as a result of the work of Inspectors Hooten and Allen. Curry was taken before United States Commissioner Ruffner and held for the federal court jury under bond of $1,000.

The arrest of Curry was followed by an accident which resulted in the death of his father, James Curry. The latter was so affected by the arrest of his son that he failed to notice the approach of a train on the West Virginia & Southern railroad, and while crossing the track was run down and killed, in plain view of his son and the officers having him in charge.

KING GREETED BY SERVIANS

Belgrade Forgets Tragedy in Rejoicing Over Her New Ruler.

DIPLOMATIC BOYCOTT

Only Representatives of Russia and Austria Present to Welcome Him to His Kingdom.

PEASANTS ORDERED TO CHEER

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Belgrade, June 24.—The entry of King Peter I. into Belgrade this morning was distinguished by a diplomatic boycott, yet his reception by the people was everywhere marked by heartiness which approached genuine enthusiasm in which all classes participated.

Workmen were engaged all night long in finishing the erection of Venetian masts and triumphal arches, and some of the latter were only completed as the firing of guns announced King Peter's entry into his realm when the train traversed the bridge connecting Servia with Austria.

The king's arrival has welcomed the people out of the attitude of indifference which they had assumed since the assassination of King Alexander and Queen Draga. From the moment King Peter left the train and the band welcomed him with playing the Servian national hymn, his progress was followed by prolonged cheers and exultant shouts of "Long live Peter the First," wherever he appeared.

The royal train consisted of dingy cars with two sleepers. The parliamentary and military deputations which went to Geneva from Belgrade arrived on the same train.

Wore Servian Uniform.

The king, who wore the uniform of a Servian general and looked grave and almost nervous, descended from his car amid a fanfare of trumpets. He shook hands with Premier Avakumovics, who then delivered a powerful speech of welcome, with calling for cheers for King Peter, to which the crowd responded with the greatest enthusiasm. The king read his answer to the premier's welcome in somewhat low tones, thanking him and promising to do his utmost for the good of the kingdom. He expressed his pleasure at again residing in Servia after 45 years absence from his beloved fatherland, and added that his soul was filled with great love to God and with a consciousness of the duties that awaited him as king. He then thanked the ministers for having fulfilled their duties to the fatherland as the interests of the country demanded. He was happy to have this opportunity of renewing the expression of his deep gratitude for their services.

The ministers, government officials, judges, municipal and military authorities and leading citizens were assembled on the platform of the railroad station, which was profusely decorated. The only foreign representatives who participated in the reception of the king were the Russian minister, M. Tchaykoff, and the Austrian minister, Herr Dumba, with the members of their respective legations.

Greeted by Minister.

A guard of honor, with a band, stabled as King Peter descended from his car and greeted the cabinet ministers. The premier, M. Avakumovics, introduced M. Tchaykoff to the king and the Russian minister presented the Austrian minister. Thus the Austrian minister had no intercourse with the presidential government with which thus far he has had no relations.

A procession was then formed and the king proceeded to the cathedral. The streets were lined with troops and crowded with people who had been pouring into Belgrade from the provinces during the last day or two.

In the procession to the cathedral the king occupied a state coach. He was accompanied by Premier Avakumovics. Along the entire route were deputations from various Servian towns and bodies of students. The occupants of the windows and balconies threw bouquets at the king's carriage. The number of peasants in the streets was remarkable. Many of them came from far distant provinces to attend the festivities and enjoy the free entertainment provided by the government.

The ceremony at the cathedral lasted half an hour. The edifice was crowded. One portion of it was set apart for the military and another was allotted to the civilians. Only a few women were present.

Welcomed by Clergy.

Just previous to the arrival of the king the doors of the high altar were closed and not a single priest was visible. Suddenly from the outside of the cathedral came the sound of cheering, signaling the approach of King Peter. The doors of the high altar were then opened and a solemn procession of gorgeously robed priests and members of the choir emerged, preceded by incense bearers and followed by the venerable metropolitan in brilliant apparel. The procession halted at the main entrance of the cathedral, while the soldiers, drawn up in front of the building, at a word of command greeted the king with loud cheers.

The king, on descending from the coach, mounted the steps and halted at the entrance of the cathedral, while the metropolitan, in the presence of the assembled crowds, addressed a few words of welcome to his majesty. The procession then slowly marched up the steps, the king bowing on either side in response to the profound obeisances of the congregation. It was remarked, however, that the king favored the military men with more bows than the civilians.

The celebration of the mass followed with the brilliant intoning of the Greek ritual, the king standing impassive, maintaining the same grave demeanor which marked his movements throughout.

After the mass the metropolitan made a short address. He said God's guidance was evident in every line. He delivered a short eulogy of [illegible] history [illegible] the Karageorgevitches, and prayed to God to grant King Peter the power to rule wisely and well. A special prayer for the king was then offered, and the splendid choir chanted the old Gregorian "Kyrie Eleison."

The king then approached the metropolitan and kissed his hands as a tribute of the temporal to the spiritual power and the congregation burst into hearty cries of "Long live the king."

The officials thereupon moved down the aisle, opening a way for the king, who slowly marched out of the cathedral, gravely bowing to the people, his sallow face having become sadder and more stern since his entry.

On leaving the cathedral the king's procession moved at a brisk trot to the new palace, which is situated only a few paces from the old palace which was the scene of the assassination, and which is now tenanted and surrounded by guards to prevent the ingress of inquisitive people.

The king's carriage, which was drawn by four horses, swept in through the gates of the palace, the cheers of the crowds showing that they had no thought of the recent tragedy.

Greets the Skupshtina.

King Peter, when he descended, entered the state ballroom where the members of the skupshtina presented him with an address of welcome. The scene was extremely picturesque. The homely garb of the peasants, who had been allowed to enter the room, and the simple attire of the deputies present contrasting with the white and gold decorations of the ballroom and the splendor of the uniforms of the members of the king's staff.

In reply to the address King Peter gravely remarked that he could only repeat what he had said at the railroad station, that he would do his best to rule in accordance with the constitution.

King Peter then advanced to the deputies and shook hands with each of them, but he did not utter a word. When he had finished greeting the deputies the king left the room amid renewed cheers from its occupants and ascended to his own apartments.

Outside the palace a vast crowd had by that time collected and shouted for the King, who, however, did not appear and the crowd gradually melted away and spent the rest of the day in the streets through which the procession had passed, inspecting the decorations and amusing themselves in various manners. The whole route was lined with Venetian masts connected by wreaths of oak leaves.

Women Cheered Also.

Women heartily participated in the king's reception, waving their handkerchiefs and vieing with the men in their shouts of welcome to the king as well as in the cheers for the passing military officers. Many cries of "Long live the army" were heard.

One of the most striking impressions of the whole day's proceedings was the evident relief caused by the arrival of the king. There was an entire absence of disturbance and, apparently the only thought given to the tragedy which changed the dynasty was by King Peter, who, when passing the old palace, momentarily ceased his salutations to the cheering crowds to gaze on the scene of the murder of his predecessor.

The whole town was given over to rejoicing. The peasants held their national dances and everybody was in holiday garb. The hotels were full of arrivals from the provinces from Semlin, Hungary, and from other nearby points in that country. The weather was dull and cold, but no rain fell.

The royal flag was hoisted over the new palace on the entry of the king into that building and the guards on duty at the old palace marched over and went on duty at the new palace. All the late King Alexander's domestics have been installed in similar capacities in King Peter's household.

Affair Cleverly Managed.

After lunch the king held a conference with the ministers and discussed the situation. There is no lack of people, conversant with the inner life of the Servian capital who declare that the apparently universal enthusiasm was a cleverly "stage managed" demonstration and that many expressions of regret were uttered privately and that but for the mounted officers who circulated among the crowds commanding the people to cheer for King Peter, much of the outward signs of rejoicing would have been absent.

An immense torchlight procession was the feature of tonight's illumination of the city. When the procession reached the konak, the king's appearance on the balcony with the ministers, was greeted with a tremendous outburst of cheering from a dense mass of people gathered in front of the place. His majesty then read a speech in which he said that in accordance with the traditions of the Karageorgevics and helped by the experience he had gathered during the 45 years he had spent abroad he would try to give the people the government they required.

After patriotic songs had been rendered by choral societies the king retired and the crowd dispersed.

Insult to Roumania.

VIENNA, June 24.—Advices from Bucharest say the king of Roumania has received an insolent telegram signed by several officers of the Sixth Servian infantry, of which regiment he recently resigned the honorary colonelcy. The officers declare in offensive language that King Charles is not competent to judge their actions. They say that he himself ascended the throne of Roumania after a military breach of faith, and add that they forego with pleasure the distinction of their regiment bearing the Roumanian king's name.

BUCHAREST, ROUMANIA, June 24.—Leading citizens and university students here are making arrangements for a mass meeting, to be held June 28, for the purpose of condemning the Servian massacre.

Jackson Leaves Belgrade.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—It is learned at the state department that United States Minister Jackson has left Belgrade on his return to Athens, to which capital he is also accredited, via Constantinople. He has not presented his credentials to King Peter—in fact they have not yet been prepared at the state department—and his course will be in line with that adopted by the diplomatic representatives of Great Britain, Germany, France and the other countries which have, up to date, refused to recognize the new Servian government.

MORRIS MEAD RETIRES.

Former Superintendent of the Bureau of Electricity Will Get $600 a Year.

Morris Mead, formerly superintendent of the bureau of electricity, was retired on half pay by a resolution adopted at a meeting of the firemen's disability board yesterday. He has lately been employed as chief operator at $1,200 a year and will hereafter draw $600 from the reserve fund without work.

Henry Hemenhouse, an inspector in the same bureau; Joseph J. McDonald, engineer of engine company No. 17, and Peter Wittnson, stoker of No. 15, were also retired on half pay. Mead's pension will date from May 5, Hemenhouse's from May 2 and the two firemen from July 1. The board also allowed the claim of George Henk of engine company No. 12 for $50, who was injured temporarily while on duty.

The balance in the fund was reported to be $65,805.02.

MOB PURSUED NEGRO; WANTED TO LYNCH HIM

Crowd Did Not Know Why the Police Wanted the Fugitive, but Joined in Chase—Hill District Excited.

After a race of a dozen squares and chased by a crowd of 600 men and boys, Charles Mainer of No. 36 Colwell street, a negro, was captured in Shingiss street last night by Officers James Goss, Thomas McCarroll and Charles Schoebein, and taken to the Central police station, where he has been wanted for many months. The mob tried to catch Mainer and lynch him, although they had no idea why the police wanted him. They stoned him and excited that section of the city by crying "Lynch the nigger." Even after Mainer was arrested and being taken to the station house the mob was so excited that they tried to get him from the officers.

Mainer, the police say, belonged to a gang of negro highway robbers, that operated from this city to Connellsville. His companions, "Klondyke" and "Black Boy," are now in the workhouse for robbery.

Mainer has always evaded the officers. Officer Gross was in plain clothes last night and saw Mainer standing in front of No. 36 Colwell street, where he has been rooming. Mainer started to walk away and Gross followed him. The negro joined two others and walked to Fifth avenue. Gross followed them and when he met Officers McCarroll and Schoebein he told them to try to get Mainer.

Mainer saw he was being followed and started to run, with the officers after him. The crowd took up the chase, pursuing the negro down Fifth avenue to Washington street. The negro turned up to Wylie avenue, then down that thoroughfare across Fifth avenue to Old avenue and into a yard in Shingiss street. Here he hid behind some barrels of rubbish, where he was surrounded and arrested.

After Mainer was arrested the crowd tried to take him from the police, but were repulsed. The prisoner was taken to Central station and locked up as a suspicious person. He had a 22 caliber revolver and some letters. Mainer had just come from Philadelphia. The letters were written by Tillie Jefferson of No. 2 Sachem alley, telling of the conviction of his former companions and warning him that it was unsafe for him to return to Pittsburgh. Mainer is suspected of being one of the men who held up and robbed the crew of the ferryboart near Elizabeth a short time ago.

ACTION ON BILL PREVENTED

the committee, could not be counted to make a quorum.

The citizens leading the opposition to the ordinance last night charged Director E. M. Bigelow, M. G. Leslie and the absent select council members with conspiring to prevent a quorum.

Director Bigelow was the first one at the city hall. M. G. Leslie arrived a few minutes afterward and the two leaders immediately had a confidential chat. Robert Pitcairn of the Pensylvania company, with his attorney, Thomas Patterson, came soon afterward and Mr. Pitcairn consulted Director Bigelow. The representatives of the several organizations opposing the Duquesne way grant arrived early with their attorneys and waited until nearly 9:30 o'clock, when Chairman George W. McNeil announced that there was no prospect of getting a quorum.

Chairman McNeil consulted Messrs. Stevenson and Reitz and it was agreed that in view of the apparent intention of the other side to prevent a quorum, it would be useless to call another meeting for this week.

They stated that the whole matter would be fought out on the floor of common council next Monday night. On second reading amendments can be offered and the objection raised can be debated then.

Shuts Off a Hearing.

The failure of the committee to meet last night shuts off any objections that may be raised by outside parties who are opposed to the ordinance, including the property owners in Duquesne way, the river men, the Civic league, and patriotic organizations that are protecting the historic block house. None of these people can be heard on the floor of councils if one member objects, but in committee every one could have had a hearing.

The following persons were present last night to oppose the Duquesne way ordinance: J. Boyd Duff, attorney for the Twentieth Century club; Sterling Childs, and S. S. Mchard, attorneys for the Daughters of the American Revolution; A. Leo Weil, attorney for the Voters' Civil league; Miss Sophia Keenan, Miss Kate Cassatt McKnight and Mrs. Sullivan Johnston of the permanent civic committee; Miss Buelah Kennard of the Twentieth Century club, Mrs Joseph W. Marsh and Miss Julia Morgan Harding of the D. A. R.

H. B. Naylor was present to look after the interests of Henry Phipps, who is building an office building at Duquesne way and Sixth street. Mr. Phipps wants an amendment to prevent the engines on the elevated using soft coal.

Hays and Verner Confer.

Mayor William B. Hays and Murry A. Verner held a conference yesterday afternoon at the City hall and an agreement was reached upon a couple of amendments which were given to C. S. Crawford, president of common council to offer last night at the committee meeting.

Mayor Hays was called into a conference with Thomas S. Bigelow later in the afternoon, and it was reported that Mr. Bigelow had agreed that the amendments of Mayor Hays and Mr. Verner would be accepted. These provide for consequential damages to be paid by the railroad company and another strikes out the clause providing for the regrading of Penn avenue, between Fourth and Water streets; also a provision naming a time for the removal of the Liberty avenue tracks.

The Pennsylvania officials are not willing to offer any compensation and no amendments of this character will be offered except by the Stevenson faction, which will demand a yearly rental of $50,000.

Bigelow Bowed to Women.

Last night while the club women waited in common council chamber Director Bigelow apeared at the doorway. Mr. Bigelow made a profound bow, and inquired:

"How do you do, ladies; what are you all doing here?"

The answer came from Miss McKnight. With equal grace and tone she answered:

"We are here to get a park down at the Point. Don't you remember you told us about it last winter?"

Mr. Bigelow's response was another gallant bow that was so extended that he found himself out in the corridor.

The directors of the East End board of trade last night decided to call a meeting of the board tomorrow night to which the councilmen of the Nineteenth, Twentieth and Twenty-first wards will be invited, and then subjected to an inquiry about the Duquesne way and Station street Pennsylvania railroad ordinances.

The board is anxious to learn just what is to be received in return for the grants, especially that of Station street, which entails a vacation of a considerable portion of the street.

PAYS DEAR PENALTY.

Loss of Eyesight for One Follows Death of Another.

Penrose Warrington, the proprietor of "Colonial Bitters," will be stone blind the rest of his life, it is stated, as the result of his taking an overdose of that preparation. Both Warrington and Edward Watson were taken violently ill last Saturday from the results of too much of this medicine and Watson died Saturday. Warrington will not lose his life but his eyes are the penalty he will pay.

The preparation was put up by Warrington in Turtle Creek and peddled by him. The coroner said it was mostly wood alcohol and ether.

PRESIDENT ON RECORD

him, and he is of the opinion that there was scarcely ground for such emphatic terms as Mr. Madden used. But Mr. Payne is inquiring as to whether any official of the department is responsible for the report concerning Madden. Today he had First Assistant Wynne and Fourth Assistant Bristow in consultation, and both denied that they had given any such report to the newspapers.

It has been learned that the sundry civil bill passed by congress and approved on July 2, 1902, contained a provision authorizing the public printer to procure patented manifolding devices and furnish them to the departments upon proper requisitions.

No Company Mentioned.

The name of the General Manifold Company was not mentioned, but this provision was put in the bill to enable the government to get the registered letter receipt books from that company. The company does not sell the paper alone, but will only sell it made up into books or printed blanks in the form that the buyer wishes to use it. Books of this kind that are used by the departments are made in the government printing office, and it was to enable the public printer to buy them made up that this provision was put in the bill.

H. H. Rand, the confidential clerk of Postmaster General Payne, stated today that he had no intention of resigning. Charges have been filed against him and it has been reported that he would give up his position.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Former Congressman Driggs was indicted by the federal grand jury in Brooklyn today. He appeared before Judge Thomas and gave bail. The indictments grew out of the investigation into postoffice affairs made by the grand jury.

Four indictments were found, all practically alike. Each charges that Driggs, between July 20 and 24, 1900, unlawfully agreed to receive and did receive a $500 check from the Brandt-Dent Company for procuring a contract from the United States government for making and delivering 250 automatic cashiers for the postoffice department.

Pleads Not Guilty.

To the first two indictments Mr. Driggs pleaded not guilty, reserving the right to later plead to the others, which contain 16 counts each, after his lawyer had read them.

Mr. Driggs refused absolutely to comment on his indictment. He has previously admitted, however, receiving a salary of $12,500 from the Brandt-Dent Company for introducing its machines, but claimed that the work he did for the company was done before he was sworn in as congressman, not after his election, and declaring that he had done nothing to which the government could object.

The indictments were found under sections 171 and 172 of the revised statutes of the United States, which provide for the punishment of any person "receiving emolument while in the employ of the government."

Mr. Driggs was before the grand jury today preceding the finding of the indictment.

TOLEDO, O., June 24.—George E. Lorenz and his wife Martha, who were indicted by the federal grand jury at Washington a few days ago in connection with the scandal in the postoffice department, were arrested at their home in Madison avenue here this morning by Deputy United States Marshal Winders. They were taken before United States Commissioner Brough, where their attorney, John F. Kumler, demanded the right to a preliminary hearing. Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz each gave bond in the sum of $5,000.

Attorney Kumler, for the Lorenz's, contends that he has a right to go into the merits of the case on a preliminary hearing, but this is denied by the government, and it is expected that there will be an interesting fight on this point.

LAKE SUPERIOR CO. HOLDS CELEBRATION

James Gayley and Other Steel Corporation Officials Participate in Festivities.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ISHPEMING, MICH., June 24.—The semi-centennial celebration of the Lake Superior Iron Company was held today under the auspices of the steel corporation. Athletic contests were a feature and including Cornish wrestling, log burling and a miners' drilling contest. The log burling contest is the first ever held in this peninsula. Twenty-five of the best wrestlers in the upper peninsula entered the contest for the drilling prize, and about 25 lumber jacks in the log burling contest.

Many officials of the United States Steel corporation were present. James A. Host of Cleveland and James Gayley, first vice president of the steel corporation, made addresses. The Hon. Peter White, the pioneer of the upper peninsula, delivered an address on the early mining days.

At noon a barbecue was held. Preparations had been made to feed 15,000 people. Caterers from Alabama had charge of the feast. A large invitation ball was held in the evening in a dancing pavilion. About 500 couples were in attendance. The celebration cost in the neighborhood of $20,000.

Held Up on Penn Avenue.

William A. Lewis of New York, a traveling salesman for the Empire Fuller Company, was held up and robbed last night at Twenty-eighth street and Penn avenue by two negroes, who in addition to taking his jewelry and money, assaulted him. The assault was seen by several women who gave the alarm, but the negroes got away. Lewis said he was walking in Penn avenue, when the men sprang out of the darkness and struck him on the head, knocking him down. They rifled his pockets and left him lying on the pavement.

ADMIRAL COTTON VISITS WILHELM

German Emperor's Arrival at Kiel Greeted by Terrific Cannonade.

HIS MAJESTY VERY CORDIAL

Recalls Battle of Monitor and Merrimac at Hampton Roads in Conversation With American Commander—Unprecedent Honor Paid Stars and Stripes.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

KIEL, PRUSSIA, June 24.—Emperor William arrived here at 6 o'clock this evening on board the Hohenzollern. When the imperial yacht was sighted this evening steaming into Kiel harbor she had the stars and stripes flying from the aftermast, and as she sailed by Rear Admiral Cotton's flagship, the Kearsarge, the imperial colors floating at the stern were dipped three times. This courtesy being without precedent in the German navy caused Rear Admiral Cotton at audience he had later with the emperor to thank his majesty in the name of the president of the United States for the honor shown to the American navy.

The emperor's entrance into the harbor was the occasion for a tremendous cannonade, each of the 32 warships firing 35 guns, the Americans observing the German regulation for honoring the sovereign. As the smoke from the thousand guns blew aside, the Hohenzollern entered the lane of warships, at the upper end of which were the American vessels. The emperor stood alone on the upper bridge.

Cheered the Emperor.

The crews manning the cross trees, turrets and sides of the American ships gave his majesty three cheers as the yacht passed, which he acknowledged by saluting continuously as the imperial colors were flown from the aftermast of each American warship. Aboard the Kearsarge was a party of Americans, including Ambassador Tower, R. R. Ritt, secretary of the Berlin embassy; Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt and Mrs. Potts, wife of the United States naval attache.

Earlier in the day Rear Admiral Cotton had received a telegram from the emperor saying his majesty would be pleased to receive him and the other American commanders as soon as possible after his arrival. Consequently the Rear Admiral assembled the captains on his flagship and just as the Hohenzollern was attached to her mooring buoy Rear Admiral Cotton's barge reached the yacht's gangway. Capt. Usedom met Rear Admiral Cotton, Capts. Walker, Cornwall and McCrea, Lieut. Hussey of the admiral's staff and Naval Attache Potts at the head of the gangway and presented them to Emperor William, who was standing two or three steps away, with his suite grouped behind him. His majesty shook hands and conversed for a minute with each of the American officers, saying how glad he was to see them in German waters. Turning to Rear Admiral Cotton, the emperor said:

Recalls Famous Engagement.

"You were in the Monitor at Hampton Roads, were you not?"

"Not in the Monitor, sir," replied the admiral, "but in another ship which stuck in a sand bank."

His majesty alluded to other incidents in Admiral Cotton's career and said he wished to visit the Kearsarge and would be pleased to take lunch aboard her. Rear Admiral Cotton and his captains then retired.

The emperor's arrival was an hour later than expected. It was now 7 o'clock and his majesty, therefore, did not visit the Kearsarge tonight.

Leave was given to 350 men from the American crews to go on shore tonight. They were taken in charge individually and in groups by the German sailors, who treated them in the most hospitable manner.

HANGED IN A HOSPITAL.

August F. Hofmeister Became Despondent and Hanged Himself.

August F. Hofmeister, 37 years old, a bookkeeper, committed suicide by hanging himself to the foot of his bed yesterday morning in the St. Francis hospital. The man had been suffering from nervous depression and became despondent. He tied a towel about his neck, fastened it to the bedpost and strangled himself to death. He was found by the nurse of the ward about a half hour afterward.

Hofmeister formerly lived at No. 1717 Larkins alley, South Side. Last December he was in poor health and decided to take a course of treatment in the St. Francis hospital. For a time he improved but later became worse and he became despondent. Hofmeister had been employed by Bentz Bros., lumber dealers, for 20 years. He had risen to be their confidential bookkeeper.

Benjamin Johnson, a negro 33 years old, was drowned in the Monongahela river early yesterday morning at the foot of South Nineteenth street. It is supposed that he fell into the water during a fit, having been subject to fainting spells since a recent attack of cyphoid fever. Johnson was a small coal dealer and had his stable near the river bank at Nineteenth street.

Joseph Girvin, 5 years old, of No. 1329 Sarah street, South Side, died at his home yesterday morning from poisoning of some kind taken three weeks ago. It is believed the boy took some of the balls which had been colored with a poisonous matter. Coroner McGeary ordered a post-mortem examination.

ROAD BUILDER NAMED.

Joseph W. Hunter of Jenkintown Appointed Highway Commissioner by Governor.

HARRISBURG, June 24.—(Special.)—Joseph W. Hunter of Jenkintown, who has been engaged in the construction of roads for almost 20 years, was today appointed highway commissioner by Governor Pennypacker. Mr. Hunter had a long conference with the governor and agreed to accept the place and to begin immediately the enforcement of the new road law.

The governor's delay in making the appointment was due to his inability to secure a competent person to take the place at this salary, which the governor will probably ask the next legislature to increase to $5,000.

Mr. Hunter's first work was as an engineer for Samuel Smedley, chief engineer of Philadelphia, since which time he has been employed in superintending the building of roads in Montgomery county. The commissioner may appoint, subject to the approval of the governor, one assistant, who shall be a competent engineer, experienced in road building, at a salary of $2,000. He may also appoint a chief clerk at $1,200, and a stenographer at $1,000.

CONFESSED TO A MURDER, BUT NO ONE BELIEVES HIM

Chief of Police James McKeag.

Alexander Ferguson.

Alexander ("Sandy") Ferguson, who on February 8 last confessed himself the murderer of Chief of Police James McKeag of Turtle Creek, was yesterday released from the Allegheny county jail on his own bond for $1,000. He had been indicted by the grand jury for murder, but according to District Attorney John C. Haymaker it is improbable that the case will ever come to trial. The county officers have proved to their complete satisfaction that the story that Ferguson told was absolutely false. They established that he was at Lorain, O., when the death of McKeag occurred, and other points in the story as told by Ferguson were also proved to be false.

"I do not know what Ferguson meant by telling such a tale," said Mr. Haymaker yesterday. "There is no other evidence of his insanity. Perhaps it is a desire for notoriety. I had a talk with him on the subject. He now denies the truth of the whole tale as it is related to him, and says that he has no recollection of ever telling it.

"We found that Ferguson had worked at the Westinghouse airbrake works at Wilmerding for several years prior to 1901, and bore an excellent reputation. About a month before April 10, 1901, when Chief McKeag's body was found, he left Turtle Creek, where he lived, and went to Lorain, O. He was not back in Turtle Creek for some months after the death.

"As he told the tale, he and several others killed McKeag and then carried the chief's body, weighing 200 pounds, for two miles to the bridge when it was found. He named one man as implicated in the crime who was then in the McKeesport lock-up. Others he named could not even be located by the county officers.

"There was no reason for putting the county to further expense in the matter. The whole tale is a fabric of his imagination. For that reason he was released on the formality of a $1,000 bond given by himself.

"There seems to have been a strange lapse of intelligence in his case. That is as close an explanation as can be found now."

TWO BAD FREIGHT WRECKS; ONE ENGINEER KILLED

Considerable Property Was Destroyed and the Pennsylvania Tied Up for Hours.

Two wrecks occurred on the Pennsylvania railroad last night. The first resulted in the death of an engineer, badly damaging an engine and demolishing two cars. The other caused the destruction of seven cars, delaying the Pennsylvania limited and tying up the entire road for about four hours.

The first wreck occurred at Shafton, about 35 miles east of Pittsburgh. A freight was coming west on No. 4 track. A short distance ahead of the train was a shifting engine, hauling half a dozen cars. The last car on the shifter left the track, and before Engineer Carl on the freight train discovered the accident his train crashed into it. The engine was turned partly over and the engineer was thrown through the window alighting on his head. He died in a few minutes after the accident. He lived at Altoona, where the body was taken.

The second wreck happened at 8:32 p. m., two minutes after the Southwest limited passed Brinton, which is a short distance east of the junction with the Port Perry branch. A "drag out" train was taking a string of cars to Walls. An engine was in front and one in back. The train was stopped to get more cars out of a switch. While it was getting the cars the rear engine started and ran into the part of the train in charge of the front engine. Seven of the cars were piled on top of each other and spread over all the five tracks.

GRADUATION OF MUTES.

Interesting Exercises Were Held Yesterday at the Deaf and Dumb Institute.

The closing exercises of the Western Pennsylvania Institution for the Deaf and Dumb were held yesterday in the auditorium of the school in Wilkinsburg. This is the first graduation since the school has been in its new home. The names of the graduates are James N. Friend, George W. Bloedel, Thomas Sarver, Anna Lhota, Edna Glant and William T. Lamb.

HAD TO BE EJECTED.

The Defeated Candidate Made Things Interesting at a Convention.

LISBON, O., June 24.—(Special.)—The Columbiana county Democratic convention held today culminated in a sensational scene this afternoon. J. C. Walsh of East Liverpool, a defeated aspirant for the nomination for state representative, got the floor and attempted to asperse the integrity of the convention. He was ruled out of order, not being an accredited delegate.

He continued to disturb the convention until several delegates, after a lively scrimmage, which threatened to involve the whole assemblage, elected him from the court room in which the convention was held.

Sheriff C. F. Leonard was nominated for a second term, O. J. Astry of Salem and E. P. Spiegel of Hanover are candidates for the legislature.

RAISED PRICE OF BEER.

Liquor Dealers Will Sell Bottles at Increase of 10 Cents a Dozen Pints.

At a meeting of the Wholesale Liquor Dealers' Protective association of Allegheny county, held last night at Davis hall, No. 2744 Penn avenue, the price of bottled beer was raised from 50 cents a dozen pints to 60 cents a dozen pints, and two-dozen bottle cases from $4 to $4.10. A resolution was passed prohibiting the bucksterring of keg beer by commission agents.

The association was formed on April 20, 1903, with the following officers: President, A. A. Dinan; vice president, M. Leitzeiter; secretary, Joseph A. Schaf, and treasurer, John Kerns, all of whom were present at last night's meeting.

SEVERAL ACCIDENTS IN TURTLE CREEK VALLEY

One Man Is Expected to Die. Electricity Responsible for One of the Accidents.

The Turtle Creek valley was the scene of a number of accidents yesterday, one death is expected to result, and possibly a second.

Thomas James, aged 53 years, a well-known contractor, became ill at his home yesterday morning and went to a window. Dizziness overcame him and he fell to the ground, a distance of 35 feet. He was hurt about the head and internally, and it is believed that he cannot live.

Harry Goho, Cyrus Goho and Philip Ammon, a yard crew employed by the Pennsylvania railroad at the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company's works in East Pittsburgh, came in contact with the experimental track at that place used to test electric motors. A broken wire had charged the tracks. About 1,500 volts were sent through them. Harry Goho is in bad shape, but will likely live. The other were thrown to the ground, but are not so badly hurt as Goho.

A fall of slate in No. 5 mine of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal Company broke the left leg of Mike Sisco and hurt the back of Dino Civao, Italian miners, employed there.

George Call, aged 18 years, a slater living in Shaw avenue, Turtle Creek, fell from the roof of a house in Penn avenue, Turtle Creek, where he was working. His left arm was broken and he was hurt internally.

Paul Ritter, employed at the Westinghouse airbrake works at Wilmerding, fell from the running board of a street car in that town and was hurt about the head and shoulders.

PENNSYLVANIA GIRL IS BROKEN HEARTED

Faithless Lover Goes on Wedding Tour While She Suffers in St. Louis Hospital.

ST. LOUIS, June 24.—Blanche Williams, the unfortunate girl suffering from amnesia at the City hospital is believed to be Blanche Dillon of Vintondale, Pa. John Ryan, an express messenger, believes she is. He identified her at the hospital Tuesday from a photograph.

"Blanche Dillon was engaged to my cousin Jack McKenna," said Ryan, "and he jilted her. He came here Monday and was married to Miss Mamie Casey of 3021 [illegible] this morning. I have seen [illegible] photograph often and when I saw [illegible] of the mysterious girl I recognized her.

Ryan was [illegible] the girl's beside. "That's Miss Dillon," he said at once, "that's the original [illegible] the picture."

Miss Dillon or [illegible]ams passed her hand over her eyes [illegible] dazed way and said pitifully:

"Oh, I don't know [illegible] can't remember; I can't think."

She brightened [illegible] a bit afterward said: "I wish I could find out, if my home is in Vintondale, I want to go back there. I only [illegible] a night on the train; that's all I know."

It would require about 24 hours to come from Vintondale. A reporter found McKenna at the Union station with his bride [illegible] a train for New York.

"I was engaged to Blanche Dillon at Vintondale. She lived with her sister, a Mrs. William Hayes, there and her brother lived at Ulahville, a few miles away. No, we won't go to the hospital to see her. If it is Blanche I don't want to see her. Yes, she loved me very much and may have followed me here."

McKenna was a bartender at the Vintondale hotel and Miss Dillon lived across the street.

SLAVERY FORBIDDEN.

Three Georgia Farmers Heavily Fined for Keeping Negro in Servitude.

MACON, GA., June 24.—In the United States court today Judge Emory Speer imposed a fine of $1,000 each upon William Shy, Arthur Clawson and Robert Turner, for holding a negro in involuntary servitude. He suspended the fine under conditions.

The young men, who are prominent farmers, caught the negro, who was in debt to them, gave him a whipping and made him go to work for them. Judge Speer said that the problem of the times could not be solved by harsh measures and wanted it distinctly understood that the laws of Georgia were against such treatment.

COURT CRIER VERY ILL.

John W. Patterson, Veteran of Two Wars, Is Near Unto Death.

John W. Patterson, the veteran crier of the Quarter sessions court and a survivor of the Mexican and civil wars, is seriously ill at his home in West Liberty borough, and his advanced age may cause his sickness to take a fatal turn. Last Thursday he was taken with a chill while in court and was taken home. It is with the greatest difficulty that he can be kept warm. He has been court crier for nearly 50 years, and is the oldest employee in point of service in the county.

Mr. Patterson was born February 2, 1827, in Lower St. Clair township and has lived all his life in Allegheny county. In 1895 he moved to West Liberty borough, then a part of Lower St. Clair township, where he has since resided. In 1847 Mr. Patterson was in the service of the government in the war with Mexico, being a member of the Jackson Independent Blues, Company A, First Pennsylvania volunteers. On his return home he resumed his trade of painter until 1861, when he was appointed one of the officers of the court.

In 1858 he was appointed crier of the common pleas, orphans' court and court of quarter sessions. When these courts were separated he was appointed crier of criminal court, which position he has retained ever since. His first appointment was by Judges McClure, Adams and Dagas. In 1864 he was mustered into the army as second lieutenant of the Second Battalion of Infantry and served until the end of the war.

Mr. Patterson was married in 1848 to a Miss Irvine of Pittsburgh and six children were born to the couple. Mrs. Patterson is still alive and also three children, Warren W., a painter, John, a gas inspector for Park Bros. and Wilbur, a blacksmith. Mr. Patterson's father was John Patterson, who was second warden of the Western penitentiary and who served in the war of 1812. Mr. Patterson's grandfather served in the revolutionary war, and was a member of the Virginia rangers. He is the last of the old Pattersen family. Mrs. Evaline Thomas, who died last month, being his sister.

DIVIDENDS COMING.

Steel Corporation Directors Will Meet July 7 to Transact Important Business.

NEW YORK, June 24.—(Special.)—At the meeting of the board of directors of the Steel Corporation to be held on July 7, dividends for the third quarter will be declared on both the common and preferred stock. At the same time the earnings of the corporation for the last quarter will be announced. It is stated that they will equal if not exceed the earnings for the corresponding quarter last year, but will not be large enough to make up the falling off of $1,500,000 in the net earnings for the first quarter of 1903. For the first half of the year the net earnings are expected to exceed $61,000,000, compared with the net earnings of $70,000,000 in the first six months of 1902.

The eighth dividend on the common stock, slightly exceeding 4 per cent, will be paid to 28,970 stockholders on June 30. It is also expected that at this meeting a statement of the results of the bond conversion plan will be announced.

C. P. GRENICKER.

A Traveler's Experience.

A party of gentlemen were gathered in the lobby of one of the leading hotels the other evening, when an argument arose as to what Red Raven Splits really were. One gentleman who was traveling for a big house in Indianapolis, asserted that notwithstanding the extensive advertising, out of five in the party not three could tell what Red Raven Splits were, and to what uses they were put. When the matter was put to a test it was found that the Indianapolis man had won, and in the following language he told his experience with Red Raven Splits:

"I have found, when traveling from place to place, taking my meals at different hours, sometimes on the train and sometimes at the hotel, that my system became deranged, resulting in a sluggish liver, dizziness in the morning, lassitude and loss of appetite. I had seen the advertisements of Red Raven Splits and chanced to ask a druggist friend of mine what they meant. You can imagine my surprise at finding Red Raven Splits were the remedy par excellence for such a disorder as I was suffering from. I tried a bottle before breakfast the next morning and found prompt relief. I learned that they kept it not only at the drug stores, but at any bar in any hotel, and since then in all my travels, when suffering from headaches, indigestion or nausea, I have been promptly relieved by Red Raven Splits."

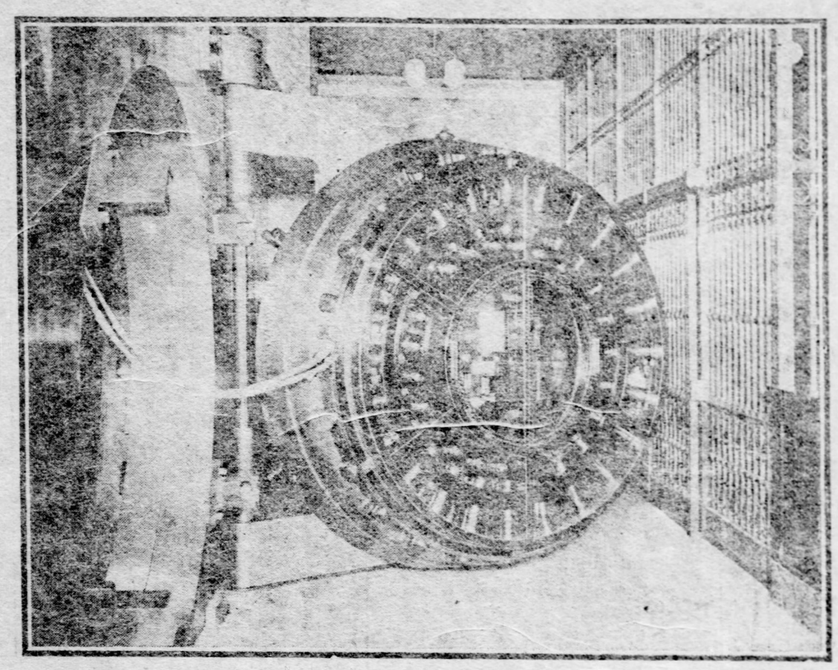
THE GREATEST OF SAFE DEPOSIT VAULTS HAS JUST BEEN FINISHED

Massive Structure in Basement of the Frick Building Made Ready for Use.

IS NEARLY 44 FEET DEEP

Total Weight is 892,000 Pounds and Two Identically Similar Doors Weighing 17 Tons Apiece Are Each Hung on Single Hinge.



The Largest and Heaviest Safe Deposit Vault Door in the World.

The largest, strongest and handsomest armor plate safe deposit vault in the world has just been completed and turned over to service in Pittsburgh. It is the great vault in the basement of the Frick building owned by the Union Safe Deposit Company.

Massive beyond anything ever attempted anywhere before and protected by all the devices that the greatest ingenuity devoted to the protection of valuables from thieves and fire and flood could devise, the great vault looks well the part of "safe deposit."

Here are some of the figures that give an idea of its size:

Length, 43 feet, 11 inches.
Width, 23 feet, six inches.
Height, eight feet.
Weight, 446 tons, or 892,000 pounds.
Number of plates of steel, 22.
Size of front plates, 9 feet, 6 inches, by 12 feet, 6 inches.
Bottom plates, 24 feet, 6 inches by 9 feet, 1¾ inches.
Side plates, 9 feet, 3 inches, by 15 feet and ½ inch.
Top plates, 24 feet by 9 feet and 1¾ inches.
Thickness of front, bottom, side and top plates, 6 inches.

Would Hold 10,000 Boxes.

This vault was built by the Bethlehem Steel Company. It is designed according to the Hollar patents, W. H. Hollar being the inventor of the armor plate safe which has come to be recognized as the greatest safe deposit method in the world.

To begin with this vault has 1,976 boxes ranging in capacity from 203 cubic inches to 23,273 cubic inches and in price of annual rental from $5 to $500. The box capacity of the vault is about 10,000 boxes. The largest boxes in the vault are really special safes with key and combination locks especially designed for trustees having large interests in their care.

The doors of this vault are marvels of their kind. Most vaults have but one large door with a small one to be used in case of an accident occurring which locked the large door shut. This vault is equipped with two tremendous doors, of the same size, one at each end. Each is guarded by four time locks. Each door weighs 17 tons or 34,000 pounds and each is hung on a single hinge so truly that with one hand the door can be swung to and fro.

Every Protecting Device Is Used.

All that time locks, electric protection, thickness of steel plate, hardness of steel and precaution in all other ways could bring to render secure the contents of this vault have been given to it. In it is the system well nigh universal in safe deposit vaults now, requiring the key of the renter of any box as well as the key of the attendant to unlock a box. No attendant can open a box unless the key of the renter is used and no renter can open a box unless the attendant's key is also in place. In case a renter should lose both of the two keys given him, it is simply a matter of chiseling out the lock to open a box.

On each side of the vault are coupon rooms where renters may retire to examine papers in privacy and transact other business. There are also three committee rooms for the use of committees and boards of trustees. The entire surroundings of the vault have been made as artistic as taste and lavish expenditure could render them, special attention in this way has been given to a ladies' room adjoining in which are handsome booths for the accommodations of ladies who wish to examine papers.

Interior Lighting Is Brilliant.

The safe deposit boxes themselves are of dark blue oxidized steel and of the best workmanship. The locks are of a new design.

The floor of the vault in the interior is of rubber tiling which makes slipping impossible. The entire lighting of the vault is of course by electricity and the interior is brilliant with the illumination at all times.

The officers of the Union Safe Deposit Company are: President, William H. Morrison; vice president, William Watson Smith; secretary and treasurer, William A. Carr; manager, William J. Smith.

JURY HELD THREE MEN FOR MURDER

Story of Riot Told at Inquest Into Deaths of Garrett and Keily.

TWO HELD AS WITNESSES

Edward M. Reed, Held on Murder Charge, Attempted to Leave Coroner's Office Before Verdict Was Returned but Was Detained by a Deputy.

Three men held for murder, and two men held as witnesses, is the result of the coronial inquest into the deaths of Charles Kelly and "Sandy" Garrett, the two negroes who were killed in the riot between the baseball players and the crap shooters at High bridge, near West Liberty, on the afternoon of Sunday, May 31.

William Davis is held for the murder of Garrett, William G. Rees for the murder of Kelly and Edward M. Reed is held as an accessory before and after the fact for the murder of Kelly. John Goldman and Albert Pogoski are the witnesses held. Davis, Reese, Goldman and Pogoski have been in jail for some time and Coroner Jesse M. McGeary committed Reed to jail with the other four.

The deaths of the two colored men resulted from an attempt to break up a gambling game near where a game of baseball was being played. The baseball crowd raided the gambling game, stones were thrown, shots fired, and a general fight followed. Kelly and William Davis, both colored, were in charge of the gambling game and were pursued by the crowd. They took refuge in a chicken house on the property of William B. Hays and were there besieged.

Shot Fired From Chicken Coop.

A shot was fired from the place of refuge and "Sandy" Garrett, colored, one of the crowd, fell. Later some one in the crowd fired a shot and killed Kelly. It is alleged that William G. Rees fired that shot. Davis is charged with having fired the shot that caused the death of Garrett. Davis surrendered after Kelly was killed and was almost lynched by the crowd. A rope was placed about his neck and he was being dragged to a tree when cooler heads interfered and he was saved. He was also shot and after leaving the South Side hospital was placed in jail. Rees and Davis are represented by Attorney James Francis Burke.

District Attorney John C. Haymaker and County Detective Robert G. Robinson were at the inquest, as was also Attorney W. J. Brennen, representing Louden Campbell and Nelson Foster, two witnesses who were arrested.

The inquest began with the calling of Edward M. Reed, who lives at No. 52 Tusilh street, Pittsburgh. He stated that he was present at the shooting of both Kelly and Garrett. He was at the home of W. B. Hays, a relative. Reed saw the mob coming toward the house and ran into the house to protect his family.

Saw Davis Shoot Garrett.

Reed identified William Davis as the man who was in the chicken coop with Kelly, and said a man who looked like Davis opened the door of the coop and shot Garrett. He could not say who shot Kelly. He took a good look at Rees and said he did not think he was the man who had the rifle.

Philip Bahr of South Eighteenth street, described the trouble up to the time when Kelly was killed. He said the people in Hays' house would not give up the gun, but after a boy was shot, some one, the witness did not know who, went into the house and came out with the gun. He said that Edward M. Reed, the former witness, furnished cartridges to the man who had the rifle. Bahr said he was in the house and saw Reed hand some cartridges to the person who had the gun. He could not identify anyone in the room as that person.

Dennis Crafty identified Rees as the man who had the gun. David Cawley testified that he saw Kelly shoot and then run into the chicken house. He said that he knew Kelly and Davis and asked them to give up their guns, which they did. Witness stated that he was the man who stayed the crowd from lynching Davis.

Case Given to Jury.

After Dr. Walter G. McCandless described the wounds on the bodies of Garrett and Kelly, the case was given to the jury, who brought in the verdict holding Davis, Rees and Reed on a charge of murder, and Goldman and Pogoski as witnesses.

Attorney Burke will this morning make application for the release of Reed on bail. After the testimony had been closed Reed started to leave the coroner's office but was stopped by a deputy who had orders to see that no one left the room until the verdict was returned. Reed seemed greatly astonished when he was compelled to remain in the room.

The jury empaneled were Eli Brenner, No. 169 Rebecca street, Allegheny; Peter Bolster, No. 1612 Lowrie street, Allegheny; Charles H. Lowe, No. 118 Water street, Pittsburgh; John L. Reno, Bellevernon; Robert Matthews, Sr., No. 165 Forty-third street, Pittsburgh, and John H. Wettach, No. 241 Spring Garden avenue, Allegheny.

THINKS HE HAS THE DEMOCRATS

Bigelow Patching Up a Truce With Col. Guffey and Does Not Expect Trouble.

GOEHRING MAY BE NAMED

Thomas S. Bigelow expects to have his fusion ticket ready for launching within a short time. He is confident that the Democrats will agree to his way of thinking, from present indications, he has patched up a truce with Col. J. M. Guffey, and expects the Democratic leader to be with him in the fall fight.

While the Democrats are publicly declaring that they are going to have the district attorneyship or they will not play, Bigelow gives out the impression that he is not dependent upon them. He explains his position in this way:

"I am the little boy who was swimming in the lake. I can see two or three landings, and have not decided where I will touch. Under the present conditions it is very gratifying to be in this position. There are some things going on, and I expect to be able within a short time to make a statement."

D. M. Miller, assistant United States attorney, was quoted yesterday as expecting Bigelow to favor him for the fusion nomination for district attorney. Bigelow was asked about this, and replied: "I am for the strongest man, and at the present time that appears to be Harry L. Goehring of Allegheny. I am not pledged to any candidate."

The selection of Goehring for district attorney would probably mean the side-tracking of Ex-Mayor Charles W. Geyer for sheriff. It is not likely that Allegheny would be allowed to furnish two of the fusion candidates.

Bigelow denies that he has any fight with Mayor W. B. Hays on the Pennsylvania railroad ordinance. "While we differ sometimes," said he, "we will never fall out. In this particular case, I do not know that we have any differences. We always take a broad view of all questions and one of us make concessions. We have always been very good friends, and I hope that our relations will always be the same."

George S. Fleming is a Democrat, and also insists that the district attorney should go to that party. "It is a powerful office," said he, "and the district attorney can make the city officials step around if he wants to. The Democrats have not been getting what is coming to them, and if they are to furnish the votes to elect a fusion ticket they ought to have the district attorney."

Attorney J. P. Hunter, representing Samuel P. Conner, yesterday in common pleas court No. 2 presented a petition to make the appeal taken in the judgment of ouster against Mr. Conner requiring him to give up the office of delinquent tax collector to act as a supersedeas.

The petition set forth that if the judgment of ouster is made effective at once and the appeal should not act as a supersedeas great injury is liable to result to Conner in the event of the reversal of the judgment of common pleas court No. 2 by the appellate court, in that he is advised, neither he nor the sureties on his several bonds given to the county, would be discharged from liability for the amount of the duplicates issued to him for taxes by such judgment of ouster, and he would have no recourse against R. G. Mattern, who was appointed by the present treasurer.

It is further stated that in the event of such reversal, the collection of such taxes by a person other than Conner, in the interim between the entry of the judgment of ouster and a decree of reversal, great confusion would result in the settlement of accounts with the public officials having charge of such settlements and in the allowance of executions. Also that the suspension of judgment cannot in any way prejudice Mattern because, as Conner says, he is advised that Mattern would assume no responsibility for the taxes until duplicates came into his hands; nor would any inconvenience result to the public.

BANK MERGERS HAD CLOSE CALL

The Legislature of 1901 Barely Passed Act Making Recent Deals Possible.

THE LAW WAS FRAMED HERE

Power of Pennsylvania Corporations to Hold Stock of Other Companies With Full Share-Owner's Rights Was Thus Granted.

Had 11 members of the legislature of 1901 failed to vote in favor of a certain senate bill, or had six votes been cast against it by members who actually voted for the measure, Pittsburgh would have had none of the great consolidations of banks and trust companies which have become its most marked financial feature in the past two years.

Until July 2, 1901, when Governor Stone affixed his official signature to that measure such mergers were not provided for in Pennsylvania, it being the general rule that a corporation had no implied power to purchase the shares of capital stock of another corporation.

Those who have been surprised by the consolidation of banks and trust companies in this city in the past two-year period have in rare cases, it is safe to say, known the real cause for all this arising so quickly. Few outside of those directly interested knew of the law and it is the work of a member of the Allegheny county bar at that. George M. Hosack, of the legal firm of Murphy & Hosack, who was a member of the legislature of 1901, was the author of the bill and the man who gave the attention and work necessary to have it put through the legislature. When the vote was cast there were 113 votes in favor of it. Inasmuch as a majority of the 205 members of the legislature, 103 votes are required to pass a bill, the margin was none too broad.

Railroad's Benefit By the Act.

Not only banks and trust companies, but all other corporations are extended this merging privilege in the law. This has been utilized by railroads in this state since the passage of the act. It is said that in the case of the Pennsylvania railroad, which controls scores of other lines not parallel or competing, for that to against the constitution, now holds in its treasury as the corporation's own possession, the stock of many other railway companies, where as until two years ago this stock was held for the railroad by trustees. This important law is as follows:

An act authorizing corporations organized for profit, to purchase, hold, sell, assign, transfer, mortgage, pledge or otherwise dispose of, the shares of capital stock of, or any bonds, securities or evidences of indebtedness created by any other corporation.

Section 1. Be it enacted, etc., that hereafter any corporation, organized for profit, created by general or special laws, may purchase, hold, sell, assign, transfer, mortgage, pledge or otherwise dispose of, the shares of the capital stock of, or any bonds, securities or evidences of indebtedness created by any other corporation or corporations of this or any other state, and while the owner of said stock may exercise all the rights, powers and privileges of ownership, including the right to vote thereon.

Section 2. All acts or parts of acts, agents or agencies inconsistent herewith, be and the same are hereby repealed. Approved the 2d day of July, A. D. 1901.

WM. JAMES STONE.

When the bill was under consideration in the house objection by Mr. Coray of Luzerne county was made to it on the ground that it would give corporations a right to go into a general brokerage business, to buy and sell stock at pleasure, and that the striking out of the words relating to railroad, canal and telegraph lines connected with the provisions of the constitution. In answer to this Mr. Hosack said:

Hosack's Answer to Objections.

I desire to state, in reply to the gentleman from Luzerne, in reference to the objection he has raised to this bill, as to striking out of all that part of it that relates to "competing railroad, canals and telegraph lines," that it would make no difference what might be or what might not be in the act of assembly, as the constitution is the supreme law of the land and would govern.

I desire to call the attention of the members of the house to the fact that we are under peculiar circumstances to reference to our corporations as compared with corporations of other states. At the present time corporations created under the laws of other states have the power under those laws given to them that are proposed to be given the corporations of this state by this bill, should it become a law, because foreign corporations exercise greater powers in this state than do our own corporations under the present law of this state. The act which it is proposed here to make the law, is now the law in the greater number of states in the United States. For nearly every state in the Union has an act of this kind on its statute books, and Pennsylvania has been too slow in this respect, and I think it is high time we should avail ourselves of this privilege. I think it is an important piece of legislation and should be passed.

Two Ways of Merging.

It is this law, therefore, that has made possible this work of bank consolidation which has brought in one case, the Farmers Deposit Colonial Trust-American Trust merger close to $60,000,000 resources into the control of one company.

These consolidations are made in two ways, either by the merger and consolidation of trust companies which are created and organized under the act of April 29, 1874, such a merger being made under this merger act of 1901, or by the holdings of the stock of national and state banks, and that of other trust companies by one trust company. The latter is the method usually employed, although the former is used in merging institutions whose several of them go together under one roof, and by so doing one or more of them pass out of existence. Where the trust company owns the stock of other banking institutions it maintains its identity and likewise the banking institutions which it owns and controls retain their own identity, although their stock is owned by the trust company, the stockholders in the banking institutions receiving stock of the trust company in lieu of their holdings in the banking institution.

TRIP OF SCHWAB'S GUESTS POSTPONED UNTIL FRIDAY

Schwab's private car "Loretto" to carry his guests, the 14 party members of the Maryland industrial school visit are to be the guests of Mr. Schwab at Atlantic City for 10 days will not leave until Friday. The party intended leaving tomorrow morning, but owing to the impossibility that the car would not arrive in time and the date was changed. BIG INDUCEMENTS TO FLINT WORKERS

Several Towns Are Clamoring to Have a Flint Bottle Plant Located in Their Confines.

The destruction by fire Monday of the glass factory at Summitville, Ind., owned and controlled by the American Flint Glass Workers' association, has brought forth many offers to the association. The citizens of over 20 towns have offered various inducements to have the factory located in their respective vicinities.

An offer received yesterday promises the association six acres of ground on which a factory is already built, with switches laid, and an additional cash bonus of $5,000. The factory is located along the Allegheny Valley railroad. Another offer is five acres of ground, the building of a factory according to the association's specifications and a cash donation of $5,000. Other bonuses are offered by towns in Ohio and the eastern part of the state. The officials will not decide where they will rebuild the plant for at least two more weeks.

The auditing committee of the association started yesterday to audit this year's accounts. The committee consists of M. J. Clark, chairman, of Muncie, Ind.; William Gilluly, of local No. 64, of Philadelphia; M. E. McSwiggan, of No. 8, Steubenville; Henry Leiner, No. 9, Wheeling, and George H. Werner, No. 84, Jeannette. It will require several days to complete the work. The report will be submitted to the convention which meets in Cincinnati July 6. The report will show a larger amount in the treasury than last year.

IGNORANCE THE CAUSE.

Men Arrested for Election Frauds in Baltimore Discharged by Court.

BALTIMORE, June 24.—In the criminal court today Judge Stockbridge heard the cases of Michael A. Manion and Edward M. Deems, election judges charged with neglect of duty, in improperly sealing the ballot boxes at the recent municipal election, and discharged them on the ground that the neglect was not willful but arose from ignorance of the new election law.

The grand jury found indictments against 16 election officials and the two cases decided today were regarded as test cases. It is said the others cases will be dropped.

Thursday, June 25, 1903.

A little interesting history of the law which enables bank and trust company mergers is recalled on another page. There are two sides to almost every question. Years ago the proposition to allow one corporation to own the stocks of another was looked upon as an unmitigated evil. Now no one would want to return to the old system, for the mergers have developed manifold advantages.

President Roosevelt has taken the final step in the matter of the postal frauds and irregularities by calling upon Attorney General Knox to arrange for the prosecution of the guilty and to supply legal assistance in completing the investigation. This practically puts the whole matter in the hands of the department of justice, acting in conjunction with Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow. Mr. Bristow gathers the facts and the representatives of Mr. Knox decide what matters are actionable. That means a thorough cleaning up without fear or favor, and should put an end to the carping criticism that the investigation is not in earnest or will not go as far as the law will carry it.

Plans for the new depot and office building of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad are significant alike of the advancing civic interest in the city and the growing importance of the city as a shipping point. The new structure will be handsome as well as commodious. It meets the demands of good taste on the one hand and the needs of the railroad on the other. Artistically it is an appeal to a cultured community. In dimensions it indicates how much more of the actual work of directing the system and accounting its operations is to be done in Pittsburgh than formerly. The money to be spent upon the building will be little compared with the salaries and wages to be paid out regularly to officers and employes located in this city.

Gov. Pennypacker has found a patriot competent and willing to undertake the direction of the good roads department without waiting for an increase in the salary designated for the commissioner. The gentleman appointed is Mr. Joseph W. Hunter of Jenkintown. Naturally there will be some inquiry, "Who is Mr. Hunter?" because his name has not become familiar by reason of participation in state conventions or other political functions. He is an engineer and practical roadbuilder. He has better knowledge of gradients, curatures and paving, more about stone crushers, scrapers and road machinery generally than he does of caucuses. That is why he has been chosen for road commissioner and will likely be able to put $6,000,000 where it will do the most good.

There is reason to commend the activity of the Homestead street commissioner in removing unreasonable obstructions to the navigation of the borough streets. The commissioner does not propose to interfere with more important traffic, as in the case of the bridge-raising propaganda, but he does want the beer traffic conducted upon better methods. Clearly it is no advantage to the brewers to have their empty kegs standing about in the streets or on the sidewalks. Such obstruction is disadvantageous to teams and pedestrians, and it is the street commissioner's duty, as it appears to be his pleasure, to remove obstructions and put a ban upon their revival. Even if Homestead beer consumption has to be reduced, there must be an end to putting empty kegs in the streets.

There are two sides to the question whether automobiles should be excluded from the public parks, as has been decreed in Allegheny. Of course, the parks are intended for the people, and their principal usefulness as a summer resort is to the people who cannot afford automobiles. But it does not necessarily follow that people who can ride in automobiles should not be allowed to enjoy the park beauties from that point of vantage, always provided they are restricted to speed that does not menace the safety of pedestrians. There are few motorists who would speed their machines to the detriment of women and children. Those few can be controlled by law. Limit the speed of autos in the parks by all means, but do not exclude them altogether.

If American occupation has done nothing else for the benefit of the Philippine islands, it is fully justified by the reduction of the death rate in Manila from 46.80 to 22.17. That result has been achieved despite cholera, bubonic plague, smallpox and the unsanitary influences of a tropical climate, which means much. But in addition to this work of mercy the American government has established an effective school system, sound monetary conditions, a better commerce and made the beginnings of industry that will bring certain prosperity. These things all go to make permanent better conditions for the islands and their people, and if they be the "imperialism" to which Mr. Bryan and his followers object, they are of a quality to appeal to humanity everywhere.

Democratic Principles.

Mr. Bryan, in response to appeals to speak plainly as to what issues the Democratic party should champion, devotes an elaborate article to the subject in the last issue of his paper, but it is not in him to speak plainly. One hears the sound of a glib voice in the fog, but cannot make out exactly what all the talk is about. He declares that the issue of imperialism "transcends all other issues in importance." One might naturally expect to learn what is this issue of imperialism, but there the voice fails us, and the nearest we get to a statement is that the settlement of that issue will determine whether "American principles" are to be applied to the Philippine question or whether "European principles" are to apply. As to what are American principles and what are European principles, and wherein they differ he has nothing to say. He seems incapable of specific statement.

Next in order of importance he places the trust question, and the issue there, as he propounds it, is whether "the interests of the people are safer in the hands of a few trust magnates than under the former system of competitive industry." Legislation, however, does not deal with conundrums, but with enactment, and an issue is not presented until action is proposed. But that is a practical question, and Mr. Bryan shies off at that point. He has nothing to present in the way of positive policy.

Proceeding to the money question, he speaks a little more distinctly. He adheres to free silver, but says that for the present the issue is "between bank paper and government paper." In other words, he would revive the old greenback party as a successor to the free silver party. But having got that far he eludes discussion of details by the characteristic remark that "the money question cannot be eliminated from politics until avarice is eliminated." Here again he takes to rhetorical platitude to avoid definition of an issue.

Upon the tariff question he is unusually frank. He declares that the Democratic party is opposed to protection and "is in favor of a tariff levied for revenue and limited to the necessities of the government. At least the people know what that means; they have had some experience with that policy.

Proceeding to the consideration of Democratic prospects he complains that Democratic papers are inefficient. He says that "most of them have spent more time apologizing for the Democratic position or criticising those who have been loyal to the party than they have in presenting Democratic truth or in challenging Republican error." This is very naughty behavior, but perhaps they have some difficulty in finding what is Democratic truth at present, and Mr. Bryan appears to be either unable or unwilling to help them. He can expatiate but not explain; exhort but not direct. That American principles should control American policy; that the public welfare should guide financial legislation are propositions no one disputes. Differences occur and issues arise on the application of these obvious truths to pending questions, and just there Mr. Bryan abandons the discussion. He appears to be able to prevent the leadership his party needs but he cannot himself supply it.

The Servian Throne.

Accounts from Belgrade, the capital of Servia, indicate that so far as the local demonstration in honor of the arrival of King Peter is concerned there was no lack of enthusiastic reception by the New York clergymen in itself that furnishes food for reflection. Behind that demonstration lies the fact that the religious world of America is keenly alert in its search for a leadership. The state of the church in America, according to the best informed opinion of those who are most interested in its progress and work, is not what its friends desire. With ample members and abundant wealth the church does not now and has not for several years impressed itself upon the current life and thought of the people as its defenders believe it should. More than one astute observer of the trend of religious affairs have expressed the opinion that the church's real need is that of aggressive, vital and vitalizing leadership. The attitude of the New York clergymen toward the Rev. Mr. Campbell bears unconscious testimony to this opinion. In the vivid and glowing accounts of the eagerness of the overflow gathering of preachers who sought to hear Mr. Campbell speak on Monday last there is not a hint as to the gentleman's denominational affiliations, nor is there any attempt to seggregate the audience that heard him in a denominational way. It was the tribute of men who recognize in the English preacher the elements of leadership, of power and of persuasive oratorical gifts.

It took many generations to produce a Savonaroia, but when he came the church was waiting. It was so with Luther, with Wesley, with Whitefield and with Jonathan Edwards. Evidently the church desires, expects and is praying for what it calls an "old-fashioned revival of religion." What it hasn't got, and what it seems eagerly looking for, is leadership of a human kind.

The Vital Issues.

Obviously the plans to have a general discussion and amendment of the Pennsylvania railroad ordinance have gone astray. Members of the corporations committee who were absent last evening are mainly of the faction favoring immediate passage of the ordinance in the form in which it was introduced, and the supposition is they will prevent a meeting of the committee on account of no quorum until the next meeting of councils gives opportunity for other action. The Gazette does not approve evasion of public duty by absence from meetings or otherwise, and believes it would have been better for the committee to hear the parties in interest and then, if possible, put the ordinance in practical shape for passage before the next meeting of councils. We do not mean by this that the committee should have accepted all the radical amendments that have been proposed, but that it should have saved the time of councils by considering them.

As the matter now stands, points in controversy will have to be threshed out on the floor of councils and possibly the job of perfecting the ordinance will be less satisfactorily done. The amendment inserted by Mr. Stevenson in committee, before the first report to councils, appears to the layman to cover the question of damages, but that question should be submitted to the city solicitor for expert opinion. We believe that is the most important point to be looked after. The city must be held free from all cost of any kind. Beyond that its most vital interest is to regain possession of Liberty avenue, which is essential to the relief of the congestion in the downtown district.

Other alterations, heretofore indicated in these columns, may be made with advantage, but they are not vital. Neither do we believe the railroad company would strenuously oppose them. But, above all things, there should be no failure to get the Pennsylvania to take away the Liberty avenue tracks as quickly as possible and at its own expense.

That a woman should take the initiative in driving away burglars, though there were several men around shows what advantages accrue to man through his willingness to submit to the "emancipation of the sex."

THAT STAR.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

"A single star in the heavens or the southern hemisphere, the 'runaway star,' is moving with a velocity of 20? miles a second. This is a greater speed than all the attractions of all the known stars could give it, and the question is, is there a larger universe which is drawing it further from us?"

The above has lately been going the rounds of certain newspapers as a celestial puzzle. The author seems to forget his lessons in celestial dynamics as well as the recorded instances of velocities within the solar system exceeding that mentioned. The comets of 1680, 1843 and 1882 had in perihelia the respective velocities of 244, 350 and 300 miles per second.

Should a body fall freely from an infinite distance under the attraction of the sun, it would attain a final velocity of 391 miles per second, and should the comet whose aphelion distance is 600,000,000,000 of miles fall in like manner, its final rate would be 387 miles per second.

"Few, if any stars, are within a distance of three light years from the solar system. Many of the more remote must be some thousands of years away," says Prof. Young. It may, therefore, be assumed as a fact that our sun is not the cause of the "runaway's" motion; but, as the masses of many stars far exceed that of the sun, and as the constitution of matter and laws of motion are the same there as here, a velocity of 200 miles a second is not to be considered so extraordinary as to justify the assumption of "a larger universe" to account for it. In fact, the more we know of the laws of our physical universe the less will be our need of invoking the assistance of any other to explain its phenomena of whatever kind.

JAMES R. RINEHART.

Waynesburg, Pa., June 23.

DELAWARE'S DISGRACE.

The state of Delaware has been disgraced by a barbarous act which differs in no essential particular from the worst deeds of the kind that have been committed in southern communities. The mobs which came together numbered, it is reported, not fewer than 2,000 men; they easily bore down all resistance to their fury when they stormed the jail, and when they seized their victim they were not content with the opportunity of dispatching him at once. On the contrary, they took pains to inflict upon him a torturesome death, having already prepared themselves for it by bringing cans of oil and torches. They chained the negro to a stake, piled up faggots around him and, like a band of savages, burned him alive.

The scene of this supreme act of horror and lawlessness was only 29 miles from Philadelphia, in a region which is full of churches, schools, newspapers and most of the usual concomitants of what we call civilized life. It is within a short distance of the Pennsylvania border line, and its proximity teaches us that in denouncing the savagery of Texas or South Carolina mobs, it is now about time to turn our attention also to the barbarians who are pretty close to our own doors.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Delaware is a small community and it should be well organized. Its powers for the preservation of the peace, however, have lamentably failed in this instance. The negro criminal was removed from the county jail to the workhouse because of the supposedly superior qualities of the latter as a place of detention. But nothing prevented the access of the mob to the cell where the wretch was confined. The guards within the place fired upon the crowd but did not drive it back.

If the little state does not exhaust its resources in a search for and the punishment of the men who committed this horror near Wilmington it will rest under an acknowledgment that within its borders any hastily organized crowd of excited, irresponsible men is superior to all the regular written laws of the commonwealth. It will have surrendered its authority to the mob.—Washington Star.

\+ + + +

Not because of any misplaced compassion for the negro miscreant whose legal death at the end of a rope a Wilmington mob anticipated and converted into burning at the stake, but because of the irreparable wrong the community has done itself and the great affront it has put upon the law under which all its rights repose, the deed of last night in Delaware must be reprobated everywhere. As it looks backward today over the wild events of the night, Wilmington must realize that it is the loser in the respect of other cities, that the safety of life and property and the honor of its men and women have gained nothing at all, and that the seeds of brutalizing wrong have been sowed broadcast, by a summary deed that was as much a fantasy of degrading horror as it was "a single pulse of just rage."—New York Mail and Express.

Had there been any likelihood of the fiend's escaping punishment, the mob might have had excuse. But there was no such likelihood—with the ordinary qualifications of human prediction, there was no possibility of the creature's escaping the noose. When the stricken father, in a moving public declaration, had professed himself content to wait, it ill became others less vitally interested to take the law into their own hands. The guilty man owed expiation for his crime. But he should have made it through the methods provided by society, and society would have had its revenge rather than brutish anger its senseless satisfaction.

It will be the first reflection of many that the Wilmington horror is such as we should expect to have occurred in the south. The truth, of course, is that human nature is the same the world over, and that Delaware has acted as Alabama or Georgia sometimes act under like circumstances.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

A Well-Deserved Degree.

College honorary degrees are often unfitly bestowed. LL. D.'s are sometimes given to men successful in banking or business or statesmanship, whose academical proficiency, once the sole test of worth for such rewards, is small. But there can be no doubt, says the New York Evening World, that in honoring Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture with a college decoration of this kind the University of Chicago has recognized merit and made the award where it was deserved.

No other cabinet officer can be credited with so gratifying an output of literature as the secretary of agriculture. Merely to enumerate a few of the titles of his last year's publications is to realize to what an extent the department has enriched the nation's literature. "The Radioactivity of Freshly Fallen Snow," "The Draft of Farm Wagons," "The Disease of White Ash Caused by Polyporus Frasinophilus," "Methods for the Investigating of Canceling Inks" and "The North American Species of Leptocochlas,"—these and other publications sufficiently show the secretary's versatility. A further investigation will prove that there is hardly any topic of agricultural literature which he has left untouched and none that he touched which he did not adorn. On such a contributor to popular knowledge an entire battery, a full repertoire of commencement degrees might be bestowed with becoming fitness.

GO TO THE ANT.

Go to the ant, thou sluggard,
And learn what it is to work;
She hustles all day like a crazy jay—
She hasn't got time to shirk.
She runs a thousand good feet and miles
To get twelve inches away,
In search of food to store, yet she
Is wise, philosophers say!

Go to the ant, thou sluggard;
She'll show you a strenuous pace
As she hunts for a fly, that is dead and dry—
And, finding it, loses her place!
She takes an hour to get back home
(To see if it's still there),
Then off she prances to get a fly,
And drag him back to her lair.

Go to the ant, thou sluggard!
For worry gone to waste
She takes the bun,—though it must be fun
To never grow tired of haste!
Go to the ant—or do my way
(A lazy man's plan, that's true),
Just have a picnic in the woods,
And the ant will come to you!

ERASMUS WILSON.

I love anything that's old: old friends, old times, old manners, old books, old wine.
—Goldsmith.

Alonzo of Aragon was wont to say in commendation of age, that age appears to be best in four things—old wood best to burn, old wine to drink, old friends to trust, and old authors to read.
—Bacon.

Is not old wine wholesomest, old pippins toothsomest, old wood burns brightest, old linen washes whitest? Old soldiers, sweetheart, are surest, and old lovers are soundest.
—Webster.

Oft' in the stilly night,
Ere slumber's chain has bound me,
Fond memory brings the light
Of other days around me;
The smiles, the tears,
Of boyhood's years,
The words of love then spoken;
The eyes that shone
Now dimmed and gone,
The cheerful heart's now broken.
—Tom Moore.

* * * * *

Talking of old times does not make one feel old. On the contrary, it revives youthful feeling and really makes one younger, for, you know, real age is not measured by years, but by feelings, so that we are just as old as we think we are, regardless of day and date.

Nor can we quite agree with Father Ryan, the priest poet of the south, whose untimely death robbed the world of a master poet of the minor key. You may recall the poem by which he was best known and through which he will live longest, "The Rosary of Years," in which he sadly sings:

"Some reckon their age by years,
Some measure their life by art,
But some tell their days by the flow of their tears,
And their life by the moans of their heart.
The dirl of earth may show
The length, not the depth, of years,
Few or many may come, few or many may go;
But our time is best measured by tears."

Father Ryan was evidently one of those sad-hearted, tearful sort of good fellows who ever manage to be in the shadow. They see only the bleeding wounds, hear only the moans, seeming never to enjoy the blood-bought blessings, or sing their glories to the world in cheerful measure.

* * * * *

The power of a song is something wonderful at times. This is well illustrated by a story, and a true one, told not long ago:

Two Americans who were crossing the Atlantic met in the cabin on Sunday night to sing hymns. As they sang the last hymn, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," one of them heard an exceedingly rich and beautiful voice behind him. He looked around and although he did not know the face, he thought that he knew the voice. So when the music ceased he turned and asked the man if he had been in the civil war. The man replied that he had been a confederate soldier.

"Were you at such a place at such a night?" asked the first.

"Yes," he replied, "and a curious thing happened that night which this hymn has recalled to my mind. I was posted on sentry duty near the edge of a wood. It was a dark night and very cold, and I was a little frightened because the enemy was supposed to be very near. About midnight, when everything was very still, and I was feeling homesick and miserable and weary, I thought that I would comfort myself by praying and singing a hymn. I remember singing this hymn:

"All my trust on Thee is stayed.
All my help from Thee I bring;
Cover my defenseless head
With the shadow of Thy wing."

"After singing that a strange peace came down upon me, and through the long night I felt no more fear."

"Now," said the other, "listen to my story. I was a union soldier and was in the wood that night with a party of scouts. I saw you standing, although I did not see your face. My men had their rifles focused upon you, waiting the word to fire, but when you sang out:

"Cover my defenseless head
With the shadow of Thy wing,"

I said, 'boys, lower your rifles; we will go home.'"

* * * * *

A king friend over in Washington (it used to be Little Washington), who says she is now living on borrowed time, sends some old songs, copied in schoolgirl hand, which she sang three-score years ago and more.

Do you recollect the sky-blue writing paper, ruled in deeper blue, of which copy-books were made? The sheets were foolscap size, and the paper all rag. There was no wood pulp, shoddy or straw stock in those days, the days of the goose quill pen, home-made ink, and pot-hooks.

Some of you may not know what pot-hooks are, or were. They don't seem to be in vogue in schools nowadays—gone, the same as some other things that are not thought of once, and which it were a real loss to be without.

In those days the schoolmaster "set copies," or wrote them, as we would say now. The first copy for beginners consisted of straight down strokes. The next had a curve, or hook, at the top, and in the next this was reversed. These were called pot-hooks, and the pupil was kept at them until he could make them really nice.

Maybe you don't know what a pot-hook is—the real thing from which the characters in first copy-books took their name. A pot-hook is a piece of iron rod about a foot in length, more or less, bent at each end, like the letter S, one hook to go over the crane, and the other to hold the pot hail.

And now it's dollars to doughnuts you don't know what a crane is, whether it flies or walks, is tied on with a string, or is nailed fast to something.

Ask your folks. Your grand-folks will know, because stoves and ranges have come into general use since they were boys and girls. If they don't know, and you are anxious about it, just drop a line to the Sunday editor of The Gazette and he will have one pictured and written up for you.

If you happen to have Longfellow's great poem, "Hanging of the Crane," handy you can get some pointers from it; or from Warner's "Backlog Studies," in which he says:

"Over the fire swings an iron crane, with a row of pot-hooks of all lengths hanging from it."

But this is all so far, far away from the text that our good friend over in Washington may think we have forgotten her and the old songs she was kind enough to send. But we haven't, and will resume our pleasant relations by introducing one of these songs, which was a strong favorite in its day, being sung everywhere, and in Europe, too. It was entitled "Kitty Clyde." The author's name is not given, but some of you may be able to recall it.

Oh! who has not seen Kitty Clyde?
She lives at the foot of the hill
In a sly little nook
By the babbling brook.
That carries her father's old mill.
Oh! who does not love Kitty Clyde?
That sunny-eyed, rosy-cheeked lass,
With a sweet dimpled chin,
That looks roguish as sin,
With always a smile as you pass.

CHORUS.
Sweet Kitty, dear Kitty,
My own sweet Kitty Clyde.
In a sly little nook
By the babbling brook,
Lives my own sweet Kitty Clyde.

With a basket to put in her fish,
Every morning with line and a hook,
This sweet little lass
Through the tall, heavy grass,
Steals along by the clear running brook.
She throws her line into the stream,
And trips it along the brook side.
Oh! how I wish that I were a fish
To be caught by sweet Kitty Clyde.

How I wish that I were a bee,
I'd not gather honey from flowers,
But would steal a sip
From Kitty's sweet lip
And make my own hive in her bowers.
Or if I were some little bird
I would not build nests in the air;
But keep close by the side, of sweet Kitty Clyde
And sleep in her soft, silken hair.

King Peter's Position.

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 24.—It is no reflection on the strength of the new Tombs prison that two prisoners have escaped already. In the first place, they were "trusties," having the run of the corridors; and, secondly, they would not have got out had the building been completed. As a prison is no stronger than its weakest part the fugitives had comparatively little trouble in forcing their way out where the crumbling walls of the old Tombs were nearly demolished and where a loosely secured avenue to freedom was known to them. The interesting feature of the escape is that it is the first since the new edifice has been in use. A record of it will be kept and perhaps will be read curiously a hundred years from now. Whether there will be other escapes soon is a question to be answered in the negative. Prison officials know that the success of one such attempt stimulates other captives to try for freedom, and vigilance is always redoubled. Besides, the new Tombs is constructed on approved modern plans and does not offer an encouraging prospect to men shut up in steel-barred cells. The two fellows who got out yesterday will most likely be caught, but as they have established a record in jail-breaking and have only a few weeks to serve unless their sentences for disorderly conduct are increased, they are not likely to care much whether they are nabbed or not.

Queer Idea of a Joke.

High school alumni in Mt. Vernon have fantastic ideas of what constitutes a joke. They kidnaped three graduates, young men who are recorded by the Mt. Vernon newspaper correspondent as "members of the foremost families," and tied them to a tree in the woods, where they had to remain all night in a drenching rainstorm, until one of the captives managed to reach his pocket and cut himself free so that he could release his companions. Mount Vernon thinks it a great joke, while the "grads" are striving hard to stave off pneumonia.

Morgan and Lipton Were Happy.

Sir Thomas Lipton smiled all the way up the bay this morning. J. Pierpont Morgan did not. Yet both were happy, each in his own peculiar way. Mr. Morgan said he was; Sir Thomas didn't have to.

Sloppy Time in Camp.

The Seventh regiment of New York, which corresponds to the Eighteenth in Pittsburgh as a crack organization, is having a sloppy old time of it in camp. It has been as wet at Peekskill as in Manhattan and the soldiers have been busy trying to keep moderately dry rather than attending to military duties. It is true that a soldier is not supposed to be afraid of rain, but a soldier may still be counted brave and enthusiastic although he prefers sunshine to clouds. One merchant of Peekskill has made a lot of money through the prevailing conditions. He is a shoe dealer and has sold more rubber boots and overshoes to the Seventh's officers than he ever disposed of in a year's time in the past. It may be fair tomorrow. If it is the real business of the encampment will begin, with pickax and shovel in the making of bridges and earthworks.

Fixing Up the Pump.

Repairs are going on around "Big Bill" Devery's pump. The constant attrition of hundreds of number ten feet have worn away the stone flagging and new stones are being put down. There will be a great rush of the faithful for fragments of the old flagging as souvenirs. The pump does not give way easily. It is of iron, and all it requires to keep it in good condition is an occasional coat of paint. It is green and is adorned with a golden harp.

Pittsburghers Off to England.

Passing the White Star liner Oceanic coming in today was the Majestic, going out. She is bound for Liverpool as usual. Among the large number of cabin passengers were these from Pittsburgh: Mrs. H. A. Carroll, Miss H. R. Carroll and A. H. Carroll, Gerald Hughes, Miss Annis Jeggi, L. C. Phipps, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Robinson, Mrs. Harriett L. Rook, Miss Sarah E. Wilson and Miss Velma D. Wilson. On the American liner Philadelphia, which sailed today for Southampton, is Miss Mary E. Bailie of Pittsburgh.

Acknowledges It Himself.

By the statement of Sir Thomas Lipton, made as soon as an interviewer of New York could pin him down this afternoon, Shamrock III. is "a remarkable boat."

Block on the "L" Road.

The "L" road obstruction of today was in Manhattan. It was not such a spectacular mix-up as Brooklynites got yesterday morning, when it seemed as if half the population was strung along in stalled cars for a mile or two, but it was bad enough. A motor balked at the Fifty-third street curve, Ninth avenue, through a fuse burning out. A lot of passengers were scared by flames and there was a most annoying delay. But Brooklyn "L" men laugh derisively at such a little thing as that.

Trying Out New Actors.

They were trying out new actors for the "Earl of Pawtucket" at the Manhattan theater this afternoon. The upshot of it all is that Grace Elkins may play the part of Harriet Fordyce, which was created by Elizabeth Tyree, while several of the minor parts may fall into different hands. Summer vacations are the cause of the changes in most instances. "The Earl of Pawtucket" is not the only show in town which has been affected by the determination of actors not to forego their summer holiday. Acting gets tiresome to many of them as the Fourth of July comes nearer and nearer.

Her Feelings Have Been Hurt.

Mrs. McIntyre, who was confined in the Tenderloin police station for one night on the charge by Mrs. Swarts of trying to pass a worthless draft of $50 is threatening a suit against the latter for $25,000 damages. Mrs. McIntyre thinks $25,000 will hardly recompense her for the blow to her nerves and pride. She says she is a grand-niece of the late A. T. Stewart and one of the heirs to his millions. She has also let out the fact that she is an actress and all her enemies are bellowing "press agent" at her.

Money for the Sufferers.

Money is still rolling in for the relief of the Kishineff sufferers. A fund was started in this city as soon as the news of the massacre was confirmed and it has steadily grown. The sums contributed run from $2 up to $1,000. There is no question that New York sympathizes with the victims, probably because there is such a large Russian Hebrew population in this city.

Divorce Mill Closed for the Summer.

New Yorkers who are tired of matrimonial bonds cannot do anything in the courts of this city to get clear until the fall term, which begins in October. This was the last day of the present term for divorce hearings. There was 31 cases on today's calendar, but Supreme Justice Amend, who was sitting, got tired after he disposed of a round dozen of them and declined to hear any more. His decision may make vital changes in the future lives of some of them, because it is quite reasonable to suppose that a certain percentage of the applicants will "make up" long before October.

Our Washington Bureau still believes in consistency, and predicts showers again for today. We have wired orders for a change, and, unless the order is soon obeyed there will be an opening for a bright young weather man in a few days.

Sir Thomas Lipton was welcomed with great cordiality as an honest sportsman and a gentleman, but the America's cup was locked up in the safe, just the same.

J. PIERPONT'S RIDE.

The animals were fighting hard
And blood flowed in The Street,
The Bulls were slowly losing ground,
The bugle called retreat.
The Bears pushed on, the battle won.
They scorned to have fall away,
With Morgan, leader of the Bulls,
Three thousand miles away.

But listen! O'er the ocean waves
An order comes to stand,
The Bulls take up the fight anew—
They were the fighting brand—
They fresh in more ferocious still,
They hold the Bears at bay,
Though still their leader, Morgan, is
Two thousand miles away.

With gory jaws, the Bulls fight on,
Their ranks are thinning fast,
The noise of battle buoys them up,
They feel the die is cast;
They listen not the bugle's sound
To call them from the fray—
How dare they lose, with Morgan but
One thousand miles away?

But, ha! Above the cannon's roar
The iron steed is heard!
They list the siren's welcome sound,
And how their hearts are stirred!
They answer with a noble charge,
The Bears at last give way,
For that fearless leader, Morgan,
Has come to save the day.

Then hurrah! hurrah for Morgan!
Hurrah for iron steed,
That brings him o'er the ocean waves
In Wall Street's hour of need;
No more the Bulls have need to fear,
The battle in The Street,
With J. Pierpont in the saddle
There can be no retreat.

Becoming Too Fashionable.

"Hello!" shouted Mother Earth as Old Sol peered from behind his curtain of clouds for a moment yesterday. "Where have you been so long?"

"Summer vacations seem to be the real thing now," replied Sol, "and I've been taking mine. Now I'll have to rest awhile before I can get down to my regular gait again."

The hand that rocks the boat is the hand that fills the grave.

Tried to Redeem Himself.

A number of laborers were digging a deep hole in the street, and one gang was working at night. The hole at last got too deep for the men in the bottom to throw the dirt clear to the top, so a Hungarian was stationed on a platform about half way up, where the dirt was thrown to him, and he passed it on up.

While the work was going on, the Curious Man happened along. The Hungarian was working as though his life depended upon it, and the Curious Man marveled.

"Is that fellow working by the day or by the job?" he inquired of an Irishman sitting at the top of the hole.

"I don't know," replied the Irishman. "The boss is down in the hole. You might ask him. If I asked him, he'd most likely say it was none of my business."

The Curious Man felt well sat upon, but he lingered about the spot of his downfall for a few minutes. Finally he addressed the Irishman again:

"I'm going in to have a little drink," he said. "Will you join me?"

The Irishman accepted the invitation, and as the liquor filtered down his throat he felt happy and at peace with the world.

"That's fine liquor," he said, "mighty fine. Thank you, sir."

Then he turned to go, but as he reached the door, he stopped and looked back with a countenance beaming with friendliness.

"I'll try to find out about that for you, sir," he said, then disappeared through the door.

MORROW FAVORS PRESENT SYSTEM

Assistant Controller Opposed to Paying Delinquent Tax Collector a Salary.

HE SUGGESTS SMALLER FEE

Finance Committee to Take Matter Up Today—Councils Can Make Change at Once, Says Larkin's Assistant—He States His Objections.

"I am strongly opposed to abolishing the fee system in the delinquent tax office, and I believe that if councils put the collector upon a salary they will make a grave mistake," said Assistant Controller E. S. Morrow yesterday.

"I do not care who the collector may be. He will not collect as closely if paid a salary as he does now when he gets a fee on every account. It might be proper for councils to reduce the percentage allowed the collector, but the fee system ought to be retained, for if the collector's fee is not at stake many accounts will never be collected at all as political favors.

"I have been in the controller's office many years, and I know that the best plan is to give the collector a fee. Then no accounts will remain uncollected as a political favor, and the collector will make an effort to get all he can, for it means that much more in his own pocket.

"The collector now gets three-fifths of the 5 per cent penalty on taxes that become delinquent. This might be cut down to 2 per cent, or to 1½ per cent, if councils see fit. I would not undertake to say what would be a reasonable percentage, but I am against the proposition to make it a salaried office."

The ordinance abolishing the fee system in the delinquent tax office comes up before the joint finance committee this afternoon. The ordinance provides that the delinquent tax collector shall be put upon a salary, although the ordinance does not fix the salary. That is to be left to be fixed later by councils, probably not until next year, as the ordinance is not to become operative until February, 1904.

D. F. Crawford, chairman of the committee that presented the ordinance to councils Monday night, stated that the change could not go into effect until next year, as no provision had been made in this year's appropriation ordinance to pay the collector a salary.

"It is nonsense," said Assistant Controller Morrow yesterday when told of the excuse offered by Chairman Crawford. "Councils can make the change now, and this office will issue the warrants for his salary, as the proceeds from the delinquent tax office, part of which now goes to the collector, would, otherwise all go into the city treasury. We would pay the collector his salary as long as we had the money to do so."

The finance committee is controlled by the Citizens reformers, who are fighting the Duquesne way railroad ordinance. W. H. Stevenson is chairman. The committee may amend the ordinance, fixing the salary of the collector at $5,000 per annum and make the ordinance operative at once. Controller John B. Larkin is said to favor this plan. Controller Larkin does not agree with Assistant Controller Morrow that the compensation of the delinquent tax collector should be a fee instead of a salary.

The finance committee may adopt Mr. Morrow's plan. It may retain the fee system, but cut down the fees from 3 per cent to 2 per cent or 1½ per cent.

The ordinance appropriating $10,000 for an exhibit by Pittsburgh at the St. Louis fair next year is another measure before the finance committee, but no appropriation is likely to be made until the appropriations for next year are made up.

The ordinance revoking the contract of the city with Contractor James H. McQuade for the construction of a recreation grounds on the Bedford basin site will come up before the committee.

CORONER M'GEARY IS CALLED TO ACCOUNT

Coroner Jesse M. McGeary is again in trouble with the county commissioners and county controller. The commissioners and controller have asked the coroner for an explanation and also for a complete list of all the supplies purchased without their consent.

ALLEGHENY IS MUCH AROUSED

Business Men All in Favor of Abolishing the Delinquent Tax Office.

MEETING IS TO BE CALLED

Allegheny's Chamber of Commerce Will Voice Approval of Citizens of Pending Bill in Select Council—Mayor Wyman's Stand.

The Allegheny chamber of commerce, which has not held a real business session for several years, is going to convene early next week for the purpose of giving expression to the feelings of the members in regard to what should be done with the ordinance introduced into select council last week, providing for the abolition of the delinquent tax office. This organization's membership includes most of the prominent business men on the North Side. They have been so busy for the past two years that they have held only two or three meetings, and these had no material results. But a vigorous stand is to be taken in favor of abolishing the delinquent tax office and saving thousands of dollars for the city each year.

Dr. W. W. Cole, secretary of the chamber of commerce, said yesterday that a call for a meeting of the body would be issued within a few days, and that the expression of the members would leave no doubt as to what the business men think of the measure, and what action should be taken on it by councils and Mayor Wyman. The meeting will be held in Carnegie music hall and the public is to be invited to attend. Outside expressions are to be listened to and the official statement or resolution that will be sent out will be a concise and accurate expressions of the public generally.

Buisness Men Are Agitating.

The call for the meeting is the result of personal conferences among most of the prominent business men along Federal street since the ordinance was put into select council last Wednesday, and is an evidence of what the substantial business men of Allegheny think of the measure.

"The meeting may be held this week," said Dr. Cole yesterday, "but I think it will not be until early next week. The wave of sentiment in favor of the passage of the ordinance, that is manifest in every part of Allegheny, is to be given expression in our meeting. Nothing that has been considered in Allegheny councils for years, has so stirred up the people, and I think it is a proper time for the chamber of commerce of this city to assert itself."

Major H. K. Tyler, one of the best known men on the North Side, who has always taken an interest in municipal affairs, said yesterday:

"If you want to find out how the people feel about this matter, just go out among them. They all favor it. I have yet to meet a man that will say that the ordinance is unjust or should be defeated. I meet several hundred men each day, and I tell you nothing in years has so stirred up public sentiment. Considering what I have observed since the ordinance was introduced, councils cannot do anything but pass the ordinance, and in that event Mayor Wyman dare not do anything but approve it.

Measure Is a Popular One.

"I have noticed that it is generally understood that Wyman would veto the bill if it gets through councils. I don't think that is reasonable. Wyman has made no friends since he took the office, and if he were to veto such a measure he would simply kill himself, politically. Although he may not favor it, and I don't think he does, he is almost certain to sign it in face of the remarkable popularity of the measure."

Councilman Morris Einstein, who was Wyman's candidate for chairman of select council, in opposition to Francis J. Torrance, is out telling his friends that he favors the ordinance and will speak in favor of its passage when it comes into the select branch from the finance committee. Mr. Einstein said yesterday: "This ordinance was introduced just at the right time. There has never been any chance in years to pass such a measure, although such a thing was often talked of before. The time is now ripe to relieve the city of this office and to put into the city treasury the money that rightfully belongs there. Aside from the fact that the ordinance is just and equitable, it seems to me any man in councils would be a fool to oppose it. If he has any further political ambitions or wishes to sit in councils again, he would simply be harpooning himself by opposing this ordinance. I don't think there will be any trouble in passing the ordinance in either branch of councils."

David G. Hanna, 53 years old, a prominent resident of Braddock, a descendant of one of the original settlers of Braddock's Field, is seriously ill at his home in Talbot avenue, the result of a stroke of apoplexy which he suffered while attending a picnic at Conneaut Lake Tuesday. He was rowing on the lake when suddenly he fell to the bottom of the boat.

BIG FLEET GOT AWAY IN SAFETY

Over 9,000,000 Bushels of Coal Were Sent Out on Local Rivers Yesterday.

MORE MILLIONS GO TODAY

Scenes of Great Activity in Harbor All Day—Only One Small Accident Reported—Big Towboats Hastening to Port.

One of the largest coal fleets ever sent out of Pittsburgh harbor was dispatched yesterday. By nightfall over 9,000,000 bushels of coal had passed Davis Island dam in safety. How much more will be got out today is not known, but today's shipment will be comparatively small, as towboats are not available. If there were enough steamers in the harbor, as big a shipment would be made today as yesterday. At least 2,000,000 bushels will leave today and probably more. The marks at the dam, at 8 o'clock last night showed a stage of 11.9 feet and the river was still rising. It is expected that there will be a shipping stage until Saturday, which will make it possible for several of the steamers to double back and take out additional tows. But even then, considerable loaded coal will be left in the pools and harbor.

Every available towboat was pressed into service yesterday. A start was made before daylight when fully two score steamers were flashing their search lights over the harbor. As seen from the Smithfield street bridge the display was most attractive and hundreds of night workers on their way to their homes stopped to admire it. After daylight, and all through the day, thousands were attracted to the water front to watch the movements of the fleet. Sight seers thronged the landing, the bridges and the hill tops. Heavy clouds of smoke hung over the harbor and at times obscured the view of the moving boats.

It was not until about 3 o'clock yesterday morning that a stage of water was reached on which the fleet dared venture forth. The leaders were the Tom Lysle, B. D. Wood, J. C. Risher and Ed. Roberts, which had tows of the lightest barges. At 4:35 o'clock as the first streaks of day were coming over the hills, they passed Davis Island dam. From then until nightfall, tow after tow passed in perfect order. The water was not as high as expected but it was a safe stage. Several of the smaller towboats which were only used to assist the big steamers over the trap, returned at once and set to work to haul more coal from the pools.

The Volunteer sunk a barge of the Joe B. Williams' tow during the morning at Gray's landing, Water street. The pilot of the Volunteer thought he could get by the Williams' tow, but there was not room. Up to midnight that was the only accident of any moment reported, and at that hour the advance steamers went within hailing distance of Steubenville. There was an absence of fog last night and if everything goes well all the fleet should be under and beyond the Wheeling and Bellaire bridges.

The Enterprise and Mariner will get in so as to leave with tows today, and the Ironsides, Jim Wood, Joe Walton, Josh Cook, Pacific, Fallie and the W. W. O'Neil are hastening to reach the harbor in time to get away with big tows on this rise.

A PRETTY BROOKLYN GIRL

Regains Her Beauty by the Use of Pe-ru-na.

Miss Margaret Little, 47 Hoyt St., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"I have been troubled with constipation and indigestion for over a year, my complexion was ruined and I was losing flesh every day. The doctors advised that I go to a Sanitarium, but a number of people advised me to try Peruna before going to that expense, and I did so.

"I found that the first bottle regulated my bowels, cleared my complexion, and by the time I had taken six bottles my stomach and digestion was in perfect working order and has remained so ever since."—Margaret Little.

THOUSANDS of women suffer from systemic catarrh. This is sure to produce such symptoms as cold feet and hands, sick headache, palpitation of the heart and heavy feelings in the stomach.

Then begins a series of experiments with medicine. They take medicine for sick headache. They take medicine for nervous prostration, for palpitation of the heart, for dyspepsia. None of these medicines do any good because they do not reach the cause of the complaint.

Peruna at once mitigates all these symptoms by removing the cause.

Systemic catarrh is the trouble. Systemic catarrh pervades the whole system, deranges every organ, weakens every function. No permanent cure can be expected until the systemic catarrh is removed.

This is exactly what Peruna will do.

A Wonderful Cure by Pe-ru-na.

Was Given Up to Die—Eight Doctors Failed—Pe-ru-na Saved Her Life.

Miss Alma Cox, Assistant Postmistress of Orum, S. C., writes:

"I have been a great sufferer from chronic disease and dyspepsia for five years. How I suffered no tongue can tell. I tried eight or ten of the best physicians without receiving much benefit, also tried lots of patent medicines. But still I suffered with sick headache, cold feet and hands, palpitation of the heart, and such a heavy feeling in my stomach and chest. At times I would be so nervous I could not bear anyone around me. I had been given up to die.

"One day a friend sent me one of Dr. Hartman's pamphlets, and I decided to write to him. He advised Peruna and Manalin, and after taking the medicine two weeks I felt greatly relieved. My head did not pain me any scarcely, and my stomach was relieved of its heavy feeling. I am so thankful that I can say after using several bottles of the Peruna and Manalin I am restored to perfect health.

"Before using your remedies I could not eat anything. I lived on barley water and Panopeptin for two years. Now I can eat with pleasure. Everybody is so surprised at my improvement. Everyone says I am looking like a rose. I would advise all suffering women to take your remedies. I know if it were not for Peruna and Manalin I would have been in my grave today. I cannot thank you enough for the kind advice you have given me."—Miss Alma L. Cox.

RUPTURE MEN, Women and Children CURED in 30 to 60 Days

DR. GEO. B. WIX, The discoverer of the Electro-Chemic Method.

Every registered patient who has been repeatedly disappointed and believes their case beyond all hope should come to me and consult me.

MY ELECTRO-CHEMIC METHOD with the other treatments. Let me point out the marvelous superiority of my treatment over all others. I have taken patients who were bowed with infirmity by the tortures of a truss and the draining weakening resulting from the inability to control the rupture, and have cured them so that they have come to me years afterwards and expressed their unbounded appreciation. It is with such a record that I come to you and assert that I am the only rupture specialist who can and will guarantee a cure in every case.

The great value of my Electro-Chemic Method over the old-time surgical operation is that, while effecting these remarkable cures it leaves no bad after effects. You need never fear a recurrence of the trouble.

I will make a free examination of your rupture and will give you letters of introduction to well known people whom I have cured years ago. Other treatments had failed miserably. I want you to talk with these people—you will come into possession of evidence more convincing than it is possible to put into print.

May 6, 1903.

"My baby, one year old, was ruptured. I took it to Dr. Geo. B. Wix, who cured it by his Electro-Chemic Method in a few weeks. Now, after three years, the child is still sound and well.

I heartily recommend Dr. Wix's Electro-Chemic Method to every person with rupture."

A NEW MAIN ARTERY DIRECT TO THE EAST END DISTRICT

Project to Continue Center Avenue to Fifth Avenue at Washington Street.

WOULD NOT COST LARGE SUM

City Officials and the Pittsburgh Railways Company Interested—Benefit to the Hill Wards—Would Increase Realty Values.

A shorter route to East Liberty is to result from a project which is just out of the embryonic stage. The plan is to extend Center avenue from Fulton street to Fifth avenue, making a nearly straight course from the downtown section to the East End. City officials are back of the project and the scheme is so far along that engineers have been engaged to make preliminary surveys.

By the present route Center avenue makes a long detour from Fulton street as it comes downtown. To cut through the six squares of property between Fulton street and Fifth avenue and make a straight thoroughfare would be a tremendous saving of time and money to the public and would open up a large district for business. These advantages, together with the relatively low cost, compared with other downtown street improvements are responsible for the present project which leaked out in connection with options asked on properties along the line.

At Fulton street, where Center avenue turns off to the north, it is 60 feet wide. It has been suggested that this width be maintained to Fifth avenue in order to make it a first-class street for business. The route from Fulton street would run about midway between Clark and Hazel streets and would cross Townsend, Logan, Scott, Helm, and Congress streets and strike Fifth avenue near the foot of Washington street, just below the Jewish synagogue. Between Washington and Federal streets is a 20-foot alley running out to Fifth avenue, and it is thought that the terminus of the new line may be by this outlet.

The distance from Fulton street to Fifth avenue is about 1,300 feet. Most of the properties in the way of the proposed line are small residence lots extending through from one street to the next. If a 60-foot street were put through it would necessitate the purchase of probably 500 feet of frontage on these cross streets. This is estimated to be worth from $150 to $400 a foot.

In Fifth avenue near Washington street property is worth from $1,400 to $1,800 a front foot. With the new street opened, values along Center avenue adjacent to Fifth avenue would be certain to advance rapidly and the whole six squares would offer a good location for business places to be fed from the Hill district. The grade, it is said, would be no steeper than on Wylie avenue, so that would not be a serious obstacle.

If the hump is cut down, as now seems probable, this would make a much shorter and more accessible route to the East End than any now used. The saving of time would be no small item to the traction companies, and the convenience to the adjacent wards would be a matter of great satisfaction to the residents, who now have to go several blocks to reach a street car and still farther to make their purchases. It is rumored that the Philadelphia Company has a hand in the proposed extension, which would be manifestly to its advantage. Some work has already been done on the preliminary surveys and it is likely that the matter will take definite form in a few weeks.

AGREEMENT REACHED ON IRISH LAND BILL

Unprecedented Good Feeling Manifested by Both Sides in House of Commons.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, June 24.—A resumption of the debate in the house of commons today on the Irish land bill was marked by the introduction by Mr. Wyndham, chief secretary for Ireland, of an amendment designed to remove the difficulty in regard to the retention of clause 1 of a provision for a minimum price at which tenants may purchase their holdings and permitting bargains to be made outside the judicial zones.

The amendment is hailed on all sides as being a great concession. John Redmond, the Irish leader, declared Mr. Wyndham had saved the bill and the amendment was agreed to amid cheers and general congratulations. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the Liberal leader, joined in the congratulations on the spirit of conciliation prevailing and the dangerous clause 1 of the bill was adopted without a division.

Later Mr. Wyndham agreed to an extension of the limit of the advances to be made to purchasers of agricultural farms from $25,000 to $35,000.

ONE SCHOOL; TWO PICNICS.

Carfare Causes a Split in the Eleventh Ward, Allegheny.

The Eleventh ward Allegheny, public school will have two picnics today. The school board and Principal Alexander C. Gordon will accompany one party to Calhoun park, and several hundred children under the direction of W. C. Fearley will go to Riverview park. This unusual arrangement resulted because the Pittsburgh Railways Company would give no special rates to the school, but will demand the regular fare from Allegheny to Calhoun park. The annual outing of the school was planned by the directors to be held at that place, and it was when it became known that each child would be charged 30 cents fare that the split resulted.

From what could be learned from the teachers in the school yesterday, about half the children will go to Riverview and the remainder to Calhoun. The school board and Principal Gordon have taken no notice of the picnic that is to be given in Riverview, despite the fact that Mr. Fearly, acting for a large number of parents in the ward, has hired a brass band to accompany the children to Riverview and has arranged to serve refreshments free of charge. Most of the teachers will accompany their pupils to Calhoun, but a number of them have announced their intention to go to Riverview, which is close to the school and can be reached without riding on the cars.

LOST ON PICNIC TRAIN.

Boards the Cars at Pittsburgh, but Has Not Been Seen Since.

William Hughes of Lawrenceville left Pittsburgh yesterday morning for Rock Springs with the O'Hara school picnic, and is reported lost. His mother inquired for him at police station No. 3 last night and said the boy had not returned. He has not been seen by any of his friends since he boarded the train yesterday morning.

James Hughes, a step-brother of the lost boy, called at the mayor's office in Steubenville yesterday and inquired for him. James Hughes is still looking for him about that city. The missing boy is 17 years old and is not accustomed to traveling alone. He had considerable money about his person and foul play or an accident is feared.

Hundreds of Pittsburghers and Alleghenians will be at Put-in-Bay this season.

CHURCH SALE IS TO BE ENDORSED

Congregation of Second Presbyterian Church Goes on Record in Ballot.

UP TO PASTOR AND BOARD

Resolution Adopted Giving Church Officers Full Power to Act in Pending Deal—New Site Must First Be Secured. Meetings Next Week.

By practically an unanimous vote the congregation of the Second Presbyterian church last night decided to leave all negotiations for the sale of the property at Penn avenue and Seventh street in the hands of the pastor and the official boards. The result of the balloting in the support of a resolution to this effect virtually places the congregation on record as in favor of disposing of the church at the latest bid, which was made last week by a syndicate of local real estate men for a trifle over $500,000 cash. The deal, however, will not be consummated until a site for a new house of worship has been secured.

Over 300 members attended and the collection of the ballots required more than an hour. The tellers were Thomas S. Maple, Thomas D. Miller, T. Hayne Thompson and William R. Zeigler. The meeting then adjourned and it was announced that the result of the vote would be made public on Sunday morning. There was no doubt, however, as to the result, and all left the meeting understanding that the resolution had been adopted by a big majority.

"We will not leave this church until a new place of worship is permanently secured," said Dr. Young after the meeting. "We are not compelled to act in haste. We shall remain in the downtown section and if a new home is to be found for the congregation it must be close to the traction lines and accessible from all parts of the two cities. The suggestion for the church to build a sky-scraper and occupy a portion of the building is an undertaking of too great magnitude to enter at this period, when structural material is at the top notch in price and we are not absolutely certain as to future business conditions."

The Cobden club medal for proficiency in political economy was awarded to M. B. Terrell, Decherd, Tenn., of the academic senior class, while the John A. Porter university prize was won by Richard Webb of Durham, N. C. The honorary degree of doctor of laws was conferred upon Maj. George Gray, William D. ANOTHER TRACTION FEEDER.

Latest Trolley Line Parallels Part of B. & O.'s Wheeling Branch.

A company has been formed and rights of way are being secured for a street car line to extend from Hays station to Curry, in the westerly end of Mifflin township. The line will be six miles long and will open up considerable desirable property. The right of way parallels the tracks of the Wheeling division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, and the line is to be double tracked.

It is proposed to connect with the Pittsburgh Railways lines at Hays, and with the Charleroi line at the Curry end. The principal stockholders are: F. H. McKinney, Pittsburgh; M. M. Curran, Homestead; Daniel McSweeney, Hays, and James Purcell, Braddock.

FIVE-YEAR-OLD ROBERT BAKER SAVES LIFE OF LITTLE MABEL

Robert Baker, 5 years old, living with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Baker, at No. 830 Liberty street, Allegheny, proved himself a hero last night by running in front of a team of horses and saving the life of little Mabel Schmidt, aged 2 years. The Schmidt child was playing on the steps of her home, next door to the Baker residence, when a team drawing a heavy wagon passed the house. Running from the steps the infant toddled out into the street and fell in front of the wagon.

On the sidewalk the little Baker boy was playing and seeing the danger his small neighbor was in, ran into the street and picked the child from under the feet of the horses. The front feet of one of the horses struck the boy and knocked him down, but not before he had little Mabel out of danger. The boy's knee is painfully hurt.

International League of Press Clubs Elect Officers, Many of Them Being Pittsburghers—Imps and Demons of the Profession Effect an Organization.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Young's Ocean Pier, ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 24.

The weather that for several days has made things disagreeable for the visitors here has improved somewhat and the indications are that when the excursionists who will leave Pittsburgh tomorrow night get here the local weather observer will have gotten the weather conditions in shape.

The Pittsburghers who are here attending the convention of the International League of Press Clubs are having a great time. The delegates are being looked after a little better than other clubs in many ways. On Friday night Capt. John L. Young, owner of the ocean pier, will entertain about a hundred of the delegates and their wives at a performance of "The Strollers." After the performance the Pittsburgh club, in conjunction with the Pen and Pencil club of Philadelphia, will give a dance at the Hotel Islesworth.

At the meeting of the International League this morning officers were elected as follows: President, M. P. Curran, Boston; vice presidents, John Hennessey, New York; Franklin P. Stoy, Atlantic City; Charles Emory Smith, Philadelphia; P. C. Boyle, Oil City, Pa.; Mrs. Cynthia Westover, Alden, N. Y.; secretary, H. Starr Richardson, Philadelphia; treasurer, Col. ALLEGED BURGLARS ARE HELD FOR COURT

Quartet Charged With Operating in the Monongahela Valley Held for Court.

"Rube" and Neal Bowers, Hugh Bracemand and W. L. Laughlin of West Elizabeth and Elizabeth, who were arrested by Detectives Lipton Lewis and P. J. Morrisey of McKeesport, for alleged complicity in numerous robberies in the Monongahela valley, were given a hearing yesterday before Alderman W. D. Mansfield of McKeesport and held to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of burglary. The prisoners entered a plea of "not guilty."

Morrisey testified to having hired Lewis to work on the case, and that the arrests were made on information secured by Lewis, who became one of the gang and planned a number of operations with them.

Lewis' testimony was more damaging to the prisoners. He said that after becoming a member of the gang Rube and Neal Bowers confessed to him that all the robberies in the neighborhood had been committed by himself and his friends. He said gone of the men ever did any honest work except when it was desired to allay suspicion, when they secured odd jobs at whatever they could get.

The hearing attracted a large crowd, including many residents of Elizabeth and West Elizabeth. Alexander Laughlin, the aged parent of one of the prisoners, was the only relative present. Laughlin declares his son is innocent, and is inclined to blame his present predicament upon bad company and a love for whisky.

GOLD BRICK HOLDERS FORM ORGANIZATION

Garfield Citizens Band Themselves Together for Mutual Protection and to Get What Is Coming to Them from the Machine.

Gold brick holders of the Citizens party in the Garfield section of the Nineteenth ward have organized a secret organization for mutual protection against the machine. If Thomas S. Bigelow agrees to give them what they want and deliver the goods they will "go along," but if promises are not made good there will be trouble.

Garfield is a populous section of the Nineteenth ward, the home of Thomas S. Bigelow. In the three elections the voters of Garfield have supported the Citizens ticket. When the jobs were given out bricks were freely distributed in Garfield. The Citizens workers are determined to get reward or get even. To accomplish either of the purposes a secret organization was decided upon.

The first meeting was held in a house in Winebiddle avenue a week ago. It was decided to meet in the basement of the Garfield school last night. About 30 men were present. Chairman Collins announced that the purpose was to form an organization, so that the voters of Garfield would get what was coming to them. Then he said that the constitution and by-laws were not complete and the best thing to do would be to have all present sign their names agreeing to support the association. One man suggested that it would probably be the correct thing to have the constitution and by-laws read so that the members would know what they were signing. His suggestion was not accepted and the men finally signed a blank piece of paper. At the next meeting they will learn the extent of their obligations.

It was not generally known that a former meeting had been held. One man gave this fact publicity when he suggested that the minutes of the last meeting be read. This was finally done and it has developed that a committee had been appointed to see Thomas S. Bigelow. A report was asked for, but the chairman of the meeting evidently did not care to have much said on the subject. The members insisted and a member of the committee reported that so far the committeemen had failed to get an audience, although Murry A. Verner had told them that they could see Bigelow. The chairman suggested to the committeeman to simply "report progress" and let it go at that.

One son of Erin explained that the purpose of the organization was to get what was coming to them. As he put it: "We are not going to knuckle to Tom Bigelow and the fellows we elected unless they give us what is coming to us." These sentiments appeared satisfactory to the meeting. Just before the members "signed" they were cautioned not to "talk around the ward about what had been done at the meeting." The man who objected to knuckling announced that he understood that other wards intended to form secret organizations. If this statement he is correct as a meeting of representatives of several downtown wards was held last week, at which there was a discussion of the proposition.

NEW POWER NOW TAKES THE HELM

Important Change in Directorate of Colorado Iron and Fuel Company.

RADICAL REFORM PROBABLE

Rockefeller-Gould Interests Are Now in Complete Control of the Corporation—New Chairman Elected by the Ingoing Directors.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 24.—J. C. Osgood presented his resignation as chairman of the board of directors of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company at the monthly meeting of the directors today. The resignations of Directors Cass and Jerome were tendered and accepted at the same time.

Mr. Osgood is succeeded as chairman by J. H. McClement, and these directors were elected: F. T. Gates, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and E. Parmelee Prentice. The latter is a son-in-law of the senior John D. Rockefeller, and Mr. Rockefeller and Mr. Gates were elected to vacancies in the executive committees. Today's changes in the company are evidences that the Rockefeller-Gould interest is in complete control.

In his letter of resignation Osgood stated that he was led to take this step "in view of the fact that large interests in the stock and securities of the company had been acquired by those who should have a greater responsibility from this time in directing the policy and managing the finances of the company; that he was in full accord with such interests, and that he expected to continue to have an interest in the company and do everything which he could to advance its welfare."

The official statement issued after today's meeting says that the temporary difficulty of the company in failing to meet its obligations on June 15 was thoroughly investigated by the directors, who adopted resolutions exonerating the officers and clerks from all blame, as the failure was clearly due to a misunderstanding between the New York and Denver offices.

Mr. Osgood's retirement from the directory and executive committee is only temporary, according to the official statement, and is occasioned by the absence in Europe of three directors and the necessity of his presence in the west. The other Colorado directors retired "to make places for representatives of the new financial interests."

Chairman McClement announced that he would make no change in the policy of the company. The statement concludes, as follows: "Mr. Gould and Mr. Osgood stated that there is not now nor has there ever been any friction whatever between them or the interests with which they are identified."

A Demonstration of the Purchasing Possibilities of 25c.

Today is the 25th of June. Campbell selected this suggestive date to launch a new monthly bargain day—a day whose purpose in local mercantile history will be to demonstrate the splendid purchasing possibilities of a silver quarter at "The People's Store."

Among the 52 specials at 25c that will serve to make today notable and crowd as many counters as there are weeks in the year, will be:

40 and 50c Japanese and Chinese mattings, at 25c yard.

Cork bath room mats—really worth a dollar, for 25c.

Canvas covered telescopes, with two straps, for 25c.

Oak umbrella stands with brass drip pans, for 25c.

Ladies' 50c gingham shirt waists for 25c.

Men's summer coats for office purposes, for 25c.

Men's bicycle pants that were $2 and $2.50, for 25c.

A pair of hemstitched pillow cases, 30x42 inches, for 25c.

Any 35c or 50c wall paper in stock for 25c a bolt.

25c extension window screens for 25c.

Short ends of velvet, brussels and Axminster carpets—worth from 50c to $1, for 25c.

This is only the first course of the veritable feast which will cause a tingle of silver all over "The People's Store."

THE DEATH ROLL

Funeral of Gottlieb G. Wagner.

The funeral of Gottlieb G. Wagner, late assistant superintendent of mails of the Pittsburgh postoffice, was held yesterday afternoon from the family residence, Locust street, Mt. Oliver. The services were attended by a large crowd of people, many officials and employes of the postoffice being present. The employes of the postoffice sent a handsome and appropriate floral emblem. It was in the shape of a large envelope, with evergreen borders, on which was written "Good Night." The body of the envelope, which was of white carnations, bore the stamp of the Pittsburgh postoffice, and "Pittsburgh" on the address was cancelled. In the upper left hand corner was the stamp, "Deficiency supplied at the Pittsburgh postoffice," in the lower left hand corner was the direction, "Forward to Heaven." The interment was made in the South Side cemetery.

Target practice will then be engaged in by all the vessels in the vicinity of Marthas Vineyard.

HISTORIC NAME OF HOPE CHURCH IS DROPPED

Too many names for one community has resulted in the dropping of one of the historic names in Western Pennsylvania. Hope church, after July 1, will be no more. Official notice was received from Washington, yesterday, stating that after that date the postoffice would be known as Hays.

WE HEREBY CONDEMN, repudiate and openly challenge as false and malicious, all statements to the effect that SOZODONT, the well known dentifrice, is or ever was acid or contains any ingredient injurious to the teeth or mouth. The origin of these statements has been traced to certain irresponsible and unprincipled persons desiring to benefit thereby. We, therefore, publicly state and stand ready to prove SOZODONT to be not only non-acid but an acid destroyer, for by its alkaline reaction it neutralizes all destructive mouth acids. This statement is corroborated in hundreds of letters from our most eminent dentists.

NOVEL SCHEME FOR GETTING FREE DRINKS

A new and novel method of securing free drinks was worked in Homestead yesterday, and the man who worked the scheme was not captured until he had secured drinks in nearly every saloon in the steel town. Abel O'Brien is the man's name and he does not belie it. He would enter a saloon with his sleeves rolled up and wearing a white apron. Going to the bar he would call for a drink and when the bartender demanded pay, O'Brien would inform him he was a waiter in the house. Fifteen saloons were visited. When he reached the Lincoln hotel the bartender had him arrested, and Burgess W. S. Ross fined him $1 and costs.

WALLACE CANNOT GET ON THE CITY PAYROLL

Non-Residents Cannot Be Employed When Home Talent is Plentiful.

Alexander Wallace, better known among local and Canton sports as "Buck" Wallace, will have trouble in getting pay for his services as city detective. The ordinance prohibiting the appointment of any person to a city position unless he has been a resident of the city for at least six months is likely to prove an insurmountable barrier to Wallace getting on the city pay roll.

Assistant Controller E. S. Morrow said yesterday that the ordinance prohibited the appointment of a non-resident unless the mayor and head of the department were unable to get a person in Pittsburgh competent to fill the position. This is expected to leave Wallace out in the cold, as it is not contended, in view of some other appointments made in the detective and police bureaus, that the administration was compelled to go to Canton to get sleuths. There are many applicants in the city as competent to fill positions in the detective bureau as some of those now there.

The councilmen from the Thirteenth ward are much incensed over the appointment of Wallace, as it is credited to that ward and takes away one of the positions which the ward is allotted. The Thirteenth ward councilmen urged the appointment of another man from their district, but he was turned down by the administration. Wallace's appointment on the heels of their failure to get one of their own favorites in the detective bureau has added fuel to the anger of the Thirteenth warders who complain of the many gold bricks which they have received, not the least of which was the unfulfilled promise to remove the pest house from the ward.

When the story of Chinese atrocities filled the papers and shocked the world, it was the women who drew the pity and sympathy of all. Doubtless many a wife who heard her husband's words of sympathy for these women thought with a pang of the blindness of men to the suffering under their very eyes. It is true. The suffering of women in China was severe but short. Many a wife suffers for years with a daily agony of pain, her nerves shattered, her strength almost gone, and never hears a word of sympathy.

To women such as these Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription brings the opportunity of a new life of health and happiness. It establishes regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

"I had falling of internal organs and had to go to bed every month; had irregular periods, which would sometimes last ten or twelve days," writes Mrs. Alice L. Holmes, of Coolspring St., Uniontown, Pa. "Had also indigestion so bad that I could hardly eat anything. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery' cured me. I took three bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' and one of the 'Golden Medical Discovery.'"

Sick people are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A MODERN ELDORADO

Within Few Years the Territory of Arizona Has Become the Greatest Ore Producing Center of the World.

Rich Ledges of Gold and Copper Ore Opened Almost Daily.

The History of the Great Warren Mining District.

Interesting Letters From County and Territorial Officials.

Each and every day there issues more and more information concerning the wonderful gold and copper properties of Arizona. Within recent years only prospectors and investors have become convinced as to the great and valuable ore lands of the western territory. Within less than 12 months companies, representing gigantic capital, have been organized to take up the properties lying within the circumference of the promising Warren belt. To each of these, and in almost every case, Dame Fortune has bestowed a full share of her gifts. The history of the so-called Great Warren Mining Belt is but of few years' record. It began with the close of the nineteenth century. At first the territory was looked upon with doubt and distaste. Four years of the hard and hazardous labor of the prospectors brought the district to the notice of both investor and mining operator. Today it is universally conceded that the Warren district is unquestionably the richest and greatest ore zone of the globe. The immense output of gold and copper ores that are obtained from this belt answer as proof of the accredited statement. Forming one of the most valuable mining properties in the Warren belt is the Bisbee Arizona Gold and Copper Mining Company. The property of this company lies directly on the line of the belt before stated. As to location and future results it is, therefore, splendidly situated. The Bisbee company owns over 230 acres of land in the choicest mining section. From shafts already sunk the company is already obtaining ores that yearly an assayed value of at least $15 to the ton. These compartment shafts are but 75 feet deep. Ores taken at greater depth, in the same belt, have a value of over $80 a ton. The future of the Bisbee-Arizona gold and Copper Mining Company is assured. That it will be one of the richest producers in a very short time, is likewise apparent. Parties who desire to take an interest in a mining enterprise safe and profitable, may obtain full and complete information by applying to the fiscal agent of the company. The terms and conditions will be made satisfactory to all. There is only a limited number of shares to dispose of. Therefore, it is necessary to act quickly if good things do not get long—they are taken quick. We had only 100,000 shares left out of 1,000,000 shares. Several thousand shares have been sold this week to prominent Pittsburghers. The price of the stock for this month will be 20 cents a share. Thereafter there will be an advance.

Following are letters from officials of the territory. Read them thoroughly. They honestly explain an honest proposition:

Office of County Recorder,

This is to certify that I am personally acquainted with the following named persons: M. D. Sellnet, county treasurer; Judge C. T. Clark, attorney-at-law; Jacob Schmid, capitalist; Frank H. These gentlemen have the very best standing in the community, and I consider them straightforward, reliable business men.

DISTRICT COURT OF ARIZONA:
First Judicial District, County of Cochise.
Tombstone, Ariz., June 16, 1903.

H. D. Collingwood, Esq.,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Sir—In answer to yours of the 8th inst., would state that I am so busy at this time that it is almost impossible to give the matter the attention it deserves, but I have secured a couple of communications, which I enclose herewith.

I became interested in the property, or the company rather, after the incorporation, and invested all the money I could spare in the stock of the company. This I did after thorough investigation as to the merits of the property, as I was well acquainted with the owners and promoters before. I believe it is as good property as there is in the Warren Mining District, which is saying a great deal.

I would not accept a cent less than par for one share of my stock at this time and believe this stock will be $5.00 per share within a year, if fairly managed.

I believe all the officers of the B.-A. G. & C. Co. are reliable and efficient.

Very truly yours,
GEO. B. WILCOX.

Tombstone, A. T., June 16, 1903.

D. L. Cunningham,
Tombstone, A. T.

Dear Sir—In response to your request I herewith give you my opinion of the Bisbee-Arizona Gold & Copper M. Co's property. I will state that some two years ago I made a thorough examination of that property then known as the Iron Mountain Camp and from what I then saw I am convinced that with development and, as a practical miner would do that a paying mine can be opened in a year. I am a miner of 25 years' experience, 20 years of which has been spent in Cochise Co. I am personally acquainted with all of the officers of the B.-A. company and know them to be thorough, reliable and conservative business men.

Yours truly,
(Signed.) CORL BRAVIN,
Chief of Police.

For particulars and general information concerning the Bisbee-Arizona Gold and Copper Mining Company, apply to Mr. F. W. Doward, fiscal agent, rooms 907-908 Keystone bank building, Fourth avenue, Pittsburgh. Mail inquiries solicited and cheerfully answered.

CONCILIATION BOARD WILL TRY TO ORGANIZE

Miners' Representatives Have the Grievances Ready for the Session.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WILKESBARRE, June 24.—Another attempt will be made by the board of conciliation to organize in this city tomorrow. The meeting is to take place in the main office of the Lehigh Coal Company. District President Dettery of the United Mine workers, who arrived here today, is prepared for the meeting with the grievances of the men from the seventh district, have been compiled by him in typewritten form.

It is said tonight, that it will be decided when the board organizes, whether or not President Mitchell will be permitted to present the side of the miners. It is more than likely that W. L. Connell of Scranton will be chosen chairman of the sessions. It will also be decided whether or not the session will be open to the public.

It is believed after tomorrow's session an adjournment will be taken for some days in order that the grievances may be given careful attention. The general belief is that in the event of the board failing to agree on the points in dispute Judge Gray will be selected as umpire.

SHOT WENT THROUGH FENCE AND HURT A MAN

MANSFIELD, O., June 24.—(Special.)—John Scheusman, an aged German citizen, went gunning this morning for cats that have been killing his chickens. In placing a shell in the gun the weapon was accidentally discharged. A board fence stopped some of the shot but enough went through the spaces between the boards to inflict dangerous injuries upon William Rossinger, a neighbor, who was watching the proceedings.

WILL NOT ASK FOR INCREASE UNTIL AFTER CONFERENCE

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 24.—(Special.)—The machinists here who have been considering the proposition of making a demand for an increase of wages will not do so until after the national conference has been held between the molders' union and the foundrymen's association. If the molders are granted an advance in wages the machinists will make a like demand.

MAN AND WIFE STUNNED BY BOLT OF LIGHTNING

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 24.—(Special.)—The house of Robert Williams, here, was struck by lightning last night, and was badly damaged. Bith Williams and his wife were stunned, and the house was only prevented from burning down by the heavy fall of rain.

Won't Aid Pittsburgh Unions.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 24.—(Special.)—The boiler makers of this district will make no demands on the foundrymen for an increase in wages. The conservative men of the unions have been opposed to the demands which the men asked. They claimed that the Pittsburgh unions were forcing them to the demand, and they did not want to be placed in the position of "pulling chestnuts out of the fire" for the Pittsburgh men.

Suspended the Boilermakers.

TITUSVILLE, PA., June 24.—(Special.)—Nearly 150 boiler makers of the Titusville Iron Company are out of a job because of demands which their union was about to make on the firm. Having been told of what was about to be sprung on them, the management at noon today laid off the whole force indefinitely.

GODDESS OF ALL THE BLAST FURNACES GIVES SUCCESS TO THEIR FIERY WAY

SHARON, PA., June 24.—(Special.)—Miss Helen E. Reed is an unrivaled goddess of blast furnaces. All over Western Pennsylvania operators look upon her as the personification of good luck. She has started the fires in more furnaces than has any other young woman in the country, and the success that has attended the enterprises so inaugurated has been phenomenal.

Miss Helen E. Reed.

Miss Reed's fame has extended beyond the borders of this state, and the last fiery christening over which she presided was in Toledo, O. She went thither at the special request of the manager of Pickands, Mather & Co., to launch on its blazing way the $1,000,000 furnace of that corporation. Nowadays Miss Reed's services are in great demand. She seems to bewitch all the furnaces with her touch and makes failure impossible. Her home is in Sharpsville, where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philo Reed, reside.

BATTLED WITH OFFICERS.

Italians Successfully Use Revolvers in Fighting Off Railroad Police.

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 24.—A desperate revolver battle occurred between Detective Cyrus Powell of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and a brother officer, last night, against a half-dozen Italians who were barricaded in a box car in the Baltimore & Ohio yards, near here. The Italians had been selling liquor and fights had been frequent.

Last week the detectives made an unsuccessful attempt to arrest the men and last night another attempt was made. The Italians opened fire on the officers, who returned it. About 15 shots were fired, but no one was injured. Information will be made against the offenders.

Washington County Slav Got $5 for His Better Half and Gave Child to Boot.

DONORA, PA., June 24.—(Special.)—The strange case of a Donora man who is alleged to have sold his wife and child for $5 figured in Justice T. M. Potts' court at Canonsburg. The husband, a Slav with an unpronounceable name, is employed in the Hazel mines of the Pittsburgh and Buffalo company. When the two appeared before Justice Potts the woman was accompanied by a small child.

She declared that her husband had sold her for $5, the child being thrown in for good measure. The grievance of the woman was not that her husband had sold her, but she alleged he had stolen a trunk belonging to her. The case was compromised in the payment of costs.

DIGGER IN STONE QUARRY FALLS HEIR TO FORTUNE

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 24.—(Special.)—While laboring in a stone quarry here, with pick and shovel, Richard Quest has fallen heir to a fortune in England estimated at $50,000. QUARREL OVER CARD GAME RESULTED IN BLOODSHED

One Man Was Shot and Two Women Hurt in an Affray Near Monongahela City.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MONONGAHELA CITY, PA., June 24.—A game of cards at Courtney this evening will likely cost the lives of two women and one man. Joseph Bruno and Rosario Roano were playing cards at the latter's home with a keg of beer as a stake. Bruno was loser and refused to pay the bet.

This precipitated a fight between the men after which Bruno left the house and went to his home for a shotgun and returned to Roano's. In the meantime Roano procured a gun and lay in wait for Bruno. When near the house Bruno met Roano's wife and struck her on the head with the butt of his gun, laying the scalp open.

Roano sprang into the road and fired point blank at him, the entire charge entering his body. He fell to the ground unconscious. Roano seeing Bruno's wife who followed him felled her with a crashing blow. Neighbors who had been attracted to the scene disarmed Roano and stopped further bloodshed. Roano was placed under arrest and was sent to jail to await the result of Burno's injuries.

A specially fine line of young men's outing suits, for vacation wear, made from good quality imported homespuns and flannels, in two-piece style, reduced for this sale to 7.35.

Big drop in clothing prices---a chance to save ¼ to ½

all suits marked $8 $9 $10 & $12 now $6.00

all suits marked $13.50 $15 $16.50 & $18 now $10.00

any suit no matter what its marked now $16.00

RAINY and unseasonable weather is not conducive to large clothing sales. So, although sales lately have been in excess of last year's, they've not come up to our expectations. As a result, stocks are larger than they should be. Two or three weeks of bad weather right in the heart of a most important selling period means a great deal—it means that we must sell within the next thirty days as many suits as we would ordinarily sell in fifty. And there's only one way to thus double up sales, viz., CUT DOWN THE PRICES. Some stores would try and make the marking down of a few dozen or perhaps a hundred suits answer the purpose, but we don't. That's not our policy. "The Big Store" never conducts a sale in that half-hearted manner. "If a thing's worth doing at all, it's worth doing well"—that's our motto. Hence the reductions WE make are as sweeping as they are keen. We've simply divided our entire stock into 3 parts, from which you can take your choice at a discount of 25% to 50%

from the present marked prices. To faciliate matters, each part of our stock has been placed on a separate section of the big clothing floor and indicated by a large sign.

Part "A" — choice 6.00 — Contains all those suits which are marked $8, $9, $10 and $12

Part "B" — choice 10.00 — Contains all those suits which are marked $13.50, $15, $16.50 and $18

Part "C" — choice 16.00 — Contains all those suits which are marked $20, $22, $25 and $30

Each and every suit in our entire stock is classified in one or the other of the above three lots, with three exceptions—the full dress suits, uniforms and coachmen's liveries. (All men's raincoats are also included.) And you're absolutely sure here that you get the reductions, for you, yourself, make them. We don't show you a garment marked $6.00 and tell you it was reduced from $10.00 or $12.00, but the old price remains intact—you take off the discount yourself. Our entire pants stock is also subject to equally big discounts.

All $2.48 and $2.98 pants, now 1.75—all $4.00, $4.50 and $5.00 pants, now 3.00—all $5.50, $6.50 and $7.00 pants, now 4.50

With such offers as the above in force, clothing selling in other stores will practically come to a standstill. Will you be one of the thousands of men who will benefit by this severe price cutting?

HARVARD SCRUBS TOOK FIRST RACE

The Yale Crews Are the Favorites for the Big Events on the Thames Today.

CREWS ARE AT POUGHKEEPSIE

GALES FERRY, CONN., June 24.—Harvard took the first trick in the racing game today by winning the freshman four-oared race. This scrub contest, although unimportant compared with the events of tomorrow, has nevertheless been awaited with a good deal of interest. The race was for three-quarters of a mile down river from the regular starting line.

Both crews got away smartly at the pistol shot, fired at 12:30, the Yale crew taking a slight lead which the Harvard freshmen quickly overcome. Throughout the race there was never clear water between the two boats, and the advantage alternated, each boat having the lead several times. At the finish Harvard was about three-quarters of a length ahead. The time was three minutes.

Hundreds of students, graduates and friends of Yale and Harvard are here to witness the struggle tomorrow on the Thames for aquatic honors. The odds still rule in favor of Yale today at 5 to 4 in the 'varsity race and 3 to 1 in the freshman race. Nevertheless, even the most sanguine of the New Haven partisans acknowledge that the crimson 'varsity has a good fighting chance. The crew's improvement in the past few days has been well marked. The freshmen from the Charles river have also taken a brace. The chief trouble with the crimson oarsmen has been their halt on recover.

Harvard's Improved Form.

For the past week their patient efforts had apparently failed to overcome this failing. But yesterday they received beautifully, their stroke was even and their sweep clean. All these facts carefully noted and passed about at the Red Top headquarters caused an immediate boom in Harvard stock. The betting had been black and lacking in spirit. These hopeful reports opened up scores of wallets and has loosened reluctant rolls.

The Yale freshman crew is concededly the fastest that has ever been seen on the river. The speed developed by the first year crew is simply terrific. The Yale freshman crew is entered in the American Henley, to be rowed in Philadelphia on July 2, and they will go right on training for the event.

Critics are not impressed by the work of Harvard's four. Their stroke is heavy and the boat almost comes to a standstill between. Unless tomorrow's race this crew will be kept in training for the American Henley in Philadelphia. It is expected to make a rousing showing at that regatta.

So great is the confidence of the blue followers in their freshman crew that a number of bets were made in New London last night that the first year crew would beat the 'varsity Cambridge youngsters by a margin of 15 seconds.

A number of yachts arrived in New London early in the day, among them the Sylph, with Mr. Theodore Roosevelt and her daughter, Alice.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 24.—So far as time trials are of any value, the evidence is all in favor of Cornell. It was forecasted tonight that the 'varsity eight went over the four-mile course last evening in 19:05, which is 24 seconds faster than any other crew has made, according to the tips the various coaches have allowed to become known.

The opposition coaches did not seem much perturbed when they heard the time made by Cornell. Columbia's crew protested something of the kind. Coach Hanlon reiterated the statement that Columbia is 30 seconds faster than the crew of last year which made 20:13 5 in the race. The best time Columbia has given out since it came to Poughkeepsie is 19:40. Pennsylvania, according to Coach Ward, has covered the course in 19:25. No time has been given out by Wisconsin, Georgetown or Syracuse.

Weather conditions were considerably improved this evening, and no case of physical distress was reported. Every crew except Georgetown was on the river.

Western Crew Works Well.

The three Wisconsin crews were taken up the river to the two-mile point, whence the eights and a brush of three-quarters of a mile, in which the 'varsity gained a length on the freshmen, and the practice was concluded with some racing starts in which all took part. The Wisconsin crews will probably have a row-ing with a short paddle tomorrow. Then they will rest until they go to the line.

That the 'varsity rowing race on Friday will be contested by Columbia for final honors is the belief of Edward Hanlon. He said this evening: "To make a definite prediction as to the results of the 'varsity race, in my opinion, it will be between Columbia and Cornell. I am inclined to favor Columbia's prospects."

THE TENNIS EXPERT.

Womne's National Championship Tourney Starts on a Very Soggy Field.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 24.—The women's national championship tennis tournament in singles, doubles and mixed doubles began today on the grounds of the Philadelphia Cricket club in Wissahickon Heights. The weather conditions were not favorable, but despite this there was a large attendance of tennis enthusiasts. The recent rains left the courts soggy and the footing uncertain. For this reason first-class tennis was out of the question. The result of the first day's play follows:

Women's championship singles, preliminary round—Miss Miriam Hall of California defeated Miss Helen F. Courtney of Philadelphia, 6-3, 6-0. Miss C. B. Neely, Chicago, defeated Miss Mary Coates, Philadelphia, 6-1, 6-0. Six others drew byes.

First round—Miss Marjorie Oberteuffer, Philadelphia, defeated Miss Gertrude Fetterman, Philadelphia, 6-2, 6-3. Miss Elizabeth H. Moore, New York, defeated Miss Miriam Hall, California, 6-1, 6-3. Miss C. B. Neely, Chicago, defeated Miss Clara Chase, Philadelphia, 6-0, 6-1. Miss Helen P. Chapman, Philadelphia, defeated Miss Corinne Mock, Philadelphia, 6-1, 8-6. The ladies' doubles and the mixed doubles will be started tomorrow.

The championship round in the men's doubles for the championship of Pennsylvania was also decided this afternoon, Dallas Allen and Carroll M. Bunting, the present champions, defeating L. E. Mahan and Samuel Collom. The score was 6-1, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2.

TENNIS TOURNEY.

Annual Championship Affair Will Be Held Next Week.

The fifteenth annual lawn tennis tournament for the championship of Western Pennsylvania will be held on the courts of the Pittsburgh Field club, Braddock avenue, East End, Monday, July 6, and following days.

Events will be singles and doubles, and first and second-prize play will be given in each. Entries close Saturday, July 4, at 9 p. m., and should be sent to S. W. B. Moorhead, 405 Keystone building, telephone C. D. & P. T. Court, 1485, or to any member of the committee. Entries for doubles will be received until noon on Tuesday, July 7.

Take Wilkinsburg and East Pittsburgh, or Swissvale, Rankin and Braddock car to Braddock avenue. Play will begin each day at 1 p. m., and any player not reporting by 5:15 p. m. may be defaulted. No admission fee will be charged.

BOBBY WALTHOUR BREAKS WORLD'S MOTOR RECORD

Covers Five Miles of Last Heat in 6:06, Which Lowers Joe Nelson's Mark.

Bobby Walthour of Atlanta, Ga., broke the world's record for five miles last night at the Colosseum for paced bike racing by doing the distance in 6:06, just three-fifths of a second slower than the mark made by Joe Nelson one week ago. Walthour, who gave a fine exhibition of riding behind motor in his heat with Howard Freeman of Portland, Ore., in the first heat of a 15-mile race between these two riders and Howard Meetling of Boston, negotiated the distance of five miles in 6:22.

This heat brought Walthour and Freeman together. Walthour soon forged ahead and had his opponent one lap behind at the third mile, when Freeman punctured a tire and dropped out of the heat. The time equalled the track record held by Albert Champion. Meetling showed his superiority over Freeman in the second heat, winning by one lap and almost one-half. At the finish of the heat Meetling was about six lengths behind the westerner. The third and final heat, of course, brought Walthour and Meetling in competition, and right at the very start it was patent that the southern youth was out for a record. He led by the length of a tire, finally increasing the margin one-half lap in the first mile, making it a lap in the second, another half in the third, two in the fourth, two and one-half in the fifth, and by a sensational sprint made it three laps, or one-half mile, ahead of his strong rival. Cheers greeted him by the 2,000 spectators when he pulled up in front of the judges' stand.

The motor-paced event was an added feature to the six-days' race, which was to have started Monday, but was postponed that night and also Tuesday night on account of the rain. For a while last night there was apprehension that the race would have to be called before it went to a finish, as ominous clouds hung over the park. However, the motor-paced was put on and then the start of the six-days' race.

The six-day men furnished lots of excitement for the spectators. As an inducement for fast going an additional prize of $2 was offered for the winner of each mile, and the spring for the money by the riders were appreciated by the spectators. Frank Kramer, the champion sprinter of the world, was a favorite with the crowd. On one or two occasions he was pocketed. Summaries:

15-mile motor-paced, first heat—Bobby Walthour, Atlanta, Ga., first; Howard Freeman, Portland, Ore., second. Time, 6:22. Time of miles, 1:17, 1:18, 1:18, 1:17, 1:15. Second heat—Howard Meetling, Boston, first; Freeman, second. Time, 6:39 2-5. Time by miles, 1:18, 1:19, 1:18, 1:17, 1:17 2-5. Third heat, Walthour first, Meetling second. Time, 6:06. AFTER THE JOCKEYS.

Steeplechase Stewards Suspend One Rider.

NEW YORK, June 24.—The stewards of the National Steeplechase and Hunt association today announced the suspension of Steeplechase Jockey H. S. Wilson for the remainder of the meeting for careless riding. The announcement was the result of their investigation of the introductory steeplechase at Sheepshead Bay last Saturday. Wilson had the mount on Tip Gallant and, it is alleged, pulled him in the final sixteenth, when he seemed a sure winner, and Mystic Shrine reached the winning post in front.

It is intimated that an inquiry now on foot will lead to the suspension of at least five other jockeys.

Easy for the Normals.

SLIPPERY ROCK, June 24.—(Special.)—The Normals took an easy game from the New Castle A. C. yesterday by a score of 9 to 1. Saturday's victory is no trouble in winning from Freedom. Davis pitched great ball. Adams was also effective, but the locals got hits when they meant runs. The same teams play tomorrow. Score:

Freedom	0	1	0

Batteries—Davis and Bard; Adams and Miller.

English Lacrosse Team Won.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 24.—The Cambridge and Oxford lacrosse team defeated the Swarthmore college team today at Manheim by 8 goals to 3. From the beginning Swarthmore began to push their opponents and four goals within 20 minutes was the result. It took the visitors some little time to get their bearings, but when they did they quickly placed a sufficient number of goals to their credit to give them the victory.

NEWS OF THE HOME AND THE SOCIETY WORLD

SOCIETY — WOMEN'S CLUBS

ONE of the many beautiful home weddings of this season was the marriage of Miss Amelia Stenger and James Irwin Rees last evening at the home of the bride's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard J. Stenger, in Forbes and Murdock avenue, Squirrel Hill. The house, which the Stengers have occupied only a few months, moving there from Homestead, was filled with a large number of wedding guests. The marriage was performed at 7 o'clock in the drawing room by the Rev. Father Bullion, pastor of St. Mary Magdalene's Roman Catholic church of Homestead. Exquisite decorations prevailed throughout the house, and the bridal party stood before a hedge of peonies, pink and white, against a background of tall towering palms. The bride was attended by Miss Beatrice Schoellkopf of Niagara Falls, who was her only maid, and Thomas Musgrave Rees, a brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. There were two ushers, Robert C. Stenger, a brother of the bride, and Douglass Ayres. The bride was given away by her father. She wore a beautiful gown of heavy white duchess satin fashioned with the full court train, over which fell the long bridal veil of tulle. The gown was trimmed with much rose pointe lace which appeared upon the skirt in flounces and medallions, and almost covered the bodice. The bride carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid appeared in a gown of white chiffon trimmed with lace and carried a cluster of American Beauty roses.

The decorations of the Stenger home, which is one of the handsome colonial houses which have been erected in the Squirrel Hill district, were very elaborate. In the drawing room they consisted of a mass towering tropical plants and peonies. The mantels were banked with smaller plants, and the asparagus plumosus lent grace and delicacy to the wealth of floral decoration which appeared throughout the house. Roses were employed in large quantities in the library, the dining room and breakfast room, while the chandeliers in each apartment were wreathed with flowers and tulle. Supper was served at small tables placed within the house in the dining room and breakfast room, upon piazzas and on the lawn. All the piazzas were inclosed with wicker screens and covered with canopies, which converted them into delightful promenades and smoking rooms, and a canopy lead from them to the large lawn at the rear of the house.

The bride was introduced to society a couple of seasons ago at a large reception which Mrs. Stenger gave at the Schenley, where they were spending the winter. She is very musical and a well-known singer. Much of last year she spent abroad in company with the Schoellkopfs of Niagara Falls, and it was after her return a few months ago that her engagement to Mr. Rees was announced. She is a member of the Pittsburgh chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution of the Dolly Madison chapter, United States Daughters of 1812, and of the Tuesday musical club. Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Rees left for an extended wedding trip. They will be at home with Mr. and Mrs. Stenger in Squirrel Hill. Paul Schoellkopf of Niagara Falls accompanied the party to Pittsburgh for the wedding, and both are being entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Stenger.

Milligan, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Canton, in the presence of several hundred guests. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Kate Barber, and the bridegroom by his brother, Stephen Day. For the wedding dinner the bride's table was set in the dining room and was surrounded by Mrs. McKinley and the members of the Day and Barber families. When the first piece of the McKinleys was married the late president said that he would have the same bridal presents when their turns came and ordered for Miss Mabel McKinley, now Mrs. Dr. Baer, a massive silver service. It was duplicated by Mrs. McKinley for Miss Mary Barber last fall and again for the bride last evening. Several railroads are in course of construction, and some would be operating were it not impossible to secure railroad ties. The amount of railroad construction the past two years has been very scarce. Fully $50,000,000 of American capital has been taken into Mexico during the past five years. A little English capital is being invested in the country.

LUTHER DAY, The Bridegroom at the Wedding in Canton, O., Yesterday.

JUNE DAYS ARE TOO RARE BUT JUNE BRIDES ARE NOT

Climatic conditions or other hindrances have not blighted the June wedding. Although the June days that have visited Pittsburgh have been much to rare, this crop of June brides has not failed. From present indications the number of licenses to wed issued during the current month will exceed any month in the history of Allegheny county.

At the close of yesterday's business 1,173 licenses had been issued, and with real summer weather coming a continuance of the present record-breaking rate is looked for. The rush has been greatest during the last few days, and on Tuesday, Marriage License Clerk Walker issued 97 licenses.

The marriage license office has presented an interesting spectacle during the rush, and each of the busy days saw a crowd of coming brides and grooms stand four and five feet deep about the clerk's office waiting patiently for their turn. Those waiting get much amusement from the replies of their predecessors as they lay bare their family histories.

RESERVES ENJOY ANNUAL REUNION

Defenders of the Keystone State Attend Convention at Harrisburg.

ARE MANY GAPS IN THE RANKS

Statute of Curtin Urged Thirteen Comrades of the Fifth Regiment Have Died Died During the Year—Organization Will Be Continued.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
HARRISBURG, PA., June 24.

The survivors of the famous Pennsylvania reserves have come to Harrisburg and pitched their tents along the banks of the Susquehanna river to renew old friendships and discuss their achievements in the Civil war. Headquarters have been established at the Commonwealth hotel and each regiment has a tent in Riverside park at the foot of Market street as a rallying point.

Conspicuous among the survivors of the reserves are the members of the famous Bucktail regiment, 54 of the 268 survivors being here to attend the reunion, which began today and will close tomorrow night, after which many of the veterans will journey to Gettysburg to visit the battlefield.

A business session was held this morning at the court house at which ex-Judge Robert M. Henderson of Carlisle was elected president. A resolution was adopted to continue the association until the last survivor has been mustered out. The president was authorized to appoint a commitee consisting of one representative from each of the 15 regiments of reserves, to petition the next legislature to erect a monument to Governor Curtin in Capitol park, this city.

A general reunion of the veterans was held this afternoon at which Governor Pennypacker made an address on behalf of the state. Addresses were also made by ex-Judge Henderson and ex-Senator William Penn Lloyd of Mechanicsburg. The governor said that there can be no greater satisfaction in any man's life than to be able to say that he belonged to the Pennsylvania reserves. No other state than Pennsylvania had an entire division in the service in the Civil war.

A campfire was held this evening at which addresses were made by Adjutant General Stewart, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic; Edwin Walter, department commander, and R. H. Holgate, of the Sixth reserves. During the evening exhibition and calisthenic drills were given by the girls and boys from the Soldiers' Orphan school at Scotland.

A business session will be held tomorrow morning, after which reunions will be held by the various regimental organizations. A reunion of the Fifth reserves was held this afternoon at which the roll was called and 17 comrades were reported as having died since last year's meeting.

STOCK MARKETS CLOSED LOWER

Gold Exports and Selling of United States Steel Bonds Depressed Wall Street—Decline in Local Trust Stocks Yesterday.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

For about three hours yesterday the eastern stock market was a repetition of that of the day before. The dealings were very light and the fluctuations narrow, except in a few specialties. In the last hour, however, the tone became heavy and prices closed near the lowest. Foreign stock markets were in a similar condition of dullness and the operations for London account here were unimportant. Prices opened firm and an advance was in progress, when the announcement was made that $1,500,000 gold had been engaged for export to Paris today. This checked the advancing tendency, but the professional element was bullish for a turn, and there appeared to be a little sentiment in the matter of greeting J. P. Morgan's return from Europe with an advancing market. For a time prices were fairly well sustained, but in the final dealings the gains were all lost. Colorado Fuel and Iron was the most active of the specialties and the fluctuations in it were the widest. Selling by the prominent purchasers of the day before caused a reaction of 2½ per cent to 67¾, from which there was a strong rally to 69¾, the close being at 69½. The latest gossip relating to the stock was that a new issue was in contemplation, which would be taken by Gould-Rockefeller interests and not only furnish the company with needed funds, but give control to these new interests. The heavy transactions in Pennsylvania rights, which sold below a dollar, had a depressing effect upon the stock, which declined to and closed at 123¾. Baltimore & Ohio, St. Paul and the Pacific stocks sold off about a point, and the low-priced issues declined large fractions, while some pressure on the traction stocks closed the entire group at the lowest prices.

It was generally conceded that the heavy selling of United States Steel new 5s was largely responsible for the decline in the market in the late dealings. These bonds sold at the opening at 88¾, but later declined to 82¼, closing at 82⅞. This is the lowest price quoted since the bonds were admitted to the stock exchange list. The selling was by a house which had bought about $1,000,000 last week, when it was supposed that the syndicate was buying the preferred stock and exchanging the same into bonds. It was estimated that this house sold about $3,000,000 so far this week. The transaction naturally resulted in many conjectures as to the principal back of the sales, and Wall street was inclined to believe that the unloading was for account of Mr. Schwab. Despite the latter's very emphatic denial that he had or contemplated resigning his position as head of the corporation, the street continued to discuss the probabilities of the situation, and gossip went so far as to again select Mr. Frick as successor to the presidency. There need be no disguising the fact that this has become a very live topic in financial circles. The person who occupies the position of head of a billion-dollar corporation is necessarily very much in the public eye. Even his private affairs become a matter of public interest, and when these affairs get into the courts this interest is all the more justified. This must be the excuse for the reference in this column to the rumors of the day. The latter influenced the market value of United States Steel stocks, the common declining to 29⅝ and the preferred to 79½, although the latter recovered to 80 on the final sale. Whatever influences the steel stocks is bound to have a dominating effect. United States Steel is looked upon as the pivot of the market. The capital is divided into more than 10,000,000 shares, and the latter are distributed among a larger number of investors and speculators than the securities of any other corporation in the world.

Other influences upon the stock market yesterday were the advance in grain and the outburst of speculative excitement in cotton, the price of which made another new high record. The strength in grain was accompanied by reports that the spring wheat territory was suffering for rain, a circumstance serving to emphasize the vagaries of the weather this year. As stated, $1,500,000 gold was taken for export, making $22,000,000 shipped to Europe and South America since this movement began last April. Call loan rates remained easy and unchanged, but there was some discussion as to the probable showing that will be made by the banks on Saturday. The statement will be affected not only by the outgo of gold, but by the preparations being made for semi-annual settlements, and it so happens that the latter come at a time when the market is taking care of the subscriptions for the Pennsylvania railroad stock, the first payment on which will be made on Saturday. It is generally supposed that this money will be used by the company to liquidate the loan of $40,000,000 advanced by the banks six months ago, so that to some extent the financing of this first payment on subscriptions will be a matter of bookkeeping, so far as the banks are concerned.

While the transactions in bank and trust company stocks did not contribute largely to the total sales on the Pittsburgh exchange yesterday, the dealings were of chief interest in the local market. Colonial Trust sold at 555 and 550, the latter representing a drop of $54 a share from the last previous sale, last Friday, and a decline of $110 a share from the price quoted on June 15, when the first announcement was made of the Farmers Deposit being included in the deal. At the close of the market 550 was bid for the stock and 555 asked. There were no sales of American Trust, and the stock was nominally quoted at 491 bid, 500 asked. Farmers Deposit National was quoted at 1,700 bid, 1,745 asked, but no stock changed hands. Safe Deposit sold at 457½, a decline of 7½ per cent, and Real Estate Trust was 4 per cent lower at 290. A block of 25 shares First National Bank of Wilkinsburg changed hands at 602½, an advance of $302½ a share from the last previous sale some months ago, the advance being based upon the announcement that the bank would be absorbed by a newly formed trust company organized by practically the same people who control the bank.

The industrial list was dull and with a few exceptions lower. The largest dealings were in Philadelphia Company, which declined to 41½ on sales of 709 shares. Westinghouse Airbrake sold at 156 and 157, but another day passed without its transaction in Westinghouse Electric, which was quoted at 94½@95. The steel and coal stocks were dull and only fractionally changed.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The reaction in progress in the stocks involved in the pending bank and trust company consolidation represents the effort of the market to adjust values to the supposed terms of the deal. The prompt announcement of the Farmers Deposit National bank to its stockholders that they would receive 3½ shares of new Colonial stock for one of the bank, or 700 shares for 200, a decline of $54 a share from the last previous sale on last Friday, and a decline of $110 a share from the price reached a week ago last Saturday, when the scope of the consolidation was announced. The speculative holdings of this stock are probably more largely distributed than those of any other similar stock for the market. Several months ago there was a very general "tip" in the street that the stock would sell at $1,000 a share, and in April the record price of $726 was reached, as compared with $570 in April a year ago. Speculation was largely responsible for the recent rise, and the liquidation of speculative accounts is responsible for the present decline. The fluctuations have nothing whatever to do with the legitimate affairs of the institution itself, but the movement is severe upon the speculators who bought on margin. The movement in American Trust was even more highly speculative than that in Colonial, and the success of the manipulation was largely responsible for the many imitators who subsequently entered the field. The announcement in the circular issued by the Farmers Deposit National, that the deal would be negotiated on the basis of "actual values," and would be subject to a verification of the combined assets, is what started the reaction in the market.

The directors of the Allegheny Trust Company have declared their regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent, payable July 1.

The recent action of the Iron City Trust in charging out of its surplus $850,000, representing the Union Realty Company asset, and bringing its scheduled assets down to a cash basis, has been responsible for discussion as to the policy pursued by other trust companies with respect to similar items. Regarding the Commonwealth Trust Company, Mr. John W. Herron, the president, stated yesterday that the real estate business acquired by the trust company from William A. Herron & Sons and Robert L. Barker, does not now and never did figure in the surplus reported by the company. The $1,000,000 surplus and the $140,000 undivided profits reported by the Commonwealth Trust Company represents cash or its equivalent, and no part of it represents what might be called the earning power of the business acquired from the real estate firm absorbed.

New York yesterday reported a private transaction of 15,000 Pennsylvania rights at 81. Public sales were at ⅝@1, and dealings at those prices were quite large.

Some of the more conservative local commission house men are taking some satisfaction out of the decline in the trust company stocks. Following the announcement of the enlarged scope of the Colonial-American deal there were numerous traders who desired to buy these stocks on margin. Some of the speculators thought a margin of $50 a share ample, and when they were raised to put up all the way from $100 to $200 a share, the demand was regarded as exorbitant. Brokers would gladly have taken the business if they could have used the stocks as collateral in loans on a plus account basis, but the figures demanded by speculators; but bankers were demanding equally broad margins and insisting that they be kept good. Hence a good many orders were "countermanded" and in some instances bad feeling resulted. But the course of the market the past two weeks demonstrates that $50 or $100 a share margin would not have been ample protection for the broker.

Mr. A. E. Masten will leave for Chicago tonight as the representative of the Pittsburgh stock exchange at the conference of stock exchanges and boards of trade, to be held in that city on Friday. All the prominent exchanges in the country, with the exception of the New York stock exchange, will be represented at the conference, the object of which is the adoption of uniform rules, etc., which will tend to strengthen and value the standard of membership.

For the third consecutive day there were no transactions on the local board in Westinghouse Electric. The stock was quoted at 94¼ bid, 95 asked.

A small lot of Manufacturers Light & Heat sold at 40, an advance of ⅝. The 1½ per cent quarterly dividend now declared is payable July 20 to stock of record July 10.

The Pittsburgh Malleable Iron Company has declared a regular quarterly dividend of 2½ per cent and an extra dividend of 2½ per cent, both payable July 10.

The quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent declared by the Standard Security Company is payable July 1.

The sale of 25 shares First National bank of Wilkinsburg at 602½ establishes a new high price for the stock, and an advance of $102.50 a share over the last previous sale in February, when a small lot of the stock sold at 500. The rise was based upon the announcement that the bank would be absorbed by the Wilkinsburg Real Estate & Trust Company, an institution just organized by interests controlling the bank, on the basis of six shares of trust company stock for one share of the bank stock.

The American Tobacco Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent on the preferred stock and 3 per cent on the common.

The gross earnings of the Tidewater Steel Company for May were $206,000, the largest for any month on record.

The gross earnings of Missouri Pacific for the third week in June increased $52,000. For the same week Wabash increased $48,000. The figures are particularly gratifying, considering the interruption in the territory of both roads by the recent floods.

Wall street had a rumor yesterday that an extra session of congress in August was among the probabilities, the object being the consideration of a currency bill.

There was an auction sale in New York yesterday of 5 shares Trust Company of the Republic, which attracted some attention. The bidding started at 28 and the stock sold at 30½.

President Stuyvesant Fish says: "Illinois Central will not increase its dividend. This is absolute. We will earn this year between 10 and 11 per cent on the stock. We considered making the dividend quarterly, but this will not be acted on for at least one year, when we will have completed 100 consecutive dividends. Negotiations looking to an agreement with the Frisco over the New Orleans extension are pending. We have offered liberal terms and are up to the Frisco to accept or decline."

The Guarantee Title & Trust Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent, payable July 1 to stock of record June 27.

The board of directors of the Allegheny Company have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent, payable July 1, 1903, to stock of record at the close of business June 20, 1903.

The Hazelwood Oil Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent and an extra dividend of 1 per cent.

The bond market continues extremely unsatisfactory, as evidenced by the recent sales. This week the only bid for the city of Boston $1,000,000 3½ per cent issue, comprised of $1,000,000 one-year bonds issued to Paul Moon, treasurer. $500,000 40-year Cambridge bridge, $476,000 20-year municipal, $50,000 20-year Cabot street bath house, $5,000 20-year North Cohasset bonds, $500,000 50-year sewer bonds, was 100.04, by a syndicate consisting of Estabrooke & Co., R. L. Day & Co. and Blake Bros. & Co. This bid amounts to a premium of only $1,000 on the entire loan. The bonds were awarded to this syndicate.

The net earnings of Jersey Central for May increased $316,189.

For several years Mr. Morgan's return from his annual vacation in Europe has been made a bull demonstration in the stock market. Even a day's passage of the steamship bearing him was reflected in the various points after she was sighted, but the stock market failed to respond. Some of the quantities regarding the companies connected with Mr. Morgan's name as having dealings have been the subject of unseen conjectures which may account for the changed attitude towards his home coming.

Money was higher in London yesterday and discounts hardened in Paris and in Berlin. The Berlin rate fell away at both centers. This leaves the question of the gold exports from New York still open in spite of an easing in the sterling rate here.

New York had a story that the $40,000,000 Pennsylvania railroad loan negotiated last January does not mature until the middle of July and that therefore it could not be paid off here at the end of the month. The payment on stock subscriptions to be received Saturday. A Pittsburgh banker said that the derangement was that when the loan was floated it was in the shape of a call loan, and could therefore be liquidated any time desired.

THE MONEY MARKET.

The local money market remains firm and unchanged at 5@6 per cent on call and time loans. Clearing house comparisons:

The following table summarizes returns to the comptroller of the currency for a number of cities and states, giving the percentage of legal reserve deposits on June 6, as compared with April 9, and also with July 16 of last year. It will be seen that in general there has been an improvement over the April reports, but that this has not been universal, and that there are a number of exceptions. As a whole the returns show that the demands upon the banks are still heavy.

The Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, June 24.—The drygoods market is tending upwards and prices are being continually revised. Efforts are being made in a good many instances to restrict buyers from making as liberal purchases as they might desire on account of the inability to fill many of the orders which have already been taken. The scarcity of cotton is becoming a serious factor with the manufacturer, especially in the south.

MORE STEEL RAIL ORDERS PLACED

Heavy Tonnage Is Secured by Local Mills for Delivery Next Year at Former Prices.

BESSEMER SUPPLIES ARE SHORT

Manufacturers Contemplate Large Improvements This Summer—Foundry Iron in Better Demand—Structural Material and Sheets Move Slowly.

Following close on the news of the establishment of prices for steel rails for 1904, which will remain the same as those now in force, came the purchase of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and other leading lines, aggregating 400,000 tons, and this has, in turn, been followed by the apparently well authorized report that within the last two days the Carnegie mills of the United States Steel Corporation have booked orders for 300,000 tons of steel rails, at $28 a ton, for delivery. This amount, added to those already booked, makes a total of rail orders now in hand for shipment next year, of 800,000 tons, to be filled by the local mills of the Steel Corporation alone. This will have a good effect on the whole iron and steel market, the heavy buying which has been done by railroad companies within the past week having already influenced all branches of the iron industry to a considerable extent.

Bessemer steel producers are still troubled with a shortage of stock and are behind with shipments. Prices remain virtually the same as those which prevailed a week ago, and buying is not heavy, as specifications from consumers are coming in freely. Consumers have curtailed their orders for some time, not wishing to have large accumulations on hand when the annual time for stock taking comes around, which will be during July and August, and this practice of ordering as lightly as possible has continued so long manufacturers find they are running too close to the shore, and are calling for iron in larger quantities to take care of their requirements. New business is limited, and heavy buying is not expected during June, for mills will be closing down for repairs and improvements in a short time. It is thought there will be a very general halt in manufactures this summer as mills have all been making money and are, therefore, in position to make extensive improvements, with a view to increasing capacities, and this they are very anxious to do.

Foundry Iron Stiffer.

Foundry iron is stiffening up with demand much more active than it was several weeks ago, although there has been no further advance in prices. One large local consumer has been clamoring for a round lot of a certain grade of foundry needed for mixture, which it has been unable to secure promptly, although offering inducements to be placed on the ground floor, and in line for first attention. This grade is now getting started and are now moving well, and the rush of orders to jobbing houses will soon make up for lost time. A very large business in screen goods, refrigerators, ice cream freezers and goods of like kind is expected. Shipments of mills and wire continue heavy, large quantities evidently being used. A growing demand is noted in iron cut nails of all sizes, many of the trade apparently preferring them for certain kinds of work, to the wire nail. Builders' hardware is moving out in very good quantities, in spite of the current labor troubles in the building trades, and, with a solution of the difficulties causing strikes, there will undoubtedly be a great increase in demand, which will make business large. Albion tools are moving freely into the hands of the trade. The bicycle business has been going along at a fairly good rate, more particularly for the last day or two. Masury paints, oils and varnishes continue to go into the hands of dealers and consumers, this being the height of the season. The volume of business is something unprecedented in this particular line. Window glass moves very freely at present prices, and indications seem to point to a slightly higher figures in the near future. Fair quantities of glass are being bought, the trade apparently purchasing for wants, which are of course bound by the demand on account of building.

BILL ANTHONY'S WIDOW REMEMBERS BENEFACTOR

Lays Humble Wreath on Casket of William R. Bell, the Pittsburgh Correspondent.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The funeral of William R. Bell, the well-known correspondent for the Pittsburgh Leader, was held this afternoon from his late residence, No. 304 S. Street, Northeast. The services were conducted by the Rev. E. Slater Dunlap, assistant rector of St. John's church, and was participated in by members of Washington Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles. A large proportion of the Washington corps of correspondents was present. At 10:45 o'clock tonight the remains were taken to Indiana, Pa., where they will be interred tomorrow.

The floral offerings were magnificent and lavish, testifying to the high esteem in which Mr. Bell was held by his acquaintances. Among these tributes was a modest wreath of roses which bore the card of Mrs. Anthony. It was the humble remembrance of a woman whom Mr. Bell had befriended in her hour of trouble, and who had not forgotten his kindness.

When the Maine was blown up in Havana harbor, Bill Anthony sprang into fame by his announcement of the terrible catastrophe to Capt. Sigsbee. Within two years Anthony died, leaving his wife and little child without means and dependent upon the widow's efforts for support. Mrs. Anthony made an effort to get a position in one of the departments, and Mr. Bell, learning of her circumstances, interested himself in her behalf and through his efforts, she obtained the position, which she still holds. This happened several years ago, and the matter had probably passed from Mr. Bell's mind long since, but Mrs. Anthony's gratitude for the action was touchingly shown in the humble wreath which she laid upon his casket.

LITTLE CHANGE IN IRON SITUATION

Buyers of Iron and Steel Are Still Waiting for Further Shading.

SOME PURCHASING ABROAD

Western Roads Are Not Yet Placing Their Orders for Rails—Melters Maneuvering for Position for the Third and Fourth Quarters.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, June 24.

The Iron Age tomorrow will say: The past week has not brought very material changes in the iron markets. The great majority of buyers persist in an attitude of reserve and there is a growing disposition to make concessions to them. Much is made of the opening of the books of the steel rail manufacturers for 1904 orders at $28. It appears that the western roads have placed about 200,000 tons, with considerable additional business pending. The Pennsylvania railroad is credited with having placed 300,000 tons with the mills along its lines, but generally speaking the eastern lines have not yet ordered. One point to be taken into consideration in connection with the rail situation for 1904, is that the Lackawanna company will be in full operation, with a tonnage which will remove any danger of scarcity. The Harrimans have also placed 100,000 tons with foreign makers, but have not yet closed for the 50,000 tons to be ordered from domestic mills.

From all quarters come the reports that in foundry pig iron a volume of business is being done in round numbers for prompt delivery, which contrasts very favorably with the rate of purchases made during the past few months. This, however, is merely proof of the fact that melters are down to the bone in their maneuvering for position for the third and fourth quarters. All the leading buyers are watching the market closely and inquiries are numerous and important, but the real buying movement has not yet set in. In the meantime prices are still weakening. In the central west northern makers have gone even below the equivalent of actual Birmingham prices.

It is interesting to note that a good deal of tonnage of foreign foundry iron which was ordered on from abroad has been transferred to domestic producers, the importers selling their foreign iron abroad and covering on this side. This practically puts an end to this extraordinary and abnormal movement, except that there is considerable temptation still to buy foreign foundry iron for drawback on export of manufactures. Lately the agricultural implement makers have been closely studying the possibilities in this direction, not only in steel, but also in pig iron.

The Lake Superior pipemakers continue to do a heavy business. In addition to the Brooklyn contract for 5,500 tons an order for 10,000 tons for the same city's requirements is now being placed.

The steel market has been quiet, although some round lots have been placed. There is some inquiry but lower prices are being made. Foreign steel is being offered at $27 50 to $28, but little business is being done.

Bars are still weak, both east and west, while steel bars are being specified for more liberally. Our Chicago correspondent notes the selling of a lot of 3,000 tons of hoops to cover season require. ments. In a word, while the lighter lines independent manufacturers are setting the pace by making some concessions.

LOCAL FARMERS WANT WARMER WEATHER

Too Much Rain Destroying Crops—High Price of Cash Wheat Makes Flour Firm.

Dire disaster is predicted by farmers in this neighborhood for growing crops unless warm weather comes and comes quickly. Prices for all home-grown vegetables are much higher than the average for this time of year, while the outlook for later produce is very poor if there is a much longer continuance of the cold and wet. Warmth is needed, for the ground as it is at present chills the vegetable life of the plants, making them unproductive. Peas rule at $3 per bushel, three times as high as the average for the season. Spinach, which is usually a drug on the market in June, selling for whatever it will bring, now commands 75 cents to $1 a bushel, and is scarce at that. So it is throughout the list of home produce, with very few exceptions. Strawberries were very scarce yesterday and prices held firm. Red raspberries also come forward freely and quotations are lower. Black raspberries and blackberries are unchanged.

The wheat market continues to rule firm, and flour is also strong. Advices from Minneapolis state that cash wheat in that city is nearly 2 cents a bushel higher than at any other time so far during the current year. Mills are advancing flour quotations, and local bakers have withdrawn all concessions and some have put prices forward. Cereal foods remain strong, with an advancing tendency.

Demand for canned goods, futures is phenomenal, retailers taking hold with greater eagerness than ever before, and jobbers are having all the orders they can handle. Peas are selling at about last year's prices, crops in Virginia and North Carolina having been good.

Hay and grain are unchanged, with the market firm. No advance occurred in oats yesterday, but dealers are not pressing for long deferred, and are holding themselves in readiness for higher quotations at any time.

Butter, eggs, cheese and poultry all remain as quoted yesterday morning, with markets steady for all lines.

PRICES RULED HIGHER IN CHICAGO WHEAT PIT

Urgent Short Demand Gave Market a Bullish Tendency. Corn and Oats Higher.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, June 24.—Considerable excitement was witnessed in the wheat pit today and prices were decidedly strong. July closing 1½c higher, and September ends 1c higher. Corn was 1¾c higher, September ends 1c higher, and September oats 1@1¼c higher, while provisions ruled weak, the September product closing 12½@15c lower.

The general bullish sentiment among wheat traders and the urgent demand for July from shorts resulted in an exceedingly strong market, the greater part of the day. Opening prices were unchanged to ½c higher, and weather reports and an disappointing cables, July being 1@1¼c lower at 77@78c, and September unchanged to ½c lower at 75½@75¾c. Northwestern receipts were large, but buying orders from the southwest and the northwest soon started prices in an upward direction and with a firm close in the forenoon market, the excitement here became extremely hostile. July sold up to 80c, and September to 77½c, the appearance of a squeeze in old July encouraged a St. Louis concern caused considerable uneasiness to shorts, who covered freely, thus helping the bulls. Later on, however, the weakness of the situation in the northwest, where the crops are in dire need of rain. After reacting to 79½c, July again advanced to 80¼, and the market closed strong at 79¾c, a gain of 1½c. September sold up to 77½c late in the session, and closed 1¾@1¾c higher at 77¾@77½c. Primary receipts were 270,400 bushels, against 348,200 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 126 cars, which, with local receipts of 38 cars, makes the combined total receipts for the three points of 164 cars, against 208 cars last week, and 366 cars a year ago.

The bullish activity in wheat, together with a good demand for cash grain, coupled with shorts, caused strength in corn after an easier opening due to the rather bearish crop advices. There was little corn on the market, with the greater part of the offerings coming from the north, and taking prices at 54@54½c. Trading between 50c and 51½c, July closed 1½c higher at 51¼c, September was ½c higher at 50½c, after selling between 49¾c and 50½c. Local receipts were 447 cars, with 61 of contract grade.

Oats opened quiet, with local traders inclined to the selling side, but the strength in wheat and corn brought out a good demand from big commission houses and the market advanced. Predictions of general rains were considered as a rather unfavorable feature. The close was strong, with July ¾c higher at 44¾@45c, and September ½c higher at 34½@34¾c, after selling between 33¾c and 34¼c. Local receipts were 127 cars.

Extremely heavy receipts of hogs with declining of from 5c to 10c at the yards were the elements that could not be offset by the strong grain markets, and as a result provisions ruled weak the entire day. The selling was quite general, the market not being well supported. The closing was weak. September pork closed 27½c lower at $16 42½. September lard was 12½c lower at $8 57½, with ribs off 17½c at $8 05@8 07½.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 100 cars; corn, 400 cars; oats, 275 cars; hogs, 20,000 head.

KOUNTZ MURDER CASE POSTPONED

The District Attorney Was Not Ready to Proceed With the Trial.

JAMES GROSS WAS ACQUITTED

Declared Innocent of Fraudulent Voting in Seventh Ward—Argument in Monongahela River Coal & Coke Company Against W. C. Jutte.

The case of Dr. Walter P. Kountz, charged with the murder of Contractor John E. Walsh, which was scheduled for trial yesterday, was postponed until next Wednesday at the instance of the prosecution. The defense was opposed to a continuance, but consented to let the case go over, and it is the understanding that both sides will be prepared to proceed on that day. Attorney John Marron is associated with District Attorney John C. Haymaker in preparing the prosecution, and the defendant has retained Jackson & Lang and Clarence Burleigh as his counsel. The outlook is for a hard-fought contest. Kountz was in court yesterday, but his wife, whom he also shot at the time he killed Walsh, was not present.

John Wallace and Mrs. Dorothy Smith, charged separately with a similar offense, were both acquitted. In Wallace's case two-thirds of the costs were placed on him, and one-third on the prosecutrix, Mrs. J. Fester. In Mrs. Smith's case the jury was quick in deciding, and found her husband, Joseph Smith, to be the real prosecutor, and placed the costs on him.

W. F. Hancock pleaded guilty to the larceny of a quantity of carpet from H. D. Remfrick, and was sentenced to the workhouse for three months. Harry Cohen pleaded no defense to receiving stolen goods in connection with the Hancock case and was also sentenced to the workhouse for three months. A nolle prosse was allowed in the case of Charles Heller, indicted jointly with Cohen.

James Gross was acquitted on a charge of fraudulent voting in the first district of the Seventh ward, on February 17 last. Attorney L. S. Levin represented the defendant. The costs were placed on the prosecutor, M. Feitler.

Arguments were heard in common pleas court No. 2 upon the exceptions filed to the judgment of the court for the plaintiff in the case of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Co. against W. C. Jutte. The action was brought to restrain Jutte from carrying on the coal business under an agreement made when he sold his business to the plaintiff. The court set aside so much of the contract as prohibited Jutte from entering into the coal business outside of Pennsylvania, holding that this portion of the contract was in violation of the interstate commerce laws. A decision will be rendered later.

RULES ARE AMENDED.

Order Handed Down Affecting Attorneys Who Come to This Bar to Practice.

The common pleas courts of Allegheny county have agreed on an amendment to the rules for admission to the bar affecting attorneys coming here from other sections of this and other states. The order, in part, is as follows:

Any person admitted to practice in other courts of this or other states, who has been in actual practice for five years within the six immediately preceding his application and who shall have satisfied the board of examiners of this fact and of his good moral character and professional standing, may, without previous registration, appear for final examination for admission to the bar; provided, however, that when, in the unanimous opinion of the board, the moral character, professional standing and qualifications of the applicant are such as to render an examination unnecessary, he may, on filing in the prothonotary's office a certificate to this effect, signed by all the members of the board, present himself for admission on motion.

Written applications for examination must be given to the board at least two weeks before its meeting. The rule does not apply to attorneys seeking admission for special cases.

Kleinman and others against the Philadelphia Company and others, restraining the laying of a double track on Grand avenue, Neville township, in front of the plaintiff's property. The original grant was for a single track.

EAST END TRACT SOLD FOR $173,000

The Schoenberger Property in Twenty-First Ward Bought for Lot Plan.

DOWNTOWN SALE OF $50,000

John W. Becket Buys Nine Acres on Blackhorse Hill for $40,000—Auction Sale of Lots—Allegheny Property Brings $10,000.

The largest deal in East End acreage made for some time was closed yesterday, the consideration being $173,000. The property sold is known as the McGurk farm, in the Twenty-first ward, and belonged to the estates of J. H. and G. K. Schoenberger and others. It contains approximately 108 acres and the price was $1,600 an acre. A. Leggate & Son represented the sellers in the deal. The purchasers are a number of well-known operators in acreage, who propose to plot the farm and offer it for sale. It is between Coleman and Brilliant stations, on the Allegheny Valley railroad and just south of the holdings of the Atlantic Refining Company. It adjoins the Hartman farm and comes down to St. Peter's Lutheran cemetery, near Lemington avenue. Two years or more ago there was talk of the city buying the farm as an addition to Highland park, but this project was abandoned. Later the property has been reported sold several times to the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company. The present purchase, it is said, was not made in the interest of either, but for the purpose of laying out a new suburb at this point.

B. & O. Gets Another Lot.

W. B. Rath of Gault & Gifford has sold for the M. C. Shaw heirs No. 702 Second avenue for $50,000. The lot has a frontage of 28 feet in the south side of the avenue, between the holdings of the Consolidated Gas Company and two strips owned by Henry Rea, Jr., and H. Lloyd & Son Company. A seven-story brick warehouse tenanted by the Edmundson & Perrine occupies the entire lot. The building was erected about six years ago and until last year was used by W. A. Hoevoler as a storage warehouse. Charles Schwan, a real estate operator, bought the property presumably for the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, although this could not be confirmed. The price paid was $1,785 a front foot, or $16 23 a square foot.

Through the Kelly-Wood Real Estate Company, J. W. Becket, the brick manufacturer, has bought from the Wainwright estate nine acres of land on Blackhorse hill, in the Nineteenth ward, for $40,000. The property lies between Shamrock and Columbo streets and has a frontage of about 500 feet on both Atlantic and Pacific avenues. It is a hillside undeveloped with 200 feet of very fine building land. The buyer will build a large brick plant on the premises within a few months.

Finally Sold at Auction.

An auction yesterday of vacant property belonging to the Montgomery estate and situated in Flowers avenue resulted in its purchase from the Union Trust Company by W. S. Haynes for $9,375. The deal includes 96 lots, 37 of which face in Grape street, 30 in Gidding street, 24 in Folsom street and 5 in Flowers avenue. Four of the lots are improved with four-room frame houses. This is the last of the Johanna Montgomery estate and has been offered for sale several times before, but on account of the roughness of the ground no bids were secured. Flowers avenue is now the only accessible street, but Mr. Haynes will improve the other streets and put the plot in marketable condition.

The Union Realty Company sold, for George Dilworth, and Jacob Hook to W. J. Mellings, Nos. 959-963 Kirkpatrick street, Second ward, Allegheny, for $10,000. The lot measures 44x100 feet to an alley and has three brick houses in front and three frame dwellings in the rear, all well rented.

Robert H. Hay has bought from Israel Glick a residence property, 25x120 feet, in the south side of Fifth avenue, near Pride street, Sixth ward, for $15,750.

Paid Only $10,000 a Foot.

By the registry of the deed yesterday it appears that Harry Davis paid only $150,000 for the Murry A. Verner property at No. 326 Fifth avenue, which he bought a few weeks ago through Samuel D. Black & Co. This makes the lot figure exactly $10,000 a front foot, as it measures 15x160 feet, instead of $11,000 a front foot, as previously reported. The location of the property, its second door below the Grand Opera house, makes it one of the most desirable business sites on the avenue and the price is somewhat lower than property in that side of the street has been held at.

The proposed extension of Center avenue from Fulton street to Fifth avenue, detailed in another column, stops short of the only ways by which an outlet can be given to the congested travel toward the East End. This route or some other nearby would afford a straight and much the shortest means of reaching East Liberty. It would also bring Center avenue in touch with Fifth avenue at a point where property in the latter is worth from $1,500 to $1,800 a front foot. What the effect of such a move would be on values in the hill district is not hard to see, as it would open another good business thoroughfare in a crowded section of the city.

A Good Renting Property.

Lawrenceville: L. J. Frazier sold for Philip Keller to William Kalchthaler No. 100 Forty-fourth street, two two-story houses on lot 20x100, for $4,600.

Building permits were issued yesterday to C. B. Mellor & Co. for the erection of 18 brick veneer dwelling houses in the East End. They are as follows: Seven brick veneer dwellings, St. Clair street, Nineteenth ward, $.,000; six brick veneer dwellings, Mellon street, Nineteenth ward, $24,000. Other permits were issued to C. J. Perkins, three-story addition to dwelling in Princeton place, Nineteenth ward, $2,300; John Reilly, frame dwelling, Butler street, extension, Nineteenth ward, $1,650; Reitzhoover Leiderkranz society, Curtain and Industry streets, Thirty-seventh ward, $13,340; E. M. Kuntz, brick store and dwelling, Bryan and St. Clair street, Nineteenth ward, $9,000.

W. McKee Kelley sold through A. B. Hay, Jr., for a North Side merchant, 40x86 feet on the northwest corner of North avenue and Arch street. The lot is improved with a two-story mansard brick residence of 12 rooms and is finished in hardwood throughout. The consideration was $25,000 and the purchaser, Mrs. Samuel McKnight, will occupy the property as a residence.

KING'S REQUEST GRANTED.

Release of Irish Leader From Sligo Jail Was Due to Intercession of Edward VII.

DUBLIN, June 24.—The release of P. A. McHugh, M. P., from Sligo jail, where he had been confined since June 6, for contempt of court in connection with the political comments of his paper, the Sligo Champion, appears to have been due to the initiative of King Edward, the earl of Dudley having first fruitlessly interceded with Judge Ross.

The king's private secretary, Lord Knollys, later wrote to the judge expressing the king's wishes in the matter.

B. & O. Will Use Old Depot During Construction of New Structure

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad will occupy its old depot at Water and Smithfield streets pending the construction of the new structure. It will require one year to finish the station. It will cost about $500,000, will be seven stories in height and finished on the outside with a fine grade of terra cotta brick. The building will front on the Smithfield street bridge and will be built on arched foundations.

The building will occupy a 75-foot frontage and will extend back about 110 feet along Water street. After the completion of the new station the old one will be moved back about 40 feet from its present location and turned into offices for the freight department.

A contract will be let for the new structure as soon as the ordinance granting the railroad certain privileges is passed by select council and signed by the mayor. The ordinances have already passed common council and no difficulty is expected in securing the final enactment of the ordinances.

C. W. Bassett, passenger agent of the eastern division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, and B. M. Austin, passenger agent of the western division, with headquarters in Chicago, were in Pittsburgh yesterday conferring with local officials. Mr. Bassett's headquarters are in Baltimore. He formerly lived in Pittsburgh, having for a number of years been passenger agent of the Pittsburgh & Western railroad.

May Now Enter New York.

By the decision of the court of appeals of New York just handed down the way has been made legally clear for the first time in 43 years for a new railroad to enter that city above ground. The court annihilated the famous act of 1860, which placed in the hands of the legislature, only, power to permit the building of such a line. For five years William G. Goshali, president of the New York & Port Chester railroad, has been battling for the right to build the road. An immense sum of money has been spent in litigation precipitated by the opposition of existing lines. The Port Chester railroad already has obtained the right to cross every street along its route through West Chester and along the Long Island sound from Willis avenue and One Hundred and Thirty-second street to the line of Port Chester, except in New York city. Its application for the latter privilege is now in the hands of the railroad committee of the board of aldermen in New York.

Bought Land for Foundries.

The Pennsylvania railroad has bought the land at Burket station, just outside Altoona, where it will locate the new foundries, on which $1,000,000 will be spent. There are over 100 acres in all, located on both sides of the Hollidaysburg branch railroad. All the structural steel has been ordered, the first shipment being made yesterday. The work of the foundation is underway. The group of buildings will include the wheel, soft iron, brass, steel and malleable iron foundries; axle factory shops, car shops and storehouse. The wheel foundry will be 709x200 and the soft iron 500x150.

To Run Through Sleepers.

On July 2 the Pennsylvania railroad will put a through sleeping car on the Pittsburgh limited, leaving here at 10.15 p. m. for Atlantic City. The first sleeper leaving there for Pittsburgh will be attached to the 9 p. m. train. Thomas E Watts, passenger agent of the western division of the Pennsylvania railroad, says that the number of excursions to be handled this year is considerably in excess of that of any previous year. In its new summer resort folder, the railroad offers 1,073 different routes for excursions.

Ohio G. A. R. Takes the Penns.

The Pennsylvania lines have captured another large portion of the Grand Army of the Republic travel from this section, having been made the official route for the veterans of Ohio. The announcement of the route for the hundreds who will go from that state was made yesterday morning. The Pennsylvania will be used to Chicago, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul to Omaha, and the Union Pacific from Omaha in connection with the Southern Pacific to San Francisco. Mr. Deuglinn of Salem expects the attendance from that state to be of unusual size.

Railroad Notes.

R. E. Lawrence, general agent of the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad at Wheeling, was in town yesterday.

J. A. Spielmann, superintendent of the new Butler division of the Baltimore & Ohio, was in Pittsburgh yesterday.

John R. James, district passenger agent of the Missouri Pacific railroad, has gone to St. Louis to attend a meeting of passenger officials here.

H. C. Whitney, passenger agent of the Ontario Dispatch, and the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg railroad, with headquarters in Cincinnati, was in town yesterday.

A special train conveying the members of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Mystic Shrine will leave Pittsburgh July 7 over the Pennsylvania railroad for Saratoga to attend the annual imperial council. About 150 people will go on the trip.

The "Pennsylvania-Burlington" route is the name given to the New York-Denver through service with quick connections at St. Louis made possible by the introduction of the Pennsylvania's new St. Louis limited No. 27. The route saves several hours over the Chicago route, a connection with but one hour between trains being made at the St. Louis Union station. Passengers can leave Pittsburgh at 8.10 p. m., central time, and reach Denver at 2.15 of the second day. Burlington No. 5 is the connection on that road.

RED HATS BESTOWED.

Pope Leo Signally Honors Monsignori Nocella, Cavicchioni and Fischer.

ROME, June 24.—In the throne room at the vatican, surrounded by his whole court, Pope Leo, who looked much better than at Monday's consistory, imposed with great ceremony the red berettas on the new cardinals, Monsignori Nocella, Cavicchioni and Fischer, and congratulated them on the high honor they had attained. Cardinal Gotti, in the name of his colleagues, thanked the pontiff in a brief speech and then made a move to retire, but his holiness detained the new cardinals and insisted on having them in his private study, where he kept them in conversation for some time.

There is a keen demand for tickets to the public consistory, to which none but ticket holders will be admitted.

HAVANA, June 24.—The signing of the final treaties with the United States has been deferred on account of an inquiry from Washington questioning the clearness of the terms regarding a minor point in the United States naval regulations. The point in question was arranged satisfactorily this afternoon.

PERSONAL MAGNETISM

How Prominent Men Develop This Power and Use it to Influence Others — Women, Too, Adepts in This Mysterious Art.

A Reporter Makes Astounding Discoveries — Secret Methods Which Charm and Fascinate the Human Mind.

High Priests of the Occult Reveal Jealously Guarded Secrets of Years — A Wonderful New Book by Prominent New York Men.

A wonderful new book, entitled "The Secret of Power," has just been issued, at an expense of over $5,000, by one of the leading colleges of the city of New York. This book is from the pens of the ablest specialists of modern times. The authors gave away the copyright on condition that 10,000 copies should be distributed to the public free of charge. The Columbia Scientific Academy is now complying with this contract, and until the edition of 10,000 copies is exhausted you can get a copy of this book absolutely free. The book is profusely illustrated with the most expensive half-tone engravings. It is full of wonderful secrets and startling surprises, and thoroughly explains the real source of the power of personal influence. It fully and completely reveals the fundamental principles of success and influence in every walk of life. The hidden mysteries of personal magnetism, will-power and scientific character building are explained in an interestingly interesting manner. Two secret methods of personal influence are described, which positively enable any person to exercise a marvelous influence and control over any one whom he may wish. These methods are entirely new and have never before been made public. A reporter has tried them personally and can vouch for their wonderful power.

The book also describes absolutely certain methods by which you can read the character, secrets and lives of every one you meet. No one can deceive you. You can tell what vocation is best for you to follow. You can know the secret power by which minds of human beings are charmed and fascinated. The newest, latest and best system of physical and mental culture and magnetic healing is fully explained and illustrated by beautiful half-tone engravings. No such book has ever before been published. No such wonderful information has ever before been placed in the hands of the public. On account of the mighty power and influence placed in one's hands by this book, the legislature of the state of New York debated whether or not the state ought to permit its promiscuous circulation; but it was finally decided the good it would accomplish would greatly overbalance the ill, and its distribution was not interfered with.

Not long ago John D. Rockefeller, the richest man in America, said, in talking to a Sunday school class, that he attributed his success in life largely to his ability to influence others. Lincoln, Lee, Napoleon and Alexander the Great all won fame and renown by their wonderful powers of personal influence. Jay Gould piled up millions by this same power. J. P. Morgan organized the billion-dollar steel trust and enriched himself by millions simply by his marvelous ability to influence others. There are today thousands of men with the brains and education of Mr. Morgan who are practically paupers. They have the ability to organize a trust, but they have not sufficient power of personal influence. Personal influence, will-power, stamina—call it what you will—has from the creation of man been the subtle force that has brought wealth, fame and renown to those who are fortunate enough to possess it. This strange, mysterious influence is inherent in every human being. By the late methods explained by the New York specialist in human culture any intelligent person can develop a wonderfully magnetic personality, and learn how to read the character, secrets and lives of others in a few days' study at his own home. You can use this marvelous power without the knowledge of your most intimate friends and associates. You can use it to obtain lucrative employment, to secure an advance in salary, to win the friendship and influence of others to obtain a greater share of happiness from life. You can be respected, honored and become a leader in your community.

If you are not fully satisfied with your present condition and circumstances, if you long for greater success or more money; if you are not able to influence others to the extent you desire, the reporter would advise you to write at once for a free copy of this great work now being given away by the Columbia Scientific Academy.

Mrs. C. Richmond Duxbury of No. 472 A Greene avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., the authoress of "New England Folk," recently sent for copies of the books. After carefully examining them and testing the methods of personal influence on her friends and associates, she makes the following statement in a letter to a friend: "Nothing could induce me to part with the advantage that my little knowledge of your books has given me. Any student can acquire it and will be fascinated and delighted with the result."

Fred. Perking of South Haven, Mich., says: "I have been in great demand since I read the work of the Columbia Scientific Academy. People are amazed and mystified at the things I do. I believe I could make $25 a day reading character alone if I were to charge for my services. If any one would have told me I would receive so much wonderful information I would have thought him crazy."

Mrs. M. Ellie Watson of Martinsville, Ind., says: "Could I have had access to such information in past years I could have avoided many misfortunes. This work of the Columbia Scientific Academy shall be my guiding star the remaining days of my life."

If you will send your name and address to the Columbia Scientific Academy, Dept. 402L, 1941 Broadway, New York city, this book will be sent to you absolutely free, postage prepaid. On account of the great expense involved in preparing this book, the Columbia Scientific Academy requests that only people who are especially interested write for free copy—only those who really desire to achieve greater success and better their condition in life.
